Ike, Cabinet Confer on Annual Message; Military Dictatorship Feared in Brazil

New Crisis Seen Over Cafe's Bid

Congress Rejects Return to Power

Rio de Janerio, Brazil, Nov. 22 (AP)—A fresh political crisis afflicted Brazil today in the wake of an unsuccessful bid by Joao Cafe Filho to resume the presidency from which he took leave of absence two weeks ago.

Both Houses of Congress last night rejected his claim that he could take up again the functions of chief executive. Both passed a resolution that he must remain on leave until Congress decides otherwise.

AT THE SAME time, the army took firm measures to preserve the administration of provisional President Nereu Ramos, who was installed by a bloodless army coup on Nov. 10.

The legislators so clearly were following the bidding of the army in rejecting Cafe's return to office that many in the capital speculated that the country is heading for a military dictatorship. The army officers who have actual control may have to resort to force to retain it, they reason.

Cafe was being held incommunicado at his apartment in the fashionable Copacabana district to which he returned from a hospital only yesterday. Troops surrounded the building and barred all visitors. Telephone calls to the apartment were interrupted.

Dr. Raymundo De Brito, Cafe's personal physician, went to the former president's apartment this morning and an ambulance believed to be carrying hospital equipment followed soon afterward. This led to speculation that Cafe had suffered a relapse. A heart attack caused his retirement from office on Nov. 8.

MOST OF THE army is lined up against Cafe and much of the navy and the air force is aligned with him. His supporters are believed determined to block the inauguration of President-elect Juscelino Kubitschek and Vice President-elect Joao Goulart, even though military dictatorship might result.

The leading opponents of Kubitschek and Goulart are the same who drove Getulio Vargas from the presidency shortly before his suicide in August 1954. They accused Vargas and his associates of graft and corruption and assert that Kubitschek and Goulart are political heirs of the Vargas regime. Goulart was labor minister under Vargas and was suspected of trying to create a political weapon of organized labor as former president Juan D. Peron did in Argentina.

Local CAP Group Plans to Observe 14th Anniversary

Kingston Squadron, Civil Air Patrol, will hold a birthday party for members and their friends Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. in the Veterans of Foreign Wars building on Delaware avenue.

This party will mark the first birthday of the Cadet Squadron and the 14th Anniversary of Civil Air Patrol.

Only 14 years ago on Dec. 1, 1941, Fiorello H. LaGuardia, then director of the Office of Civilian Defense under the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt set his signature to an order creating a home front air arm made up of civilian pilots, lightplane owners and other volunteers. At that time Europe was aflame with war. Poland, France and Belgium had been overrun by the Nazi hordes and England was under attack from the air.

It had become apparent to the owners and operators of the hundreds of little, single-engine lightplanes that they would have an important role to play if war came.

A handful of their leaders including such men as the late Guy P. Gannett, owner of the Gannett newspapers; Gill Robb Wilson, then aviation editor of the New York Herald Tribune and now editor and publisher of Flying magazine; and the late Earle L. Johnson, prominent Clevelander, met with General

MRS. WOODWARD LEAVES HOSPITAL—Mrs. William Woodward, Jr., leaves Doctors Hospital in New York in the company of her attorney, Murray Gurfein, headed for Nassau County Police Headquarters to tell authorities more details about how she shot her husband to death whom she said she mistook for a prowler. Mrs. Woodward Repeats Story

Police Seem Convinced Shooting Was Accident

Mineola, N. Y., Nov. 22 (AP)—Mrs. William Woodward Jr., haggard and tearful, went through a three-hour police quiz last night after leaving a hospital for the first time since Oct. 30 when she shot her millionaire husband to death.

The 39-year-old widow, Ann, who broke into uncontrollable sobs three times during the questioning, stated again that the shooting was a tragic accident.

FOLLOWING the interrogation, authorities unofficially let it be known that it still looks like an accident to them, however, Nassau County Dist. Atty. Frank A. Gulotta and Detective Chief Stuyvesant Pinnell said they would make no official comment "in view of the fact that all evidence will be presented to the grand jury."

Mrs. Woodward's lawyer, Murray I. Gurfein, has asked that the grand jury hear her story, a request which must by law be granted. The lawyer said Mrs. Woodward wants to testify and will waive immunity, making it possible to use her testimony should any case develop against her.

THE WIDOW, dressed completely in black, emerged late in the day from Doctors Hospital in New York city where she had been under treatment for grief and hysteria. Flanked by her physician and Gurfein, she moved slowly and with bowed head through a curious crowd that had waited to see her come out.

Her chauffeured sedan sped her from the hospital to county police headquarters here on Long Island. After three hours she left the building and had to be helped to the car. Back in New York city she was halfcarried by her lawyer and doctor into her town house (at 111 E. 73rd St.) on Manhattan's fashionable East side.

HER POLICE questioners said the woman was "pitiful" but declined to take advantage of a standing offer to postpone further questioning. She stuck with it to the end and was finally dismissed.

100 Million More Asked For Schools

Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 22 (AP)—The New York State Teachers Association has called for legislation which would increase the state aid to schools by 100 billion dollars.

Delegates to the association's annual convention here late yesterday approved a resolution calling for the increased aid to enable the state to adjust its school aid program to the rising costs of education.

THE DELEGATES also passed resolutions calling for a starting salary of $4,000 with a top after 10 years of $9,000; differentials of $300 each for a fifth and sixth year of preparation for teaching; and improved retirement benefits. Other resolutions were scheduled to be acted upon at a day-long business session today.

Ulster Grant of $1,000 For TB, Heart Research

A grant of $1,000 has been made by the Ulster County TB and Health Association, Inc., to a joint fund for medical education and research established by the New York Heart Assembly and the State Committee on Tuberculosis and Public Health, utilizing Heart Funds.

The joint fund has allocated the Ulster Association's grant toward the support of a teaching fellowship at the Albany Hospital. Dr. Alan S. Peck is the recipient. Other grants to this project include $1,000 from the National Tuberculosis Association and $1,200 from the Albany County Tuberculosis Association, Inc.

Through participation in the fund by other tuberculosis associations and heart chapters in the state a similar fellowship is being supported at the Meyer Memorial Hospital in Buffalo. A summer scholarship also was provided at Perrysburg State Tuberculosis Hospital for a University of Buffalo sophomore medical student. A major undertaking is the employment of a teaching fellow in chest diseases at the State University Medical Center at Syracuse. The total appropriation from the joint fund for all these projects was approximately $13,000.

"We are pleased to be a participant in the medical education and research projects set up by the joint fund", stated Mrs. Vincent Connelly, chairman. "The national agencies with which we are affiliated, the American Heart Association and the National Tuberculosis Association, are encouraging greater efforts along these lines in regard to diseases of the chest. The joint fund permits a pooling of resources to support numerous worthwhile projects which very likely would have no other course of income."

The national agencies, also, are conducting extensive medical research and education services, according to Mrs. Connelly.

Endorses Sixth Ward Site

Alderman Perry Favors Flemming's Position

Alderman Samuel J. Perry of the Fifth Ward has expressed his approval of Judge Harry H. Flemming's statement published in The Freeman Monday that the Sixth Ward be considered as the site for the proposed new county office building.

Alderman Perry in the following letter to The Editor of The Freeman also assures the Judge that he will do all in his power to promote the cause in the Common Council:

Editor, The Freeman:

PLEASE PERMIT ME to express publicly my congratulations to Judge Harry H. Flemming for proposing that the County Office Building be located in the Sixth Ward.

I was extremely happy to read his suggestion in The Freeman tonight (Monday, Nov. 21), and am sure that many downtown people were delighted too.

Judge Flemming has been known as a man of vision and foresight over the years, and his stand in this matter is one that will meet with popular approval.

IT IS NICE to know that a man of his sound judgment is interested in the welfare of the community and its citizens, and his interest is appreciated.

Judge Flemming has given sound advice to many people over the years that he has served in private enterprise as counsel. As an attorney he has served some of our biggest corporations.

IN GOVERNMENT, Judge Flemming has served in two important posts: Corporation counsel of the City of Kingston from 1927 to 1931 and later as Surrogate Judge of Ulster County.

A County Office Building in the Sixth Ward would revive the area, and stimulate interest and activity for the general good of the City. Judge Flemming's suggestion about giving Kingston a lift, not a kick, expresses the sentiments that I have too.

THE PEOPLE of downtown, I feel certain, will consider Judge Flemming a true Champion of their cause, because they see everything moving out. The merchants have been without a commerical bank for some time, now

Five Former Top Soviets Executed

London, Nov. 22 (AP)—The Tiflis (Tbilisi) Radio announced today five former security officials in the Soviet Gebrgian Republic have been executed for high treason and other crimes against the Soviet Union.

The broadcast did not link those executed specifically with Lavrenty P. Beria, Soviet security and police boss purged and executed in 1953 for alleged treason. However, Beria got his start in the Georgian security organization and kept tight control over it even after he went to Moscow. After his purge, the ax started falling right and left among Georgian officials.

THE TIFLIS broadcast identified those executed only by their last names. Radio monitors here said a sixth official might have been included in the group executed. This was not certain, due to the indistinctness of the broadcast.

Those definitely identified as executed were:

Rukhadze, former minister of internal security and one-time chief of the prosecution department in the Ministry of Internal affairs. He apparently was the same man mentioned in a Moscow broadcast shortly after Beria's downfall as having been arrested on charges of persecuting innocent workers and plotting to arouse dissatisfaction among the Soviet people.

Common Council Is Overruled

Permission Given Carvel By Zoning Board to Build

A zoning board decision released today overrules a Common Council action of last summer and grants the Carvel Stores Realty Corp., of Yonkers, permission to build one of its chain-operated ice cream stores on the Monroe T. Southard property, Albany and Foxhall avenues.

A first petition for business use of the property was voted down by the aldermen mainly because of an opposing petition bearing signatures of many residents of the area.

The Carvel Corp., then renewed its bid largely because the site had been a gas station property for many years and because it is in a district which is now largely commercial in character.

The decision signed by members of the board, Attorney Joseph Avis, chairman, Fred J. Baker and Attorney Thomas F. Saccoman said in part:

"The board contends that the erection and operation of an ice cream shop as provided under Section 6, Subdivision 12, under the Kingston zoning ordinance, is permissible since by operation of law the Southard property is no longer a non-conforming use property, and conforms to the commercial district. The board contends that the certificate of occupancy be granted."

The board noted that opposition was based largely on the contention that a serious traffic hazard would be created, and it

Turns Gun on Self at Airport

Stewardess Is Shot By Rejected Suitor

Seattle, Nov. 22 (AP)—A pretty United Air Lines stewardess, greeting passengers coming aboard a Los Angeles-bound flight, was shot to death by her former boy friend at the crowded Seattle-Tacoma Airport last night.

The rejected suitor, Robert Clendenin, 26, then fired bullets into his own neck and head, killing himself.

Sally Shedd, a 25-year-old blue-eyed brunette, was struck twice in the chest after Clendenin knocked her sprawling into a seat.

Clendenin, a trainee with the New York brokerage firm of J. A. Hogle and Co., had entered the plane and taken a seat before he turned with rage on his former sweetheart.

MRS. HERMAN ROESCH of Portland, Ore., who occupied the seat next to Clendenin and watched him take a gun from his briefcase, said:

'I thought it was a cap pistol. Even after it went off I thought it was a cap pistol. It just kept on going off. Bang. Bang. Bang."

Clendenin, who met Miss Shedd several years ago in New York, was one of the last of some 40 passengers to file up the ramp of the DC6B.

He nodded and spoke to his former girl friend before taking his seat next to Mrs. Loesch at the front of the plane.

WITHDRAWING the pistol from his briefcase, Clendenin rushed down the aisle and confronted Miss Shedd. He pushed her into a seat on top of an air force lieutenant and fired four shots.

Two of the shots struck Miss Shedd. Both hit her in the chest.

The passengers on Flight 678 stared in disbelief at the scene unfolding before them.

The air force lieutenant, Norman Stout of Portland, Ore., said:

"She was laying almost across me. Then he shot her point blank three or four times. I couldn't tell which. She lit on me, uttered a gasp and then he shot her.

"I COULDN'T get loose from my safety belt until he had shot her."

When he did free himself,

Red Feather Drive Needs $34,000 Now

A total of $65,939.60 was reported last night at the final report meeting of the second annual Red Feather drive—approximately $34,000 short of the goal.

The report does not include the latest figures from commercial, government or suburban divisions, however, which should increase the total somewhat.

THE ORGANIZATION will "still keep working," it was pointed out. Persons who have not been contacted and desire to contribute to the Kingston Area Community Chest are asked to contact the Red Feather office in the YWCA building, or mail in their contribution.

The drive to date is more than $20,000 ahead of the total at this time last year.

Floating Lumber Is Cause Of Big Salvage Problem

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 22 (AP)—A rip-roaring argument has been bred upon the waters here.

Cars, Trucks, trailers, bicycles and, of course the people driving them, converged on the Buffalo harbor yesterday by the hundreds. With them came the police.

Lumber, nice clean, new and valuable lumber, was washing up along the Lake Erie shore. In almost a million board feet was believed to have washed up.

The Union Ship Canal was clogged with the white pine planks and it took tugs several hours to clear it away.

The wood had washed overboard from a barge in a Lake Erie windstorm Sunday night. Capt. Carl G. Larson estimated that he lost more than two-thirds of his cargo, consigned to the Jones Lumber Co., in Tonawanda.

Peter Panepiato, president of a salvage company, was assigned the task of gathering in what lumber was left.

Several times during the day police had to be called to settle disputes between amateur salvagers and Panepiato's crew.

Police said they figured that it was illegal for the people to take the lumber, but they weren't exactly sure why. Police were instructed to take license numbers of all driving away with lumber.

A marine insurance agent said he, too, thought it was illegal but he couldn't say for sure whether the wood was salvage or not.

Customs officials wanted to to know who was going to pay the duty.

Police were also disturbed because they had to detail a special nine-man squad to handle traffic in and out of the harbor area. In fact just about everyone was disturbed but the people picking up the lumber.

President Returns to Gettysburg

Session Is First Since His Attack

Gettysburg, Pa., Nov. 22 (AP)—President Eisenhower had a two-hour session with his cabinet at Camp David, near Thurmont, Md., today, and then returned to his farm home near here.

Harold E. Stassen, the President's special assistant for disarmament problems, rode with Eisenhower on the 22-mile drive from Camp David. They arrived at the President's farm shortly before noon (EST).

THERE WERE indications the cabinet session was concerned with the State of the Union message which Eisenhower will lay before Congress in January.

Two of the President's chief speech-writing assistants—Kevin McCann and Bryce Harlow—were among the administration officials who flew in by helicopter for the meeting at Camp David on a Catoctin mountain top near here.

The National Security Council (NSC) met in the same setting yesterday in another partly airborne operation.

EISENHOWER strode up to the cabin at 9:03 a. m., EST, accompanied by Secretary of State Dulles and Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., chief U. S. delegate to the United Nations. The meeting began at 9:15 a. m.

The presence of the speechwriters and other White House technicians made it plain the administration was ready for serious work on the state-of-the-union declaration of policy which the President gives Congress early in each session.

ONE OF THE early arrivals by air was Secretary of Agriculture Benson. Both he and Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said they knew nothing about a report published in the New York Herald Tribune that demands for Benson's resignation have been blocked by the President's brother, Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower.

The fly-in to an athletic field-airstrip on the grounds of Camp David, the wooded retreat of Presidents, followed the pattern of yesterday's gathering of Security Council members. That was the biggest airborne operation involving top government officials ever held in this country.

Besides Benson, Postmaster General Summerfield and Secretary of the Interior McKay and Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Folsom were the cabinet members helicoptering in today.

THEY ALL appeared a little bemused by the unusual method of transportation, which served to dramatize the mountaintop session as well as save the convalescent President a trip back to Washinton for this first cabi-

Architects' Aids Seek Saugerties New School Data

Dr. Virgil M. Rogers, educational consultant for the architectural firm of Sargent, Webster, Crenshaw and Folley of Syracuse, architects for the Saugerties Central School District conducted the second survey with Dr. John Stewart, another member of the Syracuse staff.

As consultants for the architects they are gathering data on present school facilities in the district, present enrollments, future enrollments and future building needs.

Dr. Rogers, dean of the College of Education at Syracuse University also conferred with Saugerties Board of Education members during his survey in Saugerties.

ALTHOUGH THE final decision as to the site of the proposed new central school will not be made until test borings are completed, the Saugerties Board of Education has indicated that the site under consideration is a tract of land on Washington avenue extension adjacent to Cantine Memorial Field. The present owners are the Knaust Brothers, one of the largest mushroom producers in the east.

Permission Given Carvel By Zoning Board to Build

A zoning board decision released today overrules a Common Council action of last summer and grants the Carvel Stores Realty Corp., of Yonkers, permission to build one of its chain-operated ice cream stores on the Monroe T. Southard property, Albany and Foxhall avenues.

A first petition for business use of the property was voted down by the aldermen mainly because of an opposing petition bearing signatures of many residents of the area.

Turns Gun on Self at Airport

Stewardess Is Shot By Rejected Suitor

Seattle, Nov. 22 (AP)—A pretty United Air Lines stewardess, greeting passengers coming aboard a Los Angeles-bound flight, was shot to death by her former boy friend at the crowded Seattle-Tacoma Airport last night.

The rejected suitor, Robert Clendenin, 26, then fired bullets into his own neck and head, killing himself.

Sally Shedd, a 25-year-old blue-eyed brunette, was struck twice in the chest after Clendenin knocked her sprawling into a seat.

Clendenin, a trainee with the New York brokerage firm of J. A. Hogle and Co., had entered the plane and taken a seat before he turned with rage on his former sweetheart.

MRS. HERMAN ROESCH of Portland, Ore., who occupied the seat next to Clendenin and watched him take a gun from his briefcase, said:

'I thought it was a cap pistol. Even after it went off I thought it was a cap pistol. It just kept on going off. Bang. Bang. Bang."

Clendenin, who met Miss Shedd several years ago in New York, was one of the last of some 40 passengers to file up the ramp of the DC6B.

He nodded and spoke to his former girl friend before taking his seat next to Mrs. Loesch at the front of the plane.

WITHDRAWING the pistol from his briefcase, Clendenin rushed down the aisle and confronted Miss Shedd. He pushed her into a seat on top of an air force lieutenant and fired four shots.

Two of the shots struck Miss Shedd. Both hit her in the chest.

The passengers on Flight 678 stared in disbelief at the scene unfolding before them.

The air force lieutenant, Norman Stout of Portland, Ore., said:

"She was laying almost across me. Then he shot her point blank three or four times. I couldn't tell which. She lit on me, uttered a gasp and then he shot her.

"I COULDN'T get loose from my safety belt until he had shot her."

When he did free himself,

Red Feather Drive Needs $34,000 Now

A total of $65,939.60 was reported last night at the final report meeting of the second annual Red Feather drive—approximately $34,000 short of the goal.

The report does not include the latest figures from commercial, government or suburban divisions, however, which should increase the total somewhat.

THE ORGANIZATION will "still keep working," it was pointed out. Persons who have not been contacted and desire to contribute to the Kingston Area Community Chest are asked to contact the Red Feather office in the YWCA building, or mail in their contribution.

The drive to date is more than $20,000 ahead of the total at this time last year.

ONE OF THE principal reasons for a "final report meeting"

Floating Lumber Is Cause Of Big Salvage Problem

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 22 (AP)—A rip-roaring argument has been bred upon the waters here.

Cars, Trucks, trailers, bicycles and, of course the people driving them, converged on the Buffalo harbor yesterday by the hundreds. With them came the police.

Lumber, nice clean, new and valuable lumber, was washing up along the Lake Erie shore. In almost a million board feet was believed to have washed up.

The Union Ship Canal was clogged with the white pine planks and it took tugs several hours to clear it away.

The wood had washed overboard from a barge in a Lake Erie windstorm Sunday night. Capt. Carl G. Larson estimated that he lost more than two-thirds of his cargo, consigned to the Jones Lumber Co., in Tonawanda.

Peter Panepiato, president of a salvage company, was assigned the task of gathering in what lumber was left.

Several times during the day police had to be called to settle disputes between amateur salvagers and Panepiato's crew.

Police said they figured that it was iliegal for the people to take the lumber, but they weren't exactly sure why. Police were instructed to take license numbers of all driving away with lumber.

A marine insurance agent said he, too, thought it was illegal but he couldn't say for sure whether the wood was salvage or not.

Customs officials wanted to to know who was going to pay the duty.

Police were also disturbed because they had to detail a special nine-man squad to handle traffic in and out of the harbor area. In fact just about everyone was disturbed but the people picking up the lumber.

President Returns to Gettysburg

Session Is First Since His Attack

Gettysburg, Pa., Nov. 22 (AP)—President Eisenhower had a two-hour session with his cabinet at Camp David, near Thurmont, Md., today, and then returned to his farm home near here.

Harold E. Stassen, the President's special assistant for disarmament problems, rode with Eisenhower on the 22-mile drive from Camp David. They arrived at the President's farm shortly before noon (EST).

THERE WERE indications the cabinet session was concerned with the State of the Union message which Eisenhower will lay before Congress in January.

Two of the President's chief speech-writing assistants—Kevin McCann and Bryce Harlow—were among the administration officials who flew in by helicopter for the meeting at Camp David on a Catoctin mountain top near here.

The National Security Council (NSC) met in the same setting yesterday in another partly airborne operation.

EISENHOWER strode up to the cabin at 9:03 a. m., EST, accompanied by Secretary of State Dulles and Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., chief U. S. delegate to the United Nations. The meeting began at 9:15 a. m.

The presence of the speechwriters and other White House technicians made it plain the administration was ready for serious work on the state-of-the-union declaration of policy which the President gives Congress early in each session.

ONE OF THE early arrivals by air was Secretary of Agriculture Benson. Both he and Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said they knew nothing about a report published in the New York Herald Tribune that demands for Benson's resignation have been blocked by the President's brother, Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower.

The fly-in to an athletic field-airstrip on the grounds of Camp David, the wooded retreat of Presidents, followed the pattern of yesterday's gathering of Security Council members. That was the biggest airborne operation involving top government officials ever held in this country.

Besides Benson, Postmaster General Summerfield and Secretary of the Interior McKay and Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Folsom were the cabinet members helicoptering in today.

THEY ALL appeared a little bemused by the unusual method of transportation, which served to dramatize the mountaintop session as well as save the convalescent President a trip back to Washinton for this first cabi-

Architects' Aids Seek Saugerties New School Data

Dr. Virgil M. Rogers, educational consultant for the architectural firm of Sargent, Webster, Crenshaw and Folley of Syracuse, architects for the Saugerties Central School District conducted the second survey with Dr. John Stewart, another member of the Syracuse staff.

As consultants for the architects they are gathering data on present school facilities in the district, present enrollments, future enrollments and future building needs.

Dr. Rogers, dean of the College of Education at Syracuse University also conferred with Saugerties Board of Education members during his survey in Saugerties.

ALTHOUGH THE final decision as to the site of the proposed new central school will not be made until test borings are completed, the Saugerties Board of Education has indicated that the site under consideration is a tract of land on Washington avenue extension adjacent to Cantine Memorial Field. The present owners are the Knaust Brothers, one of the largest mushroom producers in the east.

MODENA NEWS

Modena, Nov. 22—The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Modena Methodist Church will meet Thursday, Dec. 1, at 2:30 in the home of Mrs. William Decker. Plans will be made for the annual Christmas party. Reports will be given of the proceeds of the meals served in the Hasbrouck Memorial hall on Election Day (a record over previous years) and the turkey supper served on Wednesday evenin, Nov. 16, also at the hall. Members are reminded to bring a gift for a child for Christmas to be sent to the Ethel Harpst Home.

The regular meeting of the Modena Fire Department will be held Thursday, Dec. 1, at 8 p. m. in the firehouse.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald DeWitt and son, Gary and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Schoonmaker and daughter, Marty Lynn of New Hurley, were recent dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Earl B. DeWitt Sr., and family.

Mrs. Alvina Matheisen attended a supper served to members of the Order of the Eastern Star Lodge, Highland Chapter at the Irelands Corner's Hotel Friday evening.

Miss Barbara Harcourt, student at Rider College, N. J., is spending the Thanksgiving holidaty with her mother, Mrs. Lillian Harcourt, near Ardonia.

The placing of the snowfences by employes of the State Department of Highways recently, preceded the first snowfall of the season on Saturday, by a slight margin. Traffic was lessened somewhat by the slippery condition of the highways, following the storm.

Rehearsal has commenced for Christmas music at the Modena Methodist Church during the holidays under the direction of Mrs. John E. Swords, minister of music.

Mrs. Alvina Matheisen is leaving town on Wednesday, Nov. 23, for New Jersey, where she will visit relatives during the Thanksgiving holiday.

Local juniors in the Wallkill Central High School are elated over the possession of their new class rings, while members of the senior class are discussing the class play "Time Out for Ginger" which they will present later in the season.

Mr. and Mrs. William Palmer of Jamaica, L. I., visited relatives here and in Ardonia, recently.

SHOKAN NEWS

Shokan, Nov. 22—Addison Crowell of Wallkill was numbered among town of Shawangunk residents calling in the hub of the reservoir country recently.

Inga Olsen returned to her home in Brooklyn Thursday after having spent several weeks at the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Olsen of the Ruckert apartments.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Holm have returned home from a visit of several days in New York. The Holms plan to sell their Acorn Hill house and 43 acres, the former Ben Dudrey farm, preparatory to moving back to Brooklyn.

Burton Fenney, 75, whose death took place at Boiceville Wednesday, was well known in the section between Shokan and Phoenicia. He married Ada Berry of Willow, who with a daughter, Grace Mericle of Kingston, survive him. One of several children of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Fenney of the Boiceville hill road, he was a lifetime resident of northern Olive.

Phil Coleman of Mt. Tremper was a caller here Saturday. He is employed by Joseph Kaufman who with his trucks is endeavoring to keep up with the many stove-wood orders accruing from his Freeman classified ads.

Mr. and Mrs. Thord Fredenholm who have employment in Albany spent several days at their Shokan home last week.

Keep Hands Off

New Castle, Ind., Nov. 22 (AP)—The governor's office and the Henry county sheriff were keeping hands off today after four Perfect Circle Corp. nonstrikers and a neighbor of a fifth reported windows shattered by shotgun blasts. No one was injured by any of the shots. Gov. George Craig's executive secretary, Horace M. Coats, conferred with Adj. Gen. Harold A. Doherty at Indianapolis and then announced the window-breaking incidents "don't justify any emergency action by the state."

Says Alliances Creaking

Seattle, Nov. 22 (AP)—Gov. Averell Harriman of New York said here last night "our alliances are creaking" because of what he called "Republican "incompetence and shortsightedness" in the field of foreign relations. Speaking at a Democratic fund-raising dinner, the New York governor described the summit conference at Geneva last July as a "great Communist victory" he said resulted from "confusion and contradiction in Washington." Harriman said while he favored holding the conference he later found it "inexcusable  for the President and his advisers to give the impression that they believed in the sincerity of the Kremlin words in advance of deeds."

Hatoyama Reelected

Tokyo, Nov. 22 (AP)—Prime Minister Ichiro Hatoyama won overwhelming reelection today, formed a new right of center administration with his newly merged Liberal-Democrats and immediately announced a long-range five-point program. Although the five points hint at closer relations with Communist nations and perhaps at dropping some American occupation reforms, it is expected Hatoyama's new administration will in reality be even friendlier to the United States than his two previous governments since last December.

Mrs. Julia O'Reilly

The funeral of Mrs. Julia O'Reilly of Woodside, L. I., was held from the residence of her nieces, the Misses Marie and Julia Joyce of 101 West Chester street, Monday at 8:30 a. m., thence to St. Mary's Church where a Mass of requiem was offered by the Rev. James A. Dunnigan for the repose of her soul. Sunday many friends and relatives called at the home to pay their last respects to the deceased and to offer condolence to Mrs. O'Reilly's daughter, Miss Margaret O'Reilly. The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Martin J. Drury, PR, VF, called Sunday afternoon and said prayers for the dead. Sunday evening the Rev. Francis Toner called and said the Rosary assisted by the many assembled friends. The casket was banked with many beautiful floral tributes and there were many spiritual bouquets in the form of Mass cards. Burial was in St. Mary's Cemetery where the Rev. Edward I. Farrelly gave the final blessing.

Timothy F. Lawlor

The funeral of Timothy F. Lawlor was held Monday at 9 a. m. from the James M. Murphy Funeral Home, 176 Broadway, thence to St. Mary's Church where at 9:30 a. m. a high Mass of requiem was offered by the Rev. Francis X. Toner. Responses to the Mass were sung by the children's choir under the direction of Theodore Riccobono, choir master-organist. Many relatives and friends paid their final respects by attending the Mass. During the bereavement scores of friends called at the funeral home and offered their condolences. Among those who called was the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Martin J. Drury, PRVF. Sunday evening Father Toner called and led those present in the recitation of the Rosary. There were many floral and spiritual bouquets. Burial was in St. Charles Cemetery, Farmingdale, L. I. Bearers were James Noble, Robert Enright, John Nagy and Richard Peters.

MODENA NEWS

Modena, Nov. 22—The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Modena Methodist Church will meet Thursday, Dec. 1, at 2:30 in the home of Mrs. William Decker. Plans will be made for the annual Christmas party. Reports will be given of the proceeds of the meals served in the Hasbrouck Memorial hall on Election Day (a record over previous years) and the turkey supper served on Wednesday evenin, Nov. 16, also at the hall. Members are reminded to bring a gift for a child for Christmas to be sent to the Ethel Harpst Home.

The regular meeting of the Modena Fire Department will be held Thursday, Dec. 1, at 8 p. m. in the firehouse.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald DeWitt and son, Gary and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Schoonmaker and daughter, Marty Lynn of New Hurley, were recent dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Earl B. DeWitt Sr., and family.

Mrs. Alvina Matheisen attended a supper served to members of the Order of the Eastern Star Lodge, Highland Chapter at the Irelands Corner's Hotel Friday evening.

Miss Barbara Harcourt, student at Rider College, N. J., is spending the Thanksgiving holidaty with her mother, Mrs. Lillian Harcourt, near Ardonia.

The placing of the snowfences by employes of the State Department of Highways recently, preceded the first snowfall of the season on Saturday, by a slight margin. Traffic was lessened somewhat by the slippery condition of the highways, following the storm.

Rehearsal has commenced for Christmas music at the Modena Methodist Church during the holidays under the direction of Mrs. John E. Swords, minister of music.

Mrs. Alvina Matheisen is leaving town on Wednesday, Nov. 23, for New Jersey, where she will visit relatives during the Thanksgiving holiday.

Local juniors in the Wallkill Central High School are elated over the possession of their new class rings, while members of the senior class are discussing the class play "Time Out for Ginger" which they will present later in the season.

Mr. and Mrs. William Palmer of Jamaica, L. I., visited relatives here and in Ardonia, recently.

SHOKAN NEWS

Shokan, Nov. 22—Addison Crowell of Wallkill was numbered among town of Shawangunk residents calling in the hub of the reservoir country recently.

Inga Olsen returned to her home in Brooklyn Thursday after having spent several weeks at the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Olsen of the Ruckert apartments.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Holm have returned home from a visit of several days in New York. The Holms plan to sell their Acorn Hill house and 43 acres, the former Ben Dudrey farm, preparatory to moving back to Brooklyn.

Burton Fenney, 75, whose death took place at Boiceville Wednesday, was well known in the section between Shokan and Phoenicia. He married Ada Berry of Willow, who with a daughter, Grace Mericle of Kingston, survive him. One of several children of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Fenney of the Boiceville hill road, he was a lifetime resident of northern Olive.

Phil Coleman of Mt. Tremper was a caller here Saturday. He is employed by Joseph Kaufman who with his trucks is endeavoring to keep up with the many stove-wood orders accruing from his Freeman classified ads.

Mr. and Mrs. Thord Fredenholm who have employment in Albany spent several days at their Shokan home last week.

Work on the couple's new motel is progressing despite a deal of unfavorable weather, the floor timbers are in place and side walls are now going up

An interesting exhibit of the local museum is a negative of the iron bridge across the Esopus in the old village which was taken in 1913 by Archie Van Benschoten, now of Mt. Marion. This is an excellent photo of the long bridge with its eight piers of bluestone, the ice-filled Esopus flowing beside the creek road to Phoenicia, the West Shokan flats in the near distance with several houses among which was Archie's boyhood home, and the snow-carpeted Wittenberg Range beyond. Built in the late 1890's, this fine structure was a busy thoroughfare for 15 years until, unable to withstand the mighty force exerted by a raging freshet meeting the backed-up waters of the recently completed Ashokan Dam, it quietly succumbed to the inevitable and settled to a watery grave in the reservoir deeps.

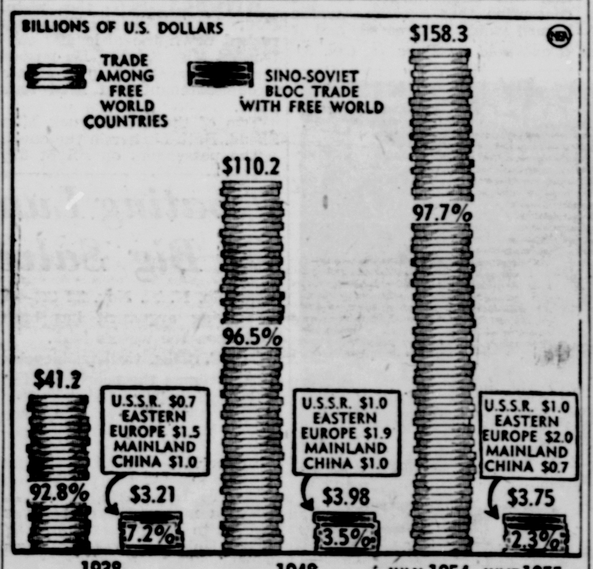
Keep Hands Off

New Castle, Ind., Nov. 22 (AP)—The governor's office and the Henry county sheriff were keeping hands off today after four Perfect Circle Corp. nonstrikers and a neighbor of a fifth reported windows shattered by shotgun blasts. No one was injured by any of the shots. Gov. George Craig's executive secretary, Horace M. Coats, conferred with Adj. Gen. Harold A. Doherty at Indianapolis and then announced the window-breaking incidents "don't justify any emergency action by the state."



HOW TRADE WITH REDS SHRINKS—Chart above, from Dept. of Commerce data, shows how the Communist nations' share of the free world's trade has shrunk since 1938. Although the dollar amount of trade with Reds has remained about the same, it is only 2.3 per cent of the total whereas in 1938 it was 7.2 per cent. During this period, trade among the free world's countries rose from 41.2 billion dollars in 1938 to 158.3 billion in 1955. "Eastern Europe" in chart refers to satellite countries Albania, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Poland, Romania. East Germany is included only in the 1948 and 1954-55 figures.

PLATTEKILL NEWS

Plattekill, Nov. 22—The subject of reassessment again came up for discussion at a meeting of the Plattekill Township Civic Association Inc., Friday evening, Nov. 18, at the Hasbrouck Memorial hall in Modena. Says Alliances Creaking

Seattle, Nov. 22 (AP)—Gov. Averell Harriman of New York said here last night "our alliances are creaking" because of what he called "Republican "incompetence and shortsightedness" in the field of foreign relations. Speaking at a Democratic fund-raising dinner, the New York governor described the summit conference at Geneva last July as a "great Communist victory" he said resulted from "confusion and contradiction in Washington." Harriman said while he favored holding the conference he later found it "inexcusable  for the President and his advisers to give the impression that they believed in the sincerity of the Kremlin words in advance of deeds."

Fossil Finds Fill In Many Years of Missing Records

By RENNIE TAYLOR
AP Science Reporter

Berkeley, Calif., Nov. 23 (AP)—A young scientist who has been working in the wilds of Kukukuku land has returned here with fossils of hiterto unknown kangaroo-like animals which lived about 10 million years ago.

His find is rated as a first step toward filling in about 70 millions years of missing records of the marsupials — the animals with stomach pouches for carrying their young. The kangaroo and the opossum are examples.

Kukukuku land is in northeastern New Guinea, about 40 miles west of Salamaua. The Kukukuku are native tribesmen know for their warlike nature.

THE FOSSILS were found by G. D. Woodard, graduate paleontologist of the University of California. He believes the remnants of jaws, teeth and limbs represent three heretofore undiscovered species and possibly new genera of this branch of animals.

Scientists believe marsupials existed in the South Pacific area as long as 80 million years ago but until recently had no fossil records to support the idea. Two years ago Prof. R. A. Stirton of the University of California found some 5-million-year-old marsupial fossils in Australia. Woodard's find now pushes the record back another five million years.

Marsupials first appeared on earth, scientists believe, about 125 million years ago.

Further expeditions to the South Pacific are planned. Any solid discovery about the dawn age marsupials will help to determine how animal varieties migrated from one part of the world to another.

Russian Interest in Middle East Extends Back 200 Years

Cairo, Egypt, Nov. 22 (AP)—Russian interest in the Middle East is nothing new.

Nearly 200 years ago the Czars tried to expand the sphere of Russian influence southward through the old Ottoman Turkish empire.

Palestine was governed by the Moslem Turkish Sultans. The big powers found it useful to maintain the shaky Ottoman empire intact, but each sought a foothold with the Sultan's blessings.

France, Britain and Russia extended their influence by becoming "protectors" of minorities in the empire, and particularly by protecting their rights in the holy places in Palestine.

THE FRENCH set the pace as far back as 1535, reaching agreement that year with the sultan to become guardians of the holy places and protectors of catholics in Ottoman lands.

Claiming to be spiritual heir of the orthodox Byzantine empire, Russia tried to counter French influence by becoming protector of eastern orthodox christian communities in the Middle East. Fights between Catholic and orthodox priests over their conflicting claims to the Holy Sepulchre and the Church of the Nativity developed into international conflicts between Russia and France. And sometimes Britain.

THE PROBLEM of holy places and minorities gave Russia a continuous weapon for intervention in the Middle East until the Bolshevik revolution. Then the Communists renounced the church and lost their weapon. But Russia began a Middle Eastern comeback during World War II by reviving the orthodox patriarchate in Moscow. The Soviets began active support of orthodox communities in the Middle East. They reclaimed church property in Palestine, Lebanon, and Syria which had been owned by czarist Russia.

The Russians began paying compensation for orthodox property confiscated in Russia during the anti-church era. And Russian financial help became almost indisenpensable to many impoverished orthodox bishoprics. Thinly spread through the Moslem Middle East, the orthodox communities sometimes have trouble surviving at all. The Palestine war of 1948 further impoverished the church.

THIS RUSSIAN help has brought an increasing number of orthodox bishops into the pro-Russian fold. Several have made "pilgrimages" to Moscow and one made a special trip to Tbilisi (Tifilis) Georgia, to visit the grave of Stalin's mother.

There is also a violently anti-Russian clique of orthodox priests in Lebanon, Syria and Palestine. Many of these consider Greece the "spiritual motherland" of the church and fight against Russian infiltration.

May Get Leniency If They Pay Damage

New York, Nov. 22 (AP)—Four youths who flooded a clergyman's home—in the mistaken belief that he was trying to break up a teen-age lover's lane—may get court leniency if they pay him $2,125 to repair the damage.

The four, who are free in $1,000 bail each, pleaded guilty yesterday in Adolescents Court to charges of disorderly conduct.

The Rev. Walter Degenhardt, a Lutheran minister in Queens, said he would be satisfied with $2,125 in settlement.

Death Claims Are Settled Out of Court for $37,000

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 22 (AP)—Claims arising from an accident last March 14 which killed four young schoolgirls were settled out of court here yesterday for $37,000.

Under previous agreement all six claimants were lumped together in the one settlement, the court to decide the amounts going to the suing parties.

The four girls were killed when an automobile driven by Emil A. Decina, 33, jumped a curb, struck the girls, careened down the sidewalk and crashed into a store. Decina was sentenced to 1 to 2 years in prison on a charge of criminal negligence.

The claims were filed by the girl's parents, a woman passerby who was struck, and the store owner. They originally totalled more than $250,000.

Atom Sub Pioneer Decries Lack of Trained Scientists

East Orange, N. J., Nov. 22 (AP)—Rear Adm. H. G. Rickover, who helped pioneer the atomic submarine, suggested today that industry loan scientists and engineers as teachers to help develop more trained scientific manpower.

He also suggested that industry—and labor unions, too—make direct financial contributions to education generally, as one means of coping with what he called the "crisis in education" in the United States.

HE SAID the crisis stemmed from "our explosive population growth," and developed because there are "not enough good teachers and schoolrooms to give each child the opportunity to develop his capabilities to the fullest."

"Unless it is dealt with promptly and effectively," he said, "the machinery which sustains our level of material prosperity and political power will begin to slow down and we will be in danger of losing the cold war by default."

Rickover made the remarks in an address prepared for a luncheon of the Thomas Alva Edison Foundation, Inc.

A SIMILAR note was sounded yesterday by Lewis L. Strauss, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission. Strauss said the United States is in danger of losing to Russia "the cold war of the classrooms" in which scientific talent is trained.

Declaring that one of the problems facing education generally in the United States is a shortage of qualified teachers, many of whom have gone into industry, Rickover said:

"I suggest that, at their own expense, industrial organizations make available their scientists and engineers for one-year periods to teach in our high schools, colleges and universities. The cost of this will be more than repaid by the larger number and better trained students who will soon be available."

He suggested also both industry and labor union financial support to education, longer school terms, more attention to gifted children, and increased salaries for teachers.

Woman Testifies She Saw Burke Shoot Man

New York, Nov. 22 (AP)—A woman who testified she saw Elmer (Trigger) Burke shoot a pal to death three years ago stuck to her story yesterday under cross-examination by defense counsel.

Mrs. Anna McAllister, a former Army Wac and a key witness in the case against Burke, said she saw him shoot Edward (Poochy) Walsh, 23, after an argument in a Manhattan bar on July 23, 1952.

Burke, 38, on trial for first degree murder, was turned over to New York authorities after his capture in South Carolina last August. He had escaped from jail the previous year in Boston.

Mrs. McAllister's home address was withheld by authorities who revealed she was under a round-the-clock police guard.

Fights between Catholic and orthodox priests over their conflicting claims to the Holy Sepulchre and the Church of the Nativity developed into international conflicts between Russia and France. And sometimes Britain.

THE PROBLEM of holy places and minorities gave Russia a continuous weapon for intervention in the Middle East until the Bolshevik revolution. Then the Communists renounced the church and lost their weapon. But Russia began a Middle Eastern comeback during World War II by reviving the orthodox patriarchate in Moscow. The Soviets began active support of orthodox communities in the Middle East. They reclaimed church property in Palestine, Lebanon, and Syria which had been owned by czarist Russia.

The Russians began paying compensation for orthodox property confiscated in Russia during the anti-church era. And Russian financial help became almost indisenpensable to many impoverished orthodox bishoprics. Thinly spread through the Moslem Middle East, the orthodox communities sometimes have trouble surviving at all. The Palestine war of 1948 further impoverished the church.

THIS RUSSIAN help has brought an increasing number of orthodox bishops into the pro-Russian fold. Several have made "pilgrimages" to Moscow and one made a special trip to Tbilisi (Tifilis) Georgia, to visit the grave of Stalin's mother.

There is also a violently anti-Russian clique of orthodox priests in Lebanon, Syria and Palestine. Many of these consider Greece the "spiritual motherland" of the church and fight against Russian infiltration.

May Get Leniency If They Pay Damage

New York, Nov. 22 (AP)—Four youths who flooded a clergyman's home—in the mistaken belief that he was trying to break up a teen-age lover's lane—may get court leniency if they pay him $2,125 to repair the damage.

The four, who are free in $1,000 bail each, pleaded guilty yesterday in Adolescents Court to charges of disorderly conduct.

The Rev. Walter Degenhardt, a Lutheran minister in Queens, said he would be satisfied with $2,125 in settlement.

Death Claims Are Settled Out of Court for $37,000

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 22 (AP)—Claims arising from an accident last March 14 which killed four young schoolgirls were settled out of court here yesterday for $37,000.

Under previous agreement all six claimants were lumped together in the one settlement, the court to decide the amounts going to the suing parties.

The four girls were killed when an automobile driven by Emil A. Decina, 33, jumped a curb, struck the girls, careened down the sidewalk and crashed into a store. Decina was sentenced to 1 to 2 years in prison on a charge of criminal negligence.

The claims were filed by the girl's parents, a woman passerby who was struck, and the store owner. They originally totalled more than $250,000.

Atom Sub Pioneer Decries Lack of Trained Scientists

East Orange, N. J., Nov. 22 (AP)—Rear Adm. H. G. Rickover, who helped pioneer the atomic submarine, suggested today that industry loan scientists and engineers as teachers to help develop more trained scientific manpower.

He also suggested that industry—and labor unions, too—make direct financial contributions to education generally, as one means of coping with what he called the "crisis in education" in the United States.

HE SAID the crisis stemmed from "our explosive population growth," and developed because there are "not enough good teachers and schoolrooms to give each child the opportunity to develop his capabilities to the fullest."

"Unless it is dealt with promptly and effectively," he said, "the machinery which sustains our level of material prosperity and political power will begin to slow down and we will be in danger of losing the cold war by default."

Rickover made the remarks in an address prepared for a luncheon of the Thomas Alva Edison Foundation, Inc.

A SIMILAR note was sounded yesterday by Lewis L. Strauss, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission. Strauss said the United States is in danger of losing to Russia "the cold war of the classrooms" in which scientific talent is trained.

Declaring that one of the problems facing education generally in the United States is a shortage of qualified teachers, many of whom have gone into industry, Rickover said:

"I suggest that, at their own expense, industrial organizations make available their scientists and engineers for one-year periods to teach in our high schools, colleges and universities. The cost of this will be more than repaid by the larger number and better trained students who will soon be available."

He suggested also both industry and labor union financial support to education, longer school terms, more attention to gifted children, and increased salaries for teachers.

Woman Testifies She Saw Burke Shoot Man

New York, Nov. 22 (AP)—A woman who testified she saw Elmer (Trigger) Burke shoot a pal to death three years ago stuck to her story yesterday under cross-examination by defense counsel.

Mrs. Anna McAllister, a former Army Wac and a key witness in the case against Burke, said she saw him shoot Edward (Poochy) Walsh, 23, after an argument in a Manhattan bar on July 23, 1952.

Burke, 38, on trial for first degree murder, was turned over to New York authorities after his capture in South Carolina last August. He had escaped from jail the previous year in Boston.

Mrs. McAllister's home address was withheld by authorities who revealed she was under a round-the-clock police guard.

GIVE SPECIAL THANKS

Americans will surely offer thanks this year that they and the rest of the peoples of the earth seem on a firmer footing of peace than in many a long day. They can be grateful, too, that they are on the highest plane of well-being in the nation's history.

But beyond these things, the American people may be minded to voice a special Thanksgiving prayer that their President, Dwight D. Eisenhower, has so far come safely through his dangerous illness.

To millions of citizens in this land and abroad, he is the image of decency, of calm devotion to fundamentals of human cooperation, of dedication to the cause of peace.

These millions somehow feel their safety bound up with this man. They are fond of him as they are fond of a friend and protector, for that is how they see him. When he was struck down it was like sickness in the family.

When so many hold a man in such deep affection, you hear it said now and then that this is unfortunate for the country. Some say that Mr. Eisenhower is a "father image," and that it is not right for people to feel so dependent on a single public figure.

A little of this talk is politically inspired by men who are grousing because this particular "father" doesn't happen to lead their own party. But a good deal of it is sincere.

Perhaps it would be very good if more Americans showed today a greater spirit of self-reliance than is evident. But in the circumstances of this age, that does not appear to be in prospect.

The complexities and bewilderments of this time drive men to look for guidance and help. They cannot thread their way through the daily dilemmas that confront them on every hand. It is understandable that they should thus turn to someone they believe is competent to meet their problems and master them.

In other lands and other times, men similarly beset have unwisely chosen tyrants to solve their difficulties.

We can all be thankful that Americans searching for guidance have put their trust not in a dictator, nor even in a power-conscious democratic leader, but in a man whose decent, humane instincts make him the very opposite of the autocrat.

If men like President Eisenhower represent the sort of image Americans admire and put their confidence in, then there is no cause for alarm.

We need feel no sadness, either, that men see in him a personal helper. We should be quite content that they look to him, and that they perhaps choose now to pray thanks for his progress toward full recovery.

GOOD LIVES AND LONG

Optimists live longer than pessimists, according to studies made in a West German hospital. Of its 800 inmates over 80 years of age, nine in every 10 were confirmed optimists. The inference drawn was that their habits of cheerfulness averted the dangers that arise from worry, and gave them an incentive to live.

Whether or not optimism conduces to long life, there is no doubt that it is pleasanter for the optimist's family and friends, while he is living.

VENTURE CAPITAL

"Free enterprise, in order to flourish, needs venture capital to nurture it," says Manufacturers Record. "If venture capital is confiscated by unfair taxation, free enterprise will wither and eventually die."

Some of the greatest employing industries of today were, at their beginning, widely regarded as crazy experiments, foredoomed to failure. Men took risks and ridicule in the knowledge that if they succeeded they would profit. The profit motive, for all the criticisms made of it, is the most powerful force for material progress that exists.

Fears are best forgotten. Trust in your hopes, if you would succeed.

A TOLD OFF — JUDGE

In the United States Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit, up came the appeal of William H. Timbers, General Counsel for the Securities and Exchange Commission, from a decision of Federal District Judge Arthur F. Lederle, holding Timbers in contempt.

The case is tremendously important because what Judge Lederle seems to have tried to establish was that no papers in the possession of the Government of the United States could be withheld from a court. Were this a correct view, the Government of the United States could not function at all except in the headlines.

The attorney for the plaintiff, as one reads the record, was unwilling to go as far as the judge. I quote from the Appeals Court decision:

"The trial judge did not concur in the attorney's suggestion. To the contrary, he stated that a situation was presented 'where it appears that the court is being handicapped because an agency of the executive department places itself in a position more impregnable than an opposing lawyer is'; that 'the profession owes a duty to the administration of justice to attempt to make is possible for lawyers to get information from executive agencies without using a can opener'; and that he saw no reason why all the files of the SEC relating to the case should not be opened to the attorneys. The judge stated that as far as he was concerned, he was perfectly willing to do everything that he could to see that the executive department does not handicap the courts."

Whatever decision came from this case could be leading in matters affecting the FBI, the immigration service, the passport office, the Treasury and other branches of the executive arm of the government. It would mean that no department of government could keep a raw file on hand on any subject without the peril of such an incomplete and unchecked file being subpoenaed in a case. A raw file is what some call a working file which often contains unevaluated materials some of which may or may not be correct until thoroughly checked. It would also mean that matters involving secret material would have to be disclosed to a judge for a decision as to whether it should be disclosed or not.

The government would be so hamstrung that it could not work. Imagine what would have happened in the case of Al Capone if the Department of Justice had been forced to disclose its file before it was ready to bring the case. We only too often forget that a leading opinion in one case may be applied to altogether a different set of circumstances.

Fortunately the reviewing court hit Judge Lederle with the book. It said:

"In our opinion, Judge Lederle was not justified in punishing for contempt the General Counsel for the Securities and Exchange Commission for declining to produce the confidential intra-agency report of the Commission's investigation, when the attorney stood upon his necessary obedience to the rule, special instructions and claim of privilege of the SEC. . . ."

They called attention to a Supreme Court decision, Boske vs. Comingore, an FBI case, in which it was held:

"When one considers the variety of information contained in the files of any government department and the possibilities of harm from unrestricted disclosure in court, the usefulness, indeed the necessity, of centralizing determination as to whether subpoenas duces tecum will be willingly obeyed or challenged is obvious."

The 6th District U. S. Court of Appeals decision further said:

"In our view, the foregoing recital of the judge's own words and actions demonstrates that he abused all justifiable discretion. An attorney is entitled to consideration of a claimed privilege not to disclose information which he honestly regards as confidential and should not stand in danger of imprisonment for asserting respectfully what he considers to be lawful rights. If the attorney's position, in the opinion of the trial court, is wrong to the point of contempt, he should be so adjudged; but substantial justice would demand that he be given the benefit of counsel and an opportunity for review by an appellate court before being deprived of his liberty with the resultant ignominy."

This is a lesson to some judges who have forgotten the spirit of our law.

OLD MEN AND THEIR FOOD

"It is rarely that one comes across a contribution at once so informative, interesting and even amusing as the recent report by the Senior Almoner (one who dispenses alms or charity) of the Belfast City Hospital on elderly men in common lodgings, published by the Nuffield Provincial Hospitals Trust. This deals with nearly four hundred men in some sixteen lodging houses scattered all over Belfast.

"Many of the old men, as might be expected, had arrived at very decided if somewhat bizarre views on the subject of diet. The elderly man who remarked spryly: 'We old fellows don't have the same use for food now,' summed up this situation very well. One particularly ruddy old gentleman attributed his good health to cod-liver oil which he spread on bread instead of butter and washed down with spring water specially carried down by himself in bottles from the upper reaches of the River Lagan. Another was a firm believer in cabbages and herrings which he always ate together and which he bought in large quantities and stored happily in his locker from one pension day to the next. A wizen-faced old man was scornful of sausages and referred to them as 'those mysteries,' a view which was held by most of his fellow lodgers. A seedy, silent old man with no socks or dentures, announced that tinned soup, bread, tea and frys were his main dishes. These four items plus an occasional helping of potatoes, porridge and broth, constituted the main items of diet for those elderly men who took the trouble to cook.

"For the inexperienced cook or the old man who cannot be bothered to make a proper meal for himself, there was what is known as the 'broth gang.' Each member of the gang contributes an offering to the pot and it is surprising the number of old men who have contacts in the market or who are 'in the way of getting' the odd carrot, turnip or onion. In this manner a large pot of broth can be made by the acknowledged expert and is ladled out to serve as dinners for several days.

Some of these ideas sound very strange to us but I wonder if we would not find somewhat the same conditions in any large city in which groups of elderly men, whose only support is an old age pension, live in rooming houses together. By way of contrast, following is the list of foods, recommended by the Welfare Council of New York city, which should be taken by the elderly person each day: From one pint to a quart of milk; one or more servings of fruit, with citrus fruit or tomatoes daily if possible; servings of two or more vegetables including potatoes; an egg at least every other day; one serving of meat or fish or if preferred an egg and at least three glasses of milk; enough bread, cereals and fats to maintain a desirable weight; only moderate amounts of sweets, tea, and coffee.

Edson's Washington News Notebook

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington —(NEA)— Government and private disaster relief agencies have apparently been able to do little in relocating on high groud the families or businesss establishments washed out by this year's northeastern states hurricanes and floods.

This startling fact is revealed by reports of Small Business Administration, Farmers Home Administration and the National Red Cross. These reports cover 37 million dollars' worth of aid they administered up to Nov. 10.

This aid covers only 8 per cent of Department of Commerce's estimated 457 million dollars damage from Hurricane Dianne alone. This estimate included seven million dollars farm damage, 67 million dollars housing damage and 217 million dollars commercial and industrial damage. Highway, street and bridge damage was estimated at 81 million dollars, public and private utility damage at 79 million dollars and miscellaneous damage six million dollars additional.

CONGRESSIONAL and executive departments of the federal government are currently studying the possibility of issuing some new form of storm insurance. It is likely that the legislation will be introduced in the next session of Congress.

But none of the studies has thus far paid much attention to the simple fact that the best form of flood insurance is to refrain from building on locations that may be flooded.

American Red Cross officials in Washington explain that in cases where floods have washed right through a property and destroyed the land, they help families relocate on high ground.

Or if a city or county government condemns sites as unsafe for future occupancy, Red Cross aids relocation.

If a site remains intact, however, Red Cross leaves it up to the people of each location whether they will rebuild or not.

If flood victims were moved from uncondemned locations, Red Cross officials point out, others might move right in on the vacant sites.

THE RED CROSS aid program for this year's hurricane and flood victims has now been practically completed. The final figures are expected to be about 15,000 families helped at a cost of 15 million dollars. The average relief is thus $1000.

Small Business Administration 3 per cent disaster relief loan applications have practically all been handled. About 95 per cent of the loans have gone to small businesses, 5 per cent for new housing. The final total is expected to be around 1600 loans issued for nearly 25 million dollars, for an average of under $15,000 apiece.

SBA points out that many of its borrowers have to rebuild on old sites because damage was not complete. Disaster loans aren't made to cover relocation of an entire plant. Approximately 10 per cent of SBA loan applications are rejected.

Farmers Home Administration has so far made only 21 hurricane and flood relief loans for a total of $78,000. But FHA has 300 applications for loans pending. It expects to close around 200 by Jan. 1. Others will be issued next spring, when farmers need money to put in new crops.

THIS IS THE SUMMARY of Red Cross and SBA loans so far:

State	Red Cross Families Aided	Red Cross Amount	Small Business Admin. Loans Granted	Small Business Admin. Amount
Connecticut	2258	$ 8,515,959	718	$12,988,016
Massachusetts	1907	1,576,819	296	4,816,950
Rhode Island	621	268,581	61	495,960

New Jersey	789	426,860	77	387,029
North Carolina	3278	437,000	198	698,058
Totals	13,701	$14,534,342	1565	$22,615,757

The Crossroads Crypt

The tomb of Margrave Karl Wilhelm (1679-1738) is located in the center of the market place of the city of Karlsruhe, Germany, of which he was the founder. The body was originally laid to rest within a church. Seventy-four years after his interment the church was demolished but the grave was left undisturbed, so that now the commerce of the city swirls around the crypt of its founder. Curiously enough the name of the city means "Charles' Rest."

Coalition in Congress Seen Halting Radicalism Return

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Nov. 22—It's a tribute to the power of reiteration that, if an inaccuracy is repeated often enough, it begins to be accepted as truth. Thus, Adlai Stevenson told a nationwide audience last Saturday night that the Democrats "won both Houses of Congress in 1954." Many other speakers have been saying the same thing in recent months.

The fact is that the Democrats didn't "win" the Senate. They tied it. And if Mr. Stevenson thinks a tie score is the same as a victory, he is likely to lose the football vote next year.

After the 1954 election the Republicans had enrolled forty-eight Senators and the Democrats forty-eight. But the Republicans also had the Vice-President's vote, so the vote stood forty-nine Republicans to forty-eight Democrats. When, after the election, one Senator, who had been nominated in a Republican primary in 1950 and elected that year as a Republican, switched his allegiance, this gave control to the Democrats last January by one vote. That's a far different thing, however, from achieving a victory at the polls in November, 1954.

Somewhat the same thing happened in the House of Representatives in 1930, midway in the term of President Hoover. The Republicans won 220 House seats and the Democrats 214 but, due to deaths on the Republican side, control shifted from the Republicans to the Democrats. It wasn't a victory for the Democrats in November, 1930, but it is often erroneously referred to as such.

IN THE MIDDLE of President Truman's first term, the Republicans won both Houses of Congress, but in 1948 Mr. Truman won and the Democrats recovered control of both Houses of Congress. So a victory for one party in mid-term doesn't necessarily foreshadow a triumph by the same party in the next Presidential election.

Yet it is repeatedly said that, when the House changes over during the middle of a Presidential term, the party that won Congress "usually" wins the next Presidential campaign. Not only was this proved wrong in 1948 but even the 1910 precedent is ambiguous. For, while in 1910 the Democrats won the House, they failed in 1912 to poll the majority vote in the nation. Only the fact that there were two Republican nominees in the field to split the ticket gave the Democrats their control of Congress. On a straight-party vote, the Republicans, polled more than the Democrats.

Disaffection here and there among Congressional districts has often led to an overturn in seats in local contests. Thus in 1953, due to the firm recession, the Republicans lost a special election in Wisconsin and in 1954, when economic conditions turned sour, the Republicans lost a few more seats here and there.

BUT JUST as the 1946 victory of the Republicans was erased in economic conditions, so may the 1956 elections overcome for the Republicans the losses they sustained in 1954? There is no rule of thumb about it. Each election stands on its own feet and is based on the then existing conditions.

There were, of course, in 1955 some serious evidences of disaffection inside the Republican organizations—as, for instance in Indiana—but in New Jersey, where in 1954 factional bitterness has prevailed inside the party, the Republicans in 1955 retained control of both houses of the State Legislature despite the election of a Democrat as governor the year before.

There is not the slightest evidence from recent elections that the country is ready to turn back to the radicalism of the New Deal for the Fair Deal. Mr. Truman hailed Stevenson's speech of last Saturday night as "the best New Deal speech" he ever heard the former Illinois Governor make. Yet Harriman didn't like it and criticized Stevenson's use of "moderation" as an Eisenhower word.

If there's to be competition between Harriman and Stevenson as to who is the better exponent of New Dealism, the 1956 campaign can be forecast even this early. The country is not in a radical mood and is, on the whole, satisfied with the moderate approach taken by the Eisenhower administration.

The best evidence of this is the way the bipartisan coalition which kept Trumanism in check is still operating. A combination of Democratic anti-radicals and a solid Republican vote brought about the passage of the Taft-Hartley act and also the subversive control law—both over Truman vetoes.

Idealogically speaking, therefore, an anti-radical coalition rules today in Congress, and Trumanism can hardly get any real comfort out of the 1954 tie in the Senate or the small margin of seats that the Democrats won in the House.

IF ECONOMIC conditions continue as they are today, the Republicans will win both Houses of Congress in 1956 with a mandate against radicalism. The arguments which Messrs. Stevenson, Harriman and Kefauver are making to try to prove that the Democrats are the party of the "poor" while the Republicans are the party of the "rich" will not be persuasive. It will be hard, for instance, to convince the voters that poverty stalks in the land when even Democrats can afford to put up $100-a-plate for the privilege of eating at the party dinners.

Dewey Addresses Local Woman's Club

Rosendale, Nov. 21 — Ralph Dewey, Civilian Defense chairman for the town of Rosendale, was guest speaker at a recent meeting of the Rosendale Womans Club. The speaker suggested that the club organize a group of women to take a 16 weeks course in medical aid and that he would be willing to help in any way that he could. Mrs. Robert Demarest accepted the position of chairman of a committee to organize such a group. Dewey stated that teen-agers could assist greatly at these classes, acting as patients.

Women in the town, as well as high school students or girl or boy scouts who would be interested in taking or participating in this medical aid course should contact Mrs. Demarest. It was pointed out that this course is much more extensive than the first aid course which many took during the second World War.

The meeting was opened with a song, "America," led by Mrs. Eugene Galvin, in honor of Veteran's Day.

A request was received from the American Legion asking each member to write individually to the district congressman in regard to flood control. Stationery, as well as names and addresses of the congressmen, may be obtained from the Duffy Agency on Main street.

Frank Fusco of Warner Brothers Studios in New York, painted and donated the Loan Closet sign which has been installed at the Grange hall.

About Women . . .

Detroit (AP) — Cletus Kennelly bossed women around for 44 years. You'd think he'd know all the answers about them. But on his retirement as a traffic manager for the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. he commented: "I don't think I would know any more about them in 44 more years." But he did give out with one bit of insight he had gained: Women love kind words and a little flattery—"but they can read through insincerity with frightening accuracy. Don't try to fool them."

We Can Do Everything Better, Says Stevenson

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

Washington, Nov. 21 (AP)—Adlai Stevenson himself, without saying so, put his finger on the No. 1 problem facing the Democrats in trying to persuade the voters to throw the Republicans out in 1956.

"America," he said in a speech Saturday night, "is well and strong above all nations in all times. We are the luckiest people in the world and we know it."

If that's the case, the voters might ask, why should they take a chance on changing administrations in next November's election? Stevenson's reasons seemed to add up to this: "We can do everything better."

He was very vague on how. That can't be held against him at this time. This was his first speech after announcing he wanted to be president. It was just a general outline of what he'll say later.

It was also pretty much the outline of what the Democratic party will be saying. There were no surprises. It was pretty much along the lines on which the Democrats already have indicated they will attack the Republicans.

It was just enough of an outline to show there are no fundamental differences between the two parties and that the differences which do exist are matters of degree more than of kind.

Stevenson attacked the Eisenhower administration's farm program. On this subject he seems unusually hazy and, if he has a solution, he has kept it to himself.

He was critical of the administration's foreign policy but did not indicate specifically what was wrong with it except to complain there was too much tough talk and backing away from it.

And—there was no surprise about this—he accused the Republicans of being the party of "special interest," meaning it was too cozy toward big business. This has been a steady complaint of the Democrats for generations.

Stevenson complained — or seemed to be complaining—that this country was not giving enough foreign aid to nations outside the Communist bloc.

If he pursues this line he may suffer some embarrassment in 1956 because it is almost certain his own Democrats will try to ram through a tax cut in the election year.

CUTTING TAXES means cutting revenue. It is hard to see how the Democrats could logically call for a boost in foreign aid if the government has less tax money to spend on it.

Stevenson took pains to describe his views as "moderate," although anyone who listened to him in the 1952 campaign must already have reached that conclusion about him anyway.

Since President Eisenhower is considered a moderate, and is popular in that role, Stevenson could hardly make himself unpopular following the same line, which also happens to be his natural one anyway.

Q—Is there a specimen of the famous Glastonbury thorn bush in this country?

A—The only one in this country is thought to be at the National Cathedral in Washington, D. C. The cutting was taken from the original Glastonbury thorn near Glastonbury, England, which is said to have been planted by Joseph of Arimathea, the merchant who gave his private tomb for the burial of Jesus.

GIVE SPECIAL THANKS

Americans will surely offer thanks this year that they and the rest of the peoples of the earth seem on a firmer footing of peace than in many a long day. They can be grateful, too, that they are on the highest plane of well-being in the nation's history.

But beyond these things, the American people may be minded to voice a special Thanksgiving prayer that their President, Dwight D. Eisenhower, has so far come safely through his dangerous illness.

To millions of citizens in this land and abroad, he is the image of decency, of calm devotion to fundamentals of human cooperation, of dedication to the cause of peace.

These millions somehow feel their safety bound up with this man. They are fond of him as they are fond of a friend and protector, for that is how they see him. When he was struck down it was like sickness in the family.

When so many hold a man in such deep affection, you hear it said now and then that this is unfortunate for the country. Some say that Mr. Eisenhower is a "father image," and that it is not right for people to feel so dependent on a single public figure.

A little of this talk is politically inspired by men who are grousing because this particular "father" doesn't happen to lead their own party. But a good deal of it is sincere.

Perhaps it would be very good if more Americans showed today a greater spirit of self-reliance than is evident. But in the circumstances of this age, that does not appear to be in prospect.

The complexities and bewilderments of this time drive men to look for guidance and help. They cannot thread their way through the daily dilemmas that confront them on every hand. It is understandable that they should thus turn to someone they believe is competent to meet their problems and master them.

In other lands and other times, men similarly beset have unwisely chosen tyrants to solve their difficulties.

We can all be thankful that Americans searching for guidance have put their trust not in a dictator, nor even in a power-conscious democratic leader, but in a man whose decent, humane instincts make him the very opposite of the autocrat.

If men like President Eisenhower represent the sort of image Americans admire and put their confidence in, then there is no cause for alarm.

We need feel no sadness, either, that men see in him a personal helper. We should be quite content that they look to him, and that they perhaps choose now to pray thanks for his progress toward full recovery.

GOOD LIVES AND LONG

Optimists live longer than pessimists, according to studies made in a West German hospital. Of its 800 inmates over 80 years of age, nine in every 10 were confirmed optimists. The inference drawn was that their habits of cheerfulness averted the dangers that arise from worry, and gave them an incentive to live.

Whether or not optimism conduces to long life, there is no doubt that it is pleasanter for the optimist's family and friends, while he is living.

VENTURE CAPITAL

"Free enterprise, in order to flourish, needs venture capital to nurture it," says Manufacturers Record. "If venture capital is confiscated by unfair taxation, free enterprise will wither and eventually die."

Some of the greatest employing industries of today were, at their beginning, widely regarded as crazy experiments, foredoomed to failure. Men took risks and ridicule in the knowledge that if they succeeded they would profit. The profit motive, for all the criticisms made of it, is the most powerful force for material progress that exists.

Fears are best forgotten. Trust in your hopes, if you would succeed.

A TOLD OFF — JUDGE

In the United States Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit, up came the appeal of William H. Timbers, General Counsel for the Securities and Exchange Commission, from a decision of Federal District Judge Arthur F. Lederle, holding Timbers in contempt.

The case is tremendously important because what Judge Lederle seems to have tried to establish was that no papers in the possession of the Government of the United States could be withheld from a court. Were this a correct view, the Government of the United States could not function at all except in the headlines.

The attorney for the plaintiff, as one reads the record, was unwilling to go as far as the judge. I quote from the Appeals Court decision:

"The trial judge did not concur in the attorney's suggestion. To the contrary, he stated that a situation was presented 'where it appears that the court is being handicapped because an agency of the executive department places itself in a position more impregnable than an opposing lawyer is'; that 'the profession owes a duty to the administration of justice to attempt to make is possible for lawyers to get information from executive agencies without using a can opener'; and that he saw no reason why all the files of the SEC relating to the case should not be opened to the attorneys. The judge stated that as far as he was concerned, he was perfectly willing to do everything that he could to see that the executive department does not handicap the courts."

Whatever decision came from this case could be leading in matters affecting the FBI, the immigration service, the passport office, the Treasury and other branches of the executive arm of the government. It would mean that no department of government could keep a raw file on hand on any subject without the peril of such an incomplete and unchecked file being subpoenaed in a case. A raw file is what some call a working file which often contains unevaluated materials some of which may or may not be correct until thoroughly checked. It would also mean that matters involving secret material would have to be disclosed to a judge for a decision as to whether it should be disclosed or not.

The government would be so hamstrung that it could not work. Imagine what would have happened in the case of Al Capone if the Department of Justice had been forced to disclose its file before it was ready to bring the case. We only too often forget that a leading opinion in one case may be applied to altogether a different set of circumstances.

Fortunately the reviewing court hit Judge Lederle with the book. It said:

"In our opinion, Judge Lederle was not justified in punishing for contempt the General Counsel for the Securities and Exchange Commission for declining to produce the confidential intra-agency report of the Commission's investigation, when the attorney stood upon his necessary obedience to the rule, special instructions and claim of privilege of the SEC. . . ."

They called attention to a Supreme Court decision, Boske vs. Comingore, an FBI case, in which it was held:

"When one considers the variety of information contained in the files of any government department and the possibilities of harm from unrestricted disclosure in court, the usefulness, indeed the necessity, of centralizing determination as to whether subpoenas duces tecum will be willingly obeyed or challenged is obvious."

The 6th District U. S. Court of Appeals decision further said:

"In our view, the foregoing recital of the judge's own words and actions demonstrates that he abused all justifiable discretion. An attorney is entitled to consideration of a claimed privilege not to disclose information which he honestly regards as confidential and should not stand in danger of imprisonment for asserting respectfully what he considers to be lawful rights. If the attorney's position, in the opinion of the trial court, is wrong to the point of contempt, he should be so adjudged; but substantial justice would demand that he be given the benefit of counsel and an opportunity for review by an appellate court before being deprived of his liberty with the resultant ignominy."

This is a lesson to some judges who have forgotten the spirit of our law.

OLD MEN AND THEIR FOOD

"It is rarely that one comes across a contribution at once so informative, interesting and even amusing as the recent report by the Senior Almoner (one who dispenses alms or charity) of the Belfast City Hospital on elderly men in common lodgings, published by the Nuffield Provincial Hospitals Trust. This deals with nearly four hundred men in some sixteen lodging houses scattered all over Belfast.

"Many of the old men, as might be expected, had arrived at very decided if somewhat bizarre views on the subject of diet. The elderly man who remarked spryly: 'We old fellows don't have the same use for food now,' summed up this situation very well. One particularly ruddy old gentleman attributed his good health to cod-liver oil which he spread on bread instead of butter and washed down with spring water specially carried down by himself in bottles from the upper reaches of the River Lagan. Another was a firm believer in cabbages and herrings which he always ate together and which he bought in large quantities and stored happily in his locker from one pension day to the next. A wizen-faced old man was scornful of sausages and referred to them as 'those mysteries,' a view which was held by most of his fellow lodgers. A seedy, silent old man with no socks or dentures, announced that tinned soup, bread, tea and frys were his main dishes. These four items plus an occasional helping of potatoes, porridge and broth, constituted the main items of diet for those elderly men who took the trouble to cook.

"For the inexperienced cook or the old man who cannot be bothered to make a proper meal for himself, there was what is known as the 'broth gang.' Each member of the gang contributes an offering to the pot and it is surprising the number of old men who have contacts in the market or who are 'in the way of getting' the odd carrot, turnip or onion. In this manner a large pot of broth can be made by the acknowledged expert and is ladled out to serve as dinners for several days.

Some of these ideas sound very strange to us but I wonder if we would not find somewhat the same conditions in any large city in which groups of elderly men, whose only support is an old age pension, live in rooming houses together. By way of contrast, following is the list of foods, recommended by the Welfare Council of New York city, which should be taken by the elderly person each day: From one pint to a quart of milk; one or more servings of fruit, with citrus fruit or tomatoes daily if possible; servings of two or more vegetables including potatoes; an egg at least every other day; one serving of meat or fish or if preferred an egg and at least three glasses of milk; enough bread, cereals and fats to maintain a desirable weight; only moderate amounts of sweets, tea, and coffee.

Edson's Washington News Notebook

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington —(NEA)— Government and private disaster relief agencies have apparently been able to do little in relocating on high groud the families or businesss establishments washed out by this year's northeastern states hurricanes and floods.

This startling fact is revealed by reports of Small Business Administration, Farmers Home Administration and the National Red Cross. These reports cover 37 million dollars' worth of aid they administered up to Nov. 10.

This aid covers only 8 per cent of Department of Commerce's estimated 457 million dollars damage from Hurricane Dianne alone. This estimate included seven million dollars farm damage, 67 million dollars housing damage and 217 million dollars commercial and industrial damage. Highway, street and bridge damage was estimated at 81 million dollars, public and private utility damage at 79 million dollars and miscellaneous damage six million dollars additional.

CONGRESSIONAL and executive departments of the federal government are currently studying the possibility of issuing some new form of storm insurance. It is likely that the legislation will be introduced in the next session of Congress.

But none of the studies has thus far paid much attention to the simple fact that the best form of flood insurance is to refrain from building on locations that may be flooded.

American Red Cross officials in Washington explain that in cases where floods have washed right through a property and destroyed the land, they help families relocate on high ground.

Or if a city or county government condemns sites as unsafe for future occupancy, Red Cross aids relocation.

If a site remains intact, however, Red Cross leaves it up to the people of each location whether they will rebuild or not.

If flood victims were moved from uncondemned locations, Red Cross officials point out, others might move right in on the vacant sites.

THE RED CROSS aid program for this year's hurricane and flood victims has now been practically completed. The final figures are expected to be about 15,000 families helped at a cost of 15 million dollars. The average relief is thus $1000.

Small Business Administration 3 per cent disaster relief loan applications have practically all been handled. About 95 per cent of the loans have gone to small businesses, 5 per cent for new housing. The final total is expected to be around 1600 loans issued for nearly 25 million dollars, for an average of under $15,000 apiece.

SBA points out that many of its borrowers have to rebuild on old sites because damage was not complete. Disaster loans aren't made to cover relocation of an entire plant. Approximately 10 per cent of SBA loan applications are rejected.

Farmers Home Administration has so far made only 21 hurricane and flood relief loans for a total of $78,000. But FHA has 300 applications for loans pending. It expects to close around 200 by Jan. 1. Others will be issued next spring, when farmers need money to put in new crops.

THIS IS THE SUMMARY of Red Cross and SBA loans so far:

State	Red Cross Families Aided	Red Cross Amount	Small Business Admin. Loans Granted	Small Business Admin. Amount
Connecticut	2258	$ 8,515,959	718	$12,988,016
Massachusetts	1907	1,576,819	296	4,816,950

The Crossroads Crypt

The tomb of Margrave Karl Wilhelm (1679-1738) is located in the center of the market place of the city of Karlsruhe, Germany, of which he was the founder. The body was originally laid to rest within a church. Seventy-four years after his interment the church was demolished but the grave was left undisturbed, so that now the commerce of the city swirls around the crypt of its founder. Curiously enough the name of the city means "Charles' Rest."

Coalition in Congress Seen Halting Radicalism Return

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Nov. 22—It's a tribute to the power of reiteration that, if an inaccuracy is repeated often enough, it begins to be accepted as truth. Thus, Adlai Stevenson told a nation-wide audience last Saturday night that the Democrats "won both Houses of Congress in 1954." Many other speakers have been saying the same thing in recent months.

The fact is that the Democrats didn't "win" the Senate. They tied it. And if Mr. Stevenson thinks a tie score is the same as a victory, he is likely to lose the football vote next year.

After the 1954 election the Republicans had enrolled forty-eight Senators and the Democrats forty-eight. But the Republicans also had the Vice-President's vote, so the vote stood forty-nine Republicans to forty-eight Democrats. When, after the election, one Senator, who had been nominated in a Republican primary in 1950 and elected that year as a Republican, switched his allegiance, this gave control to the Democrats last January by one vote. That's a far different thing, however, from achieving a victory at the polls in November, 1954.

Somewhat the same thing happened in the House of Representatives in 1930, midway in the term of President Hoover. The Republicans won 220 House seats and the Democrats 214 but, due to deaths on the Republican side, control shifted from the Republicans to the Democrats. It wasn't a victory for the Democrats in November, 1930, but it is often erroneously referred to as such.

IN THE MIDDLE of President Truman's first term, the Republicans won both Houses of Congress, but in 1948 Mr. Truman won and the Democrats recovered control of both Houses of Congress. So a victory for one party in mid-term doesn't necessarily foreshadow a triumph by the same party in the next Presidential election.

Yet it is repeatedly said that, when the House changes over during the middle of a Presidential term, the party that won Congress "usually" wins the next Presidential campaign. Not only was this proved wrong in 1948 but even the 1910 precedent is ambiguous. For, while in 1910 the Democrats won the House, they failed in 1912 to poll the majority vote in the nation. Only the fact that there were two Republican nominees in the field to split the ticket gave the Democrats their control of Congress. On a straight-party vote, the Republicans, polled more than the Democrats.

Disaffection here and there among Congressional districts has often led to an overturn in seats in local contests. Thus in 1953, due to the firm recession, the Republicans lost a special election in Wisconsin and in 1954, when economic conditions turned sour, the Republicans lost a few more seats here and there.

BUT JUST as the 1946 victory of the Republicans was erased in economic conditions, so may the 1956 elections overcome for the Republicans the losses they sustained in 1954? There is no rule of thumb about it. Each election stands on its own feet and is based on the then existing conditions.

There were, of course, in 1955 some serious evidences of disaffection inside the Republican organizations—as, for instance in Indiana—but in New Jersey, where in 1954 factional bitterness has prevailed inside the party, the Republicans in 1955 retained control of both houses of the State Legislature despite the election of a Democrat as governor the year before.

There is not the slightest evidence from recent elections that the country is ready to turn back to the radicalism of the New Deal for the Fair Deal. Mr. Truman hailed Stevenson's speech of last Saturday night as "the best New Deal speech" he ever heard the former Illinois Governor make. Yet Harriman didn't like it and criticized Stevenson's use of "moderation" as an Eisenhower word.

If there's to be competition between Harriman and Stevenson as to who is the better exponent of New Dealism, the 1956 campaign can be forecast even this early. The country is not in a radical mood and is, on the whole, satisfied with the moderate approach taken by the Eisenhower administration.

The best evidence of this is the way the bipartisan coalition which kept Trumanism in check is still operating. A combination of Democratic anti-radicals and a solid Republican vote brought about the passage of the Taft-Hartley act and also the subversive control law—both over Truman vetoes.

Idealogically speaking, therefore, an anti-radical coalition rules today in Congress, and Trumanism can hardly get any real comfort out of the 1954 tie in the Senate or the small margin of seats that the Democrats won in the House.

IF ECONOMIC conditions continue as they are today, the Republicans will win both Houses of Congress in 1956 with a mandate against radicalism. The arguments which Messrs. Stevenson, Harriman and Kefauver are making to try to prove that the Democrats are the party of the "poor" while the Republicans are the party of the "rich" will not be persuasive. It will be hard, for instance, to convince the voters that poverty stalks in the land when even Democrats can afford to put up $100-a-plate for the privilege of eating at the party dinners.

Dewey Addresses Local Woman's Club

Rosendale, Nov. 21 — Ralph Dewey, Civilian Defense chairman for the town of Rosendale, was guest speaker at a recent meeting of the Rosendale Womans Club. The speaker suggested that the club organize a group of women to take a 16 weeks course in medical aid and that he would be willing to help in any way that he could. Mrs. Robert Demarest accepted the position of chairman of a committee to organize such a group. Dewey stated that teen-agers could assist greatly at these classes, acting as patients.

Women in the town, as well as high school students or girl or boy scouts who would be interested in taking or participating in this medical aid course should contact Mrs. Demarest. It was pointed out that this course is much more extensive than the first aid course which many took during the second World War.

The meeting was opened with a song, "America," led by Mrs. Eugene Galvin, in honor of Veteran's Day.

A request was received from the American Legion asking each member to write individually to the district congressman in regard to flood control. Stationery, as well as names and addresses of the congressmen, may be obtained from the Duffy Agency on Main street.

Frank Fusco of Warner Brothers Studios in New York, painted and donated the Loan Closet sign which has been installed at the Grange hall.

About Women . . .

Detroit (AP) — Cletus Kennelly bossed women around for 44 years. You'd think he'd know all the answers about them. But on his retirement as a traffic manager for the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. he commented: "I don't think I would know any more about them in 44 more years." But he did give out with one bit of insight he had gained: Women love kind words and a little flattery—"but they can read through insincerity with frightening accuracy. Don't try to fool them."

We Can Do Everything Better, Says Stevenson

Washington, Nov. 21 (AP)—Adlai Stevenson himself, without saying so, put his finger on the No. 1 problem facing the Democrats in trying to persuade the voters to throw the Republicans out in 1956.

"America," he said in a speech Saturday night, "is well and strong above all nations in all times. We are the luckiest people in the world and we know it."

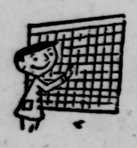
Many people aren't clear on just what stocks and bonds are. For example, a recent nation-wide survey showed that only about 23% could correctly describe common stocks. This advertisement is part of a series being published to broaden understanding of investments. We hope you'll find it informative.

What's the difference between Common Stocks, Preferred Stocks and Bonds?

1. When you buy bonds, you lend a company money. You become its creditor. The company promises to pay you back on a certain date and to pay you interest (usually a fixed rate) during the term of the loan.

2. When you buy stock -- either common or preferred--you buy an ownership interest in a company ... its plant, inventories and other assets. If a company prospers and grows, you can share in the increased earnings. If it doesn't, dividends may be cut or omitted.



3. The advantages of bonds. Bond prices tend to be more stable than stock prices, although they, too, fluctuate to some extent. The return paid, although usually smaller, tends to be more certain. A company must pay all bond interest before it can declare a dividend on its stock.

4. Preferred vs. common stock. The main advantage of preferred stock: a company must pay dividends to its preferred shareowners before it pays any to the owners of its common stock. The main advantage of common stock: when a company is prospering, it can declare increased dividends to common stockholders (preferred usually pays a fixed dividend).

PLANTED FOR KEEPS—Irene Robinson drives a penny into a "penny plant" at an Elk Rapids, Mich., drive-in restaurant. Penny-driving has become so popular with the restaurant's customers that the cedar post is rapidly filling up with coins driven halfway into the wood. When room runs out, the "plant" will be presented to charity.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

Everytime someone comes up with a piece of old glass right away they want to know all about the glass factories of this section. I have never found any lengthy detailed report on the glass factories around here, a bit of information here and there, like the following: "The Honesdale glass factory, built in 1872, is being demolished . . . end of one of Honesdale's oldest industries." this taken from The Kingston Weekly Freeman of Thursday, Sept. 11, 1902. "In operating the plant two companies 'went broke.' Glass was first made there in 1816 by six Germans, but distance from market and lack of capital made their enterprise a failure, though they made glass of fine quality. The plant passed through several hands, none of which grew rich, and it was finally burned in 1848. Another glass plant was built in Honesdale in 1847, and that firm also soon failed. A large shipment of glass went to California, and the owners went broke waiting to get paid for it. James Brookfield then ran the plant successfully from 1849 to 1861 when it was unfortunately swept away by flood and the money that he made was the only money ever realized in the glass business in that valliage." No doubt much of that glass is still around these parts, for that was during the famous D and H Canal days when folks traveled back and forth from Rondout to Honesdale.

Back in 1902 cows were plentiful in this section and sometimes were a transportation problem. One item reads: "Cattle guards are being placed at every grade crossing of a public highway on the West Shore railroad. Heretofore the guards have been placed only where requested, but now every crossing is to be guarded, even though there is not a cow within ten miles." I wonder if they still have them, and what they look like.

If I look long enough I find some strange items in the old newspapers. I wonder how many remember the Universale Typewrite Co. of Esopus, Ulster county which took out papers of incorporation September, 1902. They intended to manufacture and sell typewriters and supplies. The capital stock was $100,000, divided into $100 shares. The directors of the first year were: Edward T. Maguffin, Martin Conboy and Herbert S. Murphy of New York city. "I wonder what ever came of it. Now a half a century later we have the worlld renowned IBM company here.

One often wonders how a fad starts. For instance rustic furniture came about through Miss Helen Gould's idea of purchasing a half a carload of rustic furniture for the use of guests at her lovely Roxbury summer home. The furniture was without a particle of polish, and in most cases the natural bark remained. Once the other summer resorts heard about it, they sent in large orders for the same and the entire visible supply was completely sold out. Rustic, unfinished chairs were bringing in three times their price of the previous week, and the demand greatly exceeded the supply. So the rustic furniture fad was started back in the summer of 1902 by Miss Helen Gould, and I think the furniture is popular, with some variations, to this day.

Estate Planners Schedule Session At Siena College

The second annual Estate Planner's Day for northeastern New York will be held at Siena Collage on Saturday, Dec. 10, under the sponsorship of the principal trust companies of the Capital District and the Business Division of Siena College.

Designed especially for attorneys, trust officerss, accountants, life underwriters and others interested in the planning of estates, the program will be highlighted by a panel discussion by a distinguished group of tax and estate planning experts.

Chairman of the panel will be Albert Mannheimer, a New York city attorney and an expert in the estate planning field. Participating with him on the panel will be Elmer Fingar, trust officer of the National Bank of Westchester, White Plains; Robert Lawthers of the New England Mutual Life Insurance Company in Boston, Mass; and Joel Irving Friedman, the well-known trust attorney from New York city.

The all day meeting will begin at 10 a. m. Luncheon will be at one o'clock at the college to be followed by an afternoon session ending at 4 p. m.

Admission to the Estate Planner's Day will be by reservation only.

Russell E. Newkirk, Albany tax attorney, and David Colbert of the Siena College Faculty are co-directors.

Probe Attorney Named

New York, Nov. 22 (AP) — A special assistant attorney general was named yesterday to head the state's probe into alleged voting irregularities in Putnam valley last Nov. 8. Whitnam Knapp of New York will conduct the investigation of complaints that persons with legal residence outside the Putnam county community voted there in the last election.

Helen Hayes Honored

New York, Nov. 22 (AP)—Helen Hayes, an actress for 50 of her 55 years, last night was given a rare theatrical honor—a Broadway Theatre was named for her. Miss Hayes is the second living actress to be so honored on Broadway. The other is Ethel Barrymore. After making her stage debut in her native Washington in 1905, when she was not quite five years old, Miss Hayes went on to become one of the nation's foremost actresses.

Cadillac

Half its Horsepower is for Safety!

A pretty steep hill, you'd say?

Well, not so far as this gentleman is concerned. He just gave the accelerator a little encouragement with his toe . . . and swept from bottom to top so effortlessly he was scarcely aware of it.

For he's at the wheel of a beautiful new 1956 Cadillac. And beneath that long, sleek, graceful hood rests the smoothest, most powerful engine in Cadillac history.

The fact is that this great new Cadillac engine is powerful and dynamic far beyond the requirements of normal usage. In the course of ordinary motoring, it is entirely possible that the driver will never have to put the accelerator down to the floor board.

But how wonderful that extra length of throttle will be if he does need it!

It will be there to give him that extra burst of speed that can carry him free from a difficult driving situation.

It will be there in case he needs it for safety in passing . . . or to answer the challenge of a mountain road.

And even when not in active use, it will add to his motoring pleasure.

It will bring him confidence and contentment and peace of mind . . .

. . . and it will provide the kind of operating economy and dependability that can come only from a motor car that literally loafs at the legal limits of the highway.

Of course, Cadillac's magnificent performance is only part of the exciting Cadillac story for 1956. There is inspiring beauty . . . and extraordinary luxury . . . and superlative craftsmanship. For this is, literally, the Cadillac of Cadillacs.

Why not stop in soon and let us show you what we mean?

We've got the keys and the car—all you have to provide is an hour of your time.

We can promise you . . . it will be the most revealing sixty minutes you ever spent at the wheel of a motor car.

Many people aren't clear on just what stocks and bonds are. For example, a recent nation-wide survey showed that only about 23% could correctly describe common stocks. This advertisement is part of a series being published to broaden understanding of investments. We hope you'll find it informative.

What's the difference between Common Stocks, Preferred Stocks and Bonds?

1. When you buy bonds, you lend a company money. You become its creditor. The company promises to pay you back on a certain date and to pay you interest (usually a fixed rate) during the term of the loan.

2. When you buy stock – either common or preferred–you buy an ownership interest in a company ... its plant, inventories and other assets. If a company prospers and grows, you can share in the increased earnings. If it doesn't, dividends may be cut or omitted.

3. The advantages of bonds. Bond prices tend to be more stable than stock prices, although they, too, fluctuate to some extent. The return paid, although usually smaller, tends to be more certain. A company must pay all bond interest before it can declare a dividend on its stock.

4. Preferred vs. common stock. The main advantage of preferred stock: a company must pay dividends to its preferred shareowners before it pays any to the owners of its common stock. The main advantage of common stock: when a company is prospering, it can declare increased dividends to common stockholders (preferred usually pays a fixed dividend).

Before you invest, get the facts. Investing is a serious business and has risks as well as rewards. Be sure to get the help of a partner or a registered representative of a Member Firm of the New York Stock Exchange. He can give you facts about the 1,522 common and preferred stocks and the 739 corporate bonds listed on the Exchange. And his information and advice won't cost you a penny. Be certain, too, that you have adequate savings to cushion your family against emergencies.

WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD E. THIBAUT, Jr.

Women's Group Meet To Discuss Nursery

Woodstock, Nov. 21—Provided an adequate working group can be formed to operate a cooperative nursery school in this village ,the school may be started again for pre-school children.

On Tuesday evening, Nov. 15, a group of eight women met at the Woodstock Health Center to discuss the possibility of reviving the nursery school which last year had operated as the Tinker Street Cooperative Nursery School. Present at the meeting were Mrs. Paul Perlman, Mrs. Margaret Wetterau, Mrs. Carson Hutchins, Mrs. Mary Ann Thomas, Mrs. Bobby Williams, Mrs. Vivian Moskowitz, Mrs. Ines Finkel and Mrs. Aart Vos.

Mrs. Perlman, Mrs. Wetterau, and Mrs. Hutchins were members of the original Cooperative Nursery School and in their custody is about $1,000 worth of equipment, as well as $200 which remained in the treasury when the organization was disolved. This equipment and the funds are available to be turned over to any group properly set up to operate a nursery school in the same manner.

Mrs. Thomas, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Finkel, and Mrs. Moskowitz are all mothers of nursery age children who have also had experience in teaching or handling children's groups and who are willing to form the nucleus of the operating group.

Also interested is Mrs. Aart Vos who with her husband operates the Peter Pan Farm, a children's boarding place and summer camp situated about three miles from Woodstock. Mrs. Vos offers the facilities of the Peter Pan Farm and her services as director of the children. She is well qualified, having had extensive training and experience in child psychology, teaching and directing children's groups. Mr. Vos will pick up the children and return them.

The project thus hinges only on getting a large enough group of interested persons together to form the cooperative organization. Any mothers of children between two and a half and five, or any others who are interested enough in children to help operate a nursery school, may call any one of the following: Mrs. Williams, Woodstock, Mrs. Finkel, Mrs. Thomas and Mrs. Moskowitz.

Motor Club Committee Names Officers Slate

Woodstock Nov. 21 — The Woodstock Motor Club met Wednesday night at the club house on the recreation field. It was announced that entries from the Woodstock Club would be in the Empire Motor Club rally, Sunday, Nov. 20 at Troy.

The nominating committee offered the following slate of officers to be elected at the second meeting in December: James Smith, president; Francis R. Gardner, vice president; Gus Lovy, treasurer; Gordon Van der Bogart, assistant treasurer; Marion Gardner, secretary; and Anne Gardner, assistant secretary. The ballots will be in the next issue of "Car Chatter" and club members are to use these ballots for their nominations and voting.

There was a discussion about the annual banquet.

Missionary to Speak To Reformed Church

Woodstock, Nov. 21 — The service at the Reformed Church on Sunday at 11 a. m. will find Paul Arnold in the pulpit with the Rev. Harvey I. Todd, pastor. Mr. Arnold is now in Gardiner, and earlier this year he and his family returned from Africa where he was a missionary in the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan several years.

He will tell of his experiences working with these primitive people near the borders of Ethiopia along the Upper Nile.

The Christian Endeavor Society will meet at 7:30 p. m.

Attention is being given to the pen and ink drawing of the center of the village which was made by Elstin Drogseth several years ago and which is on display in the window of Cousins Home Appliance Shop. This has been presented for the Mildred W. Todd Organ Memorial Fund by Mrs. Drogseth and offers for it are now being accepted by Lamonte Simpkins.

The fund itself is growing in size from week to week and now stands at $800.

Village Notes

Woodstock, Nov. 21—Mr. and Mrs. George Hastings and their daughter, Rada were the weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Semmler, Mrs. Hastings parents. Also the guest of Semmlers for the weekend was Mrs. Lydie Quasebarth of New York, who is head stylist for a textile firm.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Leshen and their children and Mrs. Anna Kamen will go to Brooklyn for Thanksgiving.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Elliott became parents of a daughter born last Thursday at Kingston Hospital.

Miss Razelle Champanier celebrated her 8th birthday with a party at her home Saturday afternoon. Among those present were: Helen Stern, Carol Elaine Cousins, Susie Perlman, Polly Wilson, Charles and Bobby Strickland, Robin Walker and Martin Greenberg.

Mrs. Maurice Hamilton, wife of the editor and publisher of the Woodstock Press, arrived in Woodstock Monday. She will make her home in Boarsville.

Mrs. George Behrens will leave for her home in Florida on Tuesday.

Herbert Wyman has returned after visiting for several days in Montclair, N. J.

Woodstock, Nov. 21 — The Woodstock Elementary School will begin the Thanksgiving vacation Wednesday at 12 noon. School will resume the following Monday.

Woodstock, Nov. 21 — Ladies Night of the Rotary Club was held at Deanie's upstairs dining room, Saturday evening. It was reported to be a good evening with 60 guests present. Porky Provenzano's band played for dancing following the dinner.

There are now 31 members of the Woodstock Rotary Club.

Moose Are Ringers

Grand Rapids, Mich. (AP)—The city's public museum, which exhibits just about every mammal in Michigan, has been caught with three imposters—a moose bull, a cow and a calf. The three came from Wyoming because, say museum officials, it's easier to bag the animals on a Wyoming hunting trip than to unsnarl the red tape surrounding Michigan's protected herd on Isle Royale.

Remembers Forgetting

Richmond, Va. (AP)—One of the things best remembered by Dr. James A. Jones Jr., new president of Union Theological Seminary here, is something he forgot. A young couple stood at the altar in his church which was full of their friends. No preacher appeared to marry them. Phone calls to Dr. Jones' home and various hospitals failed to locate him. Another preacher was located and the wedding knot was tied. Dr. Jones said he was so engrossed in the difficulties of a family in his church that he forgot the time of the wedding. "Those youngsters were good friends of mine," said Dr. Jones. "Fortunately, they still are."

Women's Group Meet To Discuss Nursery

Woodstock, Nov. 21—Provided an adequate working group can be formed to operate a cooperative nursery school in this village ,the school may be started again for pre-school children.

On Tuesday evening, Nov. 15, a group of eight women met at the Woodstock Health Center to discuss the possibility of reviving the nursery school which last year had operated as the Tinker Street Cooperative Nursery School. Present at the meeting were Mrs. Paul Perlman, Mrs. Margaret Wetterau, Mrs. Carson Hutchins, Mrs. Mary Ann Thomas, Mrs. Bobby Williams, Mrs. Vivian Moskowitz, Mrs. Ines Finkel and Mrs. Aart Vos.

Mrs. Perlman, Mrs. Wetterau, and Mrs. Hutchins were members of the original Cooperative Nursery School and in their custody is about $1,000 worth of equipment, as well as $200 which remained in the treasury when the organization was disolved. This equipment and the funds are available to be turned over to any group properly set up to operate a nursery school in the same manner.

Mrs. Thomas, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Finkel, and Mrs. Moskowitz are all mothers of nursery age children who have also had experience in teaching or handling children's groups and who are willing to form the nucleus of the operating group.

Also interested is Mrs. Aart Vos who with her husband operates the Peter Pan Farm, a children's boarding place and summer camp situated about three miles from Woodstock. Mrs. Vos offers the facilities of the Peter Pan Farm and her services as director of the children. She is well qualified, having had extensive training and experience in child psychology, teaching and directing children's groups. Mr. Vos will pick up the children and return them.

The project thus hinges only on getting a large enough group of interested persons together to form the cooperative organization. Any mothers of children between two and a half and five, or any others who are interested enough in children to help operate a nursery school, may call any one of the following: Mrs. Williams, Woodstock, Mrs. Finkel, Mrs. Thomas and Mrs. Moskowitz.

Motor Club Committee Names Officers Slate

Woodstock Nov. 21 — The Woodstock Motor Club met Wednesday night at the club house on the recreation field. It was announced that entries from the Woodstock Club would be in the Empire Motor Club rally, Sunday, Nov. 20 at Troy.

The nominating committee offered the following slate of officers to be elected at the second meeting in December: James Smith, president; Francis R. Gardner, vice president; Gus Lovy, treasurer; Gordon Van der Bogart, assistant treasurer; Marion Gardner, secretary; and Anne Gardner, assistant secretary. The ballots will be in the next issue of "Car Chatter" and club members are to use these ballots for their nominations and voting.

There was a discussion about the annual banquet.

Missionary to Speak To Reformed Church

Woodstock, Nov. 21 — The service at the Reformed Church on Sunday at 11 a. m. will find Paul Arnold in the pulpit with the Rev. Harvey I. Todd, pastor. Mr. Arnold is now in Gardiner, and earlier this year he and his family returned from Africa where he was a missionary in the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan several years.

He will tell of his experiences working with these primitive people near the borders of Ethiopia along the Upper Nile.

The Christian Endeavor Society will meet at 7:30 p. m.

Attention is being given to the pen and ink drawing of the center of the village which was made by Elstin Drogseth several years ago and which is on display in the window of Cousins Home Appliance Shop. This has been presented for the Mildred W. Todd Organ Memorial Fund by Mrs. Drogseth and offers for it are now being accepted by Lamonte Simpkins.

The fund itself is growing in size from week to week and now stands at $800.

Village Notes

Woodstock, Nov. 21—Mr. and Mrs. George Hastings and their daughter, Rada were the weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Semmler, Mrs. Hastings parents. Also the guest of Semmlers for the weekend was Mrs. Lydie Quasebarth of New York, who is head stylist for a textile firm.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Leshen and their children and Mrs. Anna Kamen will go to Brooklyn for Thanksgiving.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Elliott became parents of a daughter born last Thursday at Kingston Hospital.

Miss Razelle Champanier celebrated her 8th birthday with a party at her home Saturday afternoon. Among those present were: Helen Stern, Carol Elaine Cousins, Susie Perlman, Polly Wilson, Charles and Bobby Strickland, Robin Walker and Martin Greenberg.

Mrs. Maurice Hamilton, wife of the editor and publisher of the Woodstock Press, arrived in Woodstock Monday. She will make her home in Bearsville.

Mrs. George Behrens will leave for her home in Florida on Tuesday.

Herbert Wyman has returned after visiting for several days in Montclair, N. J.

Woodstock, Nov. 21 — The Woodstock Elementary School will begin the Thanksgiving vacation Wednesday at 12 noon. School will resume the following Monday.

Woodstock, Nov. 21 — Ladies Night of the Rotary Club was held at Deanie's upstairs dining room, Saturday evening. It was reported to be a good evening with 60 guests present. Porky Provenzano's band played for dancing following the dinner.

There are now 31 members of the Woodstock Rotary Club.

Moose Are Ringers

Grand Rapids, Mich. (AP)—The city's public museum, which exhibits just about every mammal in Michigan, has been caught with three imposters—a moose bull, a cow and a calf. The three came from Wyoming because, say museum officials, it's easier to bag the animals on a Wyoming hunting trip than to unsnarl the red tape surrounding Michigan's protected herd on Isle Royale.

I am financing my new car with The Rondout National Bank... and I'll tell you why

As one who is interested in the growth and prosperity of Kingston I believe we all should patronize local business and industry.

AND--Because I decided to finance my car with a Rondout National Bank Auto Loan. I was pleasantly surprised to find I saved nearly $50.00—because local bank loans cost less.

AND—Your auto loan can be arranged quickly and easily at the Rondout National Bank—it is much more convenient when making the monthly payments.

AND—It is important to remember by establishing your credit with the Rondout National Bank you have available the many other banking services and loans.

Raid Victims

Richmond, Va. (AP)—The air raid sirens howled and Richmonders generally took cover in the face of a mock bombing as three B-26 planes droned over the city. All but employes of the big federal building on Lombardy street. A watchman reached for the alarm to send workers to the basement shelter and sounded the fire alarm instead. All of the people in the building rushed out into the street.

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

BY HAL BOYLE

New York (AP)—Today's success story:

One of Robert W. Sarnoff's hobbies is collecting dictionaries. And to him the most important word in any dictionary right now is the word "color."

At 37 Bob, son of Brig. Gen. David Sarnoff, head of the RCA communications empire, has risen to the post of executive vice president of the National Broadcasting Co.

The job wasn't handed to him on a platter. He worked his way up in the company, and had to take his lumps along the way.

TO THE YOUNGER Sarnoff has fallen many of the chores of supervising the spending of $12 million within the next year in NBC's gigantic expanson of its color telecasting facilities. This will bring to more than $75 million the amount spent by RCA and NBC to promote color television.

"The $12 million is only a drop in the bucket to what NBC will spend on color TV in the next few years," said Bob. "We believe television will be an all-color industry in less than 10 years—and it could be a lot sooner than that."

Young Sarnoff doesn't regard color television as a gamble. He looks on video's rainbow future as a sure investment, an inevitable step that has to be taken.

HE IS IMPATIENT of critics who feel color is being rushed. . . "The mass production of color sets will put them within reach of the mass buying public," he said, adding:

"A 21-inch color set today is relatively no more expensive than a 10-inch black and white set was less than 10 years ago. There are already between 30,000 and 50,000 color sets in use and one firm alone is now turning them out at the rate of 1,000 a week."

Color is only one of the headaches the young executive has to deal with. Across his busy desk pour the problems of hundreds of radio and TV network stations, the queries of sponsors, the complaints of high-priced stars.

"THERE ARE MORE phone calls in this business than in any other in the world," said Sarnoff, who sometimes feels it might be pleasant to spend a day all alone in a dark closet, completely away from Mr. Bell's invention.

Sarnoff believes that in another decade television will be even more important than it is now.

"It will have become the actual fountainhead of most creative effort in America," he predicted.

"OPERAS ARE already coming out of it. Movies and plays will spring from it, too. It will create the stars of tomorrow as it already is creating new writers.

"In another 10 years live international TV will become commonplace. This should cut down much misunderstanding between nations, as people really see first hand how the peoples of other lands live."

Television mushroomed in a few short years into a billion-dollars-a-year industry. It still is growing so rapidly its executives find difficulty keeping up with it.

"Programs have to be set up 6 to 8 months ahead," said Sarnoff, "and one of the biggest problems is how to get rid of your daily tasks so you can find time to sit down and plan what must be done next."

How does a television executive relax from the endless high pressure he is under, pressure he sometimes wonders how he can take and still survive.

"Well, I keep tropical goldfish," said Sarnoff, smiling. "They're fascinating. At the end of the day I like to go home and watch them. They seem so free."

Today's hand is the story of a wasted opportunity. When it was actually played in this year's European championships, one of the players missed the chance.

Dummy took the first trick with the ace of diamonds, and declarer ruffed a diamond. He finessed dummy's queen of clubs, ruffed another diamond, returned to dummy with the ace of clubs, cashed the king and ace of spades, and then led dummy's last diamond.

East tamely threw a low spade, and South ruffed with the eight of hearts. South now needed only two more tricks to make his contract. He led clubs and waited for the opponents to play the trumps, thus making sure of his ninth and tenth tricks.

When the last diamond was led from the dummy, East should have ruffed with the king of hearts. This remarkable "upper cut" would have led to the defeat of the contract.

If South uses the ace of hearts to overruff, East will ruff the next club and lead the queen of spades.

If South discards a club instead of overruffing, East will hold the trick. East will then lead the queen of spades, and the defenders are sure to get three more tricks to defeat the contract.

There are many variations, but the defenders can always get four tricks if they play wisely.

Up to seven miles of wire are used in the electrical system of each new automobile.

Chamber Committee Asks Banquet Returns

Saugerties, Nov. 21—The banquet committee of the Saugerties Area Chamber of Commerce has requested that all ticket returns be made as quickly as possible in order that the committee may complete its final report.

The annual banquet was held Wednesday, Nov. 16 at the Flamingo Restaurant where nearly 100 persons attended the affair which is rated among the highlights of the Saugerties social season.

Arthur H. London, chairman announced that all persons holding tickets should return them or the remittance in the self addressed envelope which was forwarded with the original letter.

Mrs. Marzell Roming served as ticket chairman.

Saugerties, Nov. 21—The annual banquet of the Young Couples Club of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church of West Camp was held in the parish hall on Sunday evening.

A full course Virginia baked ham dinner was prepared and served by the men of the club. The menu for the annual affair is not known to the women members of the club until they are served.

Those attending this year's dinner were the Rev. and Mrs. Alvin F. With Thunderbird Y-8 power... Thunderbird styling... and exclusive new Lifeguard Design

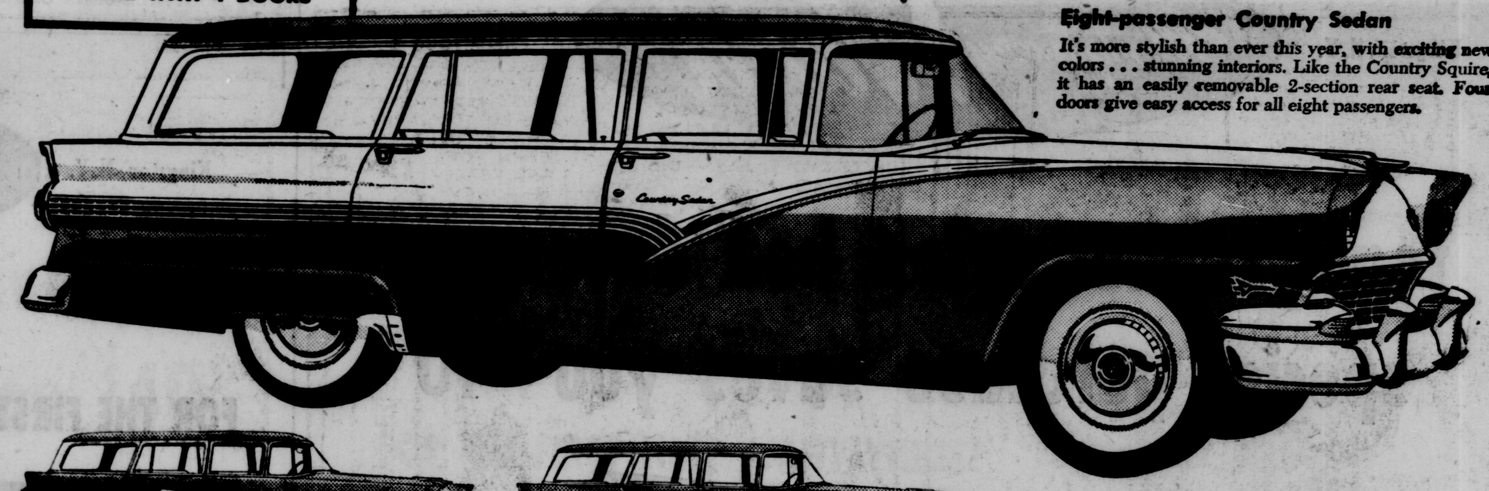
THREE WITH 4 DOORS



Eight-passenger Country Sedan
It's more stylish than ever this year, with exciting new colors . . . stunning interiors. Like the Country Squire, it has an easily removable 2-section rear seat. Four doors give easy access for all eight passengers.

Six-Passenger Country Sedan
This model is designed for those who prefer 4-door convenience with seats for six. Like all Ford Station Wagons, it has fold-into-the-floor Stowaway seat.

Country Squire
A queen among all station wagons. Mahogany-finished steel panels with wood-grained, glass-fibre moldings give woodlike beauty to this 8-passenger dreamboat.

There's more than meets the eye as to why Ford Station Wagons sell more than the two runners-up combined! Their Thunderbird beauty is apparent in all six models. But their beauty is more than skin-deep. Underneath that Thunderbird hide there's a heart of "GO"—for the Thunderbird Y-8 engine is the standard eight in all Ford Station Wagons, at no extra cost. If you need any more reasons why Ford is your soundest station wagon buy this year—look into new Lifeguard Design which was designed for your protection . . . and is found only in the '56 Ford.

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

BY HAL BOYLE

New York (AP)—Today's success story:

One of Robert W. Sarnoff's hobbies is collecting dictionaries. And to him the most important word in any dictionary right now is the word "color."

At 37 Bob, son of Brig. Gen. David Sarnoff, head of the RCA communications empire, has risen to the post of executive vice president of the National Broadcasting Co.

The job wasn't handed to him on a platter. He worked his way up in the company, and had to take his lumps along the way.

TO THE YOUNGER Sarnoff has fallen many of the chores of supervising the spending of $12 million within the next year in NBC's gigantic expanson of its color telecasting facilities. This will bring to more than $75 million the amount spent by RCA and NBC to promote color television.

"The $12 million is only a drop in the bucket to what NBC will spend on color TV in the next few years," said Bob. "We believe television will be an all-color industry in less than 10 years—and it could be a lot sooner than that."

Young Sarnoff doesn't regard color television as a gamble. He looks on video's rainbow future as a sure investment, an inevitable step that has to be taken.

HE IS IMPATIENT of critics who feel color is being rushed. . . "The mass production of color sets will put them within reach of the mass buying public," he said, adding:

"A 21-inch color set today is relatively no more expensive than a 10-inch black and white set was less than 10 years ago. There are already between 30,000 and 50,000 color sets in use and one firm alone is now turning them out at the rate of 1,000 a week."

Color is only one of the headaches the young executive has to deal with. Across his busy desk pour the problems of hundreds of radio and TV network stations, the queries of sponsors, the complaints of high-priced stars.

"THERE ARE MORE phone calls in this business than in any other in the world," said Sarnoff, who sometimes feels it might be pleasant to spend a day all alone in a dark closet, completely away from Mr. Bell's invention.

Sarnoff believes that in another decade television will be even more important than it is now.

"It will have become the actual fountainhead of most creative effort in America," he predicted.

"OPERAS ARE already coming out of it. Movies and plays will spring from it, too. It will create the stars of tomorrow as it already is creating new writers.

"In another 10 years live international TV will become commonplace. This should cut down much misunderstanding between nations, as people really see first hand how the peoples of other lands live."

Television mushroomed in a few short years into a billion-dollars-a-year industry. It still is growing so rapidly its executives find difficulty keeping up with it.

"Programs have to be set up 6 to 8 months ahead," said Sarnoff, "and one of the biggest problems is how to get rid of your daily tasks so you can find time to sit down and plan what must be done next."

How does a television executive relax from the endless high pressure he is under, pressure he sometimes wonders how he can take and still survive.

"Well, I keep tropical goldfish," said Sarnoff, smiling. "They're fascinating. At the end of the day I like to go home and watch them. They seem so free."

Tongay Surrenders To Coast Police

Los Angeles, Nov. 22 (AP)—Russell Tongay, swimming instructor imprisoned in Florida because of the diving death of his 5-year-old daughter, has surrendered here after escaping in New Orleans Nov. 13.

Florida authorities said the state cabinet there is expected to decide today on what action to take in Tongay's case. The ex-swimming coach has asked that he be allowed to remain here to obtain treatment for a lung ailment.

Tongay told reporters last night at police headquarters that he walked out of a New Orleans restaurant while a prison agent was paying the bill and hitchhiked to the west coast. He said that two hours before his escape the prison car had been in an accident and he incurred a head injury that caused temporary amnesia.

Preparing Gelatin

Use the liquid from cooked dried apricots as part of the liquid needed when you are preparing lemon gelatin. Turn the gelatin into a small square pan and chill until set. Cut the molded gelatin into squares and serve on crisp greens with cottage cheese and salad dressing. Serve for lunch after hearty bowls of split pea soup and croutons. The croutons will taste especially good if you make them by browning and crisping small squares of bread in plenty of butter or margarine.

SHE WON'T GO BACK—An Enoch Arden tale, with a reverse twist, unfolded in Canonsburg, Pa. Mrs. Lore Supinsky is happily married to her American ex-soldier husband, John. But her first husband, a former Nazi Storm Trooper, has come back from a Russian prison after being declared legally dead. He says he'll fight the "death certificate," but Mrs. Supinsky says she'll stay married to John nevertheless. The Supinskys are shown above with their children, Barbara, left, and Patricia, right.

Port Ewen Vols To Donate Blood

Members of the Port Ewen Fire Company have volunteered to donate blood at the second drawing of the newly formed town of Esopus blood bank sponsored by the town of Esopus Lions Club.

The drawing is scheduled Monday, Nov. 28 at 7 p. m. in the Kingston Laboratory.

RESIDENTS OF the town of Esopus who would like to contribute to the newly established blood bank may do so by calling Miss Mary Wiseman at Kingston Laboratory for an appointment or by contacting Louis A. Goldberg of Port Ewen, chairman of the blood bank.

Tongay Surrenders To Coast Police

Los Angeles, Nov. 22 (AP)—Russell Tongay, swimming instructor imprisoned in Florida because of the diving death of his 5-year-old daughter, has surrendered here after escaping in New Orleans Nov. 13.

Florida authorities said the state cabinet there is expected to decide today on what action to take in Tongay's case. The ex-swimming coach has asked that he be allowed to remain here to obtain treatment for a lung ailment.

Tongay told reporters last night at police headquarters that he walked out of a New Orleans restaurant while a prison agent was paying the bill and hitchhiked to the west coast. He said that two hours before his escape the prison car had been in an accident and he incurred a head injury that caused temporary amnesia.

Preparing Gelatin

Use the liquid from cooked dried apricots as part of the liquid needed when you are preparing lemon gelatin. Turn the gelatin into a small square pan and chill until set. Cut the molded gelatin into squares and serve on crisp greens with cottage cheese and salad dressing. Serve for lunch after hearty bowls of split pea soup and croutons. The croutons will taste especially good if you make them by browning and crisping small squares of bread in plenty of butter or margarine.

SHE WON'T GO BACK—An Enoch Arden tale, with a reverse twist, unfolded in Canonsburg, Pa. Mrs. Lore Supinsky is happily married to her American ex-soldier husband, John. But her first husband, a former Nazi Storm Trooper, has come back from a Russian prison after being declared legally dead. He says he'll fight the "death certificate," but Mrs. Supinsky says she'll stay married to John nevertheless. The Supinskys are shown above with their children, Barbara, left, and Patricia, right.

Withdraws Charges

Washington, Pa., Nov. 22 (AP)—Mrs. Joseph McGuane yesterday withdrew charges that 22-year-old Gary Pounds had kidnaped her recently married daughter and held her for four days. The mother had identified Pounds as a former suitor of her 19-year-old daughter Maureen, who married Albert Maga, Jr., 28, a soldier, last week. Police Chief Enoch Matthews of nearby McDonald, where Mrs. McGuane lives, previously had advised the mother not to file the charges. McDonald said he had heard several conflicting stories and advised Mrs. McGuane to await further investigation before taking any action.

THE NEW STUDEBAKER PRESIDENT CLASSIC four-door sedan, top model in the company's lines, has the big, new design and styling being introduced for 1956. The car is more than 17 feet long and almost six feet wide. Public showing is scheduled at the showrooms of Harold Halwick, 482 Albany avenue, Kingston, and P. J. Beichert, Port Ewen Garage, Broadway and Main street, Port Ewen, beginning today. Studebakers have the only complete restyling in the volume low-price field. Two-color interiors are available in a broad choice of new fabrics and vinyls, decorator-harmonized with exterior color selections. The Classic is presented by Studebaker as the highest powered car in its price class, with 210 horsepower. Along with other models in the new Studebaker lines, it has more than 30 major safety features. The new lines include 16 different basic models—12 in the President V8, Commander V8 and Champion sedans and station wagons, and four in a new sports-type line.

Widow of Jell-O Heir Gets His Fortune

West Palm Beach, Fla., Nov. 22 (AP)—Talmadge Woodward, heir to the Jell-O millions, left all but $10,000 of his estate to his widow, Mollie, 37, of Palm Beach.

The will of Woodward, who died at the age of 50 on Nov. 14, was filed for probate yesterday. No inventory of the state was made but it was valued "in excess of $50,000."

The instrument excluded two children, John K., 37, and Joan, 21, both of Rochester, N. Y., with a statement that a trust indenture provided by Woodward's mother, the late Mrs. Edith Woodward of Leroy, N. Y., had included them.

The testament of Mrs. Woodward, who died Oct. 8, set up a million-dollar trust fund for Talmadge. It provided that at his death all income from the fund would be divided equally between the grandchildren. She left 70 per cent of her estate to the University of Rochester.

Talmadge Woodward's only other bequest was $10,000 to William Cooke, manager of the Woodward Farms.

Work Stoppages Drop

A total of 375 work stoppages in effect in New York state during the first nine months of 1955 reflect a sharp drop from the 439 recorded during the corresponding period of last year, Isador Lubin, industrial commissioner of the State Labor Department, said today. The stoppages involved 132,000 workers, 5,000 less than in the January-September period of 1954. The 1,360,000 man-days of idleness amounted to 0.14 per cent of available working time, compared with 1,720,000 man-days or 0.18 per cent of available working time in the same period of the previous year.

Fire Destroys Station

New York, Nov. 22 (AP)—The abandoned Lincoln passenger station on the New York Central System's Putnam Division, about seven miles north of Grand Central Terminal, was destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon. Train service on the line was not affected, a spokesman for the New York Central said. The station is between the Van Cortlandt and Dunwoodie stations, near the city-Westchester line.

Troops Alerted To Meet Unrest In Morocco Zone

Rabat, Morocco, Nov. 22 (AP)—French reinforcements were reported on their way today toward the border of the Spanish zone of Morocco, to put down a new wave of Nationalist unrest.

French Resident General Andre DuBois told reporters last night that he had sent the commander in chief to the spot and that all necessary measures would be taken.

SULTAN Mohammed Ben Youssef issued a new appeal for calm.

"The task which awaits us is a noble one," he said. "It's full success requires a climate of order, discipline and peace. For these reasons, the building of a new Morocco should exclude all feelings of revenge and rancor."

But in Casablanca, Nationalist sent out a strike call in protest after prison guards killed at least 3 and wounded 15 political prisoners in suppressing a mutiny. Unofficial reports said there were as many as 5 dead.

SHOPS WERE closing and building workers stayed off the job. Organizers on bicycles and motorcycles covered the city to press the strike movement.

In the north; the trouble area extends along the Spanish zone frontier, about 70 miles east of the Aknoul-Boured-Tizi Ouzli triangle where a small Nationalist rebellion broke out Oct. 1.

Painting a red mark at the point of pull-out safety for drawers of tables or cabinets will save possibe injury and spilled contents.

Knoxville Man Is Slain by Friend

Knoxville, Tenn., Nov. 22 (AP)—A Knoxville man was shot and killed last night by a friend who was aiming at a pepper box atop his head. Police said the shooting came as the climax to a drinking party.

Dead is Raymond V. Baker, 40, with a pistol bullet wound in the head.

KNOX COUNTY police arrested his friend, James Bowerman, also 40, and charged him with manslaughter.

Capt. Estel Wrinkle said Bowerman and Bill McCall, 30, a witness to the shooting, gave this account:

Bowerman and Baker went to a tavern yesterday after they got off work at an iron company and drank beer. Later they went to McCall's home and drank a pint of moonshine whisky.

THEN THE trio went to Bowerman's rural home so Bowerman could feed his livestock.

While there, Bowerman showed the men his fishing equipment, rifles, a shotgun and a 32-caliber foreign-make pistol.

A discussion arose as to whether the pistol would shoot. Baker picked up a plate from a kitchen table and Bowerman shot a hole in in.

BAKER PLACED a potato on his head, but Bowerman refused to shoot it because it was "too flat."

Baker then picked up a black pepper box, set it on his head and told Bowerman:

"Be sure and don't miss that pepper box."

Bowerman backed off about 10 feet, took aim and fired.

Baker slumped into a chair with a bullet wound in the head.

Coroner Carl Hickam said the two men were the best of friends.

Poor TV Is Asset

Fort Davis, Tex. (AP)—Because Fort Davis has "the worst possible television reception," Harvard College of Cambridge, Mass., is thinking of locating its big, new telescope here. Director Donald H. Menzel of Harvard's observatory said the telescope, which will permit observation of the sun by means of radio emissions, should be located where there's no television interference.

High Winds Fan Woodstock Fire OfRoomingHouse

Woodstock, Nov. 22—Despite the threat of high winds, the Woodstock Fire Company battled a stubborn fire and brought it under control in two hours at the Beechwood Terrace rooming house on Orchard lane Monday afternoon. Fire Chief George Haythorne said that he believed from reports of the neighbors that the blaze had been smouldering for some hours inside the closed house. It was discovered by Constable Clarence Snyder, who was about to go on duty shortly after 2 p. m. Haythorne state that the cause of the balze was undetermined.

IT WAS NECESSARY at one point for firemen to chop away part of the first floor wall in the front where the fire was burning briskly and headed for the second story. Haythorne gave no estimate of the damage, but said he believed that it would be necessary to replace the first and second floorings of the house and there was other extensive damage to the building and to the contents of the house.

The property is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Gelb who were away at the time the fire was discovered.

Fire Chief Haythorne said he was impressed with the efficiency with which the Woodstock Fire Company brought the blaze under control.

Refinement Needed

Troops Alerted To Meet Unrest In Morocco Zone

Rabat, Morocco, Nov. 22 (AP)—French reinforcements were reported on their way today toward the border of the Spanish zone of Morocco, to put down a new wave of Nationalist unrest.

French Resident General Andre DuBois told reporters last night that he had sent the commander in chief to the spot and that all necessary measures would be taken.

SULTAN Mohammed Ben Youssef issued a new appeal for calm.

"The task which awaits us is a noble one," he said. "It's full success requires a climate of order, discipline and peace. For these reasons, the building of a new Morocco should exclude all feelings of revenge and rancor."

But in Casablanca, Nationalist sent out a strike call in protest after prison guards killed at least 3 and wounded 15 political prisoners in suppressing a mutiny. Unofficial reports said there were as many as 5 dead.

SHOPS WERE closing and building workers stayed off the job. Organizers on bicycles and motorcycles covered the city to press the strike movement.

In the north; the trouble area extends along the Spanish zone frontier, about 70 miles east of the Aknoul-Boured-Tizi Ouzli triangle where a small Nationalist rebellion broke out Oct. 1.

Painting a red mark at the point of pull-out safety for drawers of tables or cabinets will save possibe injury and spilled contents.

Knoxville Man Is Slain by Friend

Knoxville, Tenn., Nov. 22 (AP)—A Knoxville man was shot and killed last night by a friend who was aiming at a pepper box atop his head. Police said the shooting came as the climax to a drinking party.

Dead is Raymond V. Baker, 40, with a pistol bullet wound in the head.

KNOX COUNTY police arrested his friend, James Bowerman, also 40, and charged him with manslaughter.

Capt. Estel Wrinkle said Bowerman and Bill McCall, 30, a witness to the shooting, gave this account:

Bowerman and Baker went to a tavern yesterday after they got off work at an iron company and drank beer. Later they went to McCall's home and drank a pint of moonshine whisky.

THEN THE trio went to Bowerman's rural home so Bowerman could feed his livestock.

While there, Bowerman showed the men his fishing equipment, rifles, a shotgun and a 32-caliber foreign-make pistol.

A discussion arose as to whether the pistol would shoot. Baker picked up a plate from a kitchen table and Bowerman shot a hole in in.

BAKER PLACED a potato on his head, but Bowerman refused to shoot it because it was "too flat."

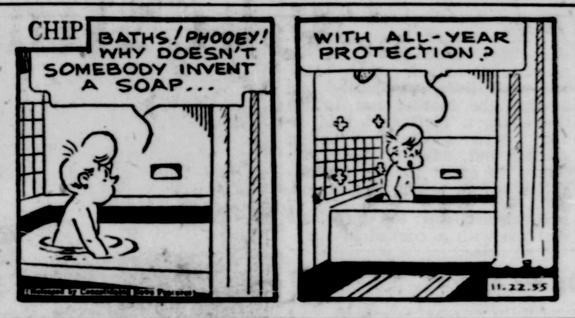
Baker then picked up a black pepper box, set it on his head and told Bowerman:

"Be sure and don't miss that pepper box."

Bowerman backed off about 10 feet, took aim and fired.

Baker slumped into a chair with a bullet wound in the head.

Coroner Carl Hickam said the two men were the best of friends.



New Food Product

Pineapple filling comes in a No. 2 can ready to use in a pie or tarts or as a cake filling. For pie use, the filling is turned into an unbaked pastry shell. As a filling for baked tart shells or cake layers, the pineapple mixture needs to be simmered for several minutes and cooled slightly before it is used.

High Winds Fan Woodstock Fire OfRoomingHouse

Woodstock, Nov. 22—Despite the threat of high winds, the Woodstock Fire Company battled a stubborn fire and brought it under control in two hours at the Beechwood Terrace rooming house on Orchard lane Monday afternoon. Fire Chief George Haythorne said that he believed from reports of the neighbors that the blaze had been smouldering for some hours inside the closed house. It was discovered by Constable Clarence Snyder, who was about to go on duty shortly after 2 p. m. Haythorne state that the cause of the balze was undetermined.

IT WAS NECESSARY at one point for firemen to chop away part of the first floor wall in the front where the fire was burning briskly and headed for the second story. Haythorne gave no estimate of the damage, but said he believed that it would be necessary to replace the first and second floorings of the house and there was other extensive damage to the building and to the contents of the house.

The property is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Gelb who were away at the time the fire was discovered.

Fire Chief Haythorne said he was impressed with the efficiency with which the Woodstock Fire Company brought the blaze under control.

BOOK REVIEW

To further increase interest in the Kingston Library the following review by Mrs. G. Cramer Dodge is published.

EXCELSIOR
By Paul Hyde Bonner 279

The locale of this novel, by the author of Hotel Tallyrand, is comparatively unused in present day fiction and has therefore a somewhat different slant upon the drama of World War 2.

The central figure of the story is Robert Eggli, head of the international Swiss banking house which bears his name and most of the action takes place in Zurich, where the main office of the bank is located.

When the story opens in 1941, just before Pearl Harbor, Robert Eggli is eighty years old, a time when most men have retired from active participation in business. But not Robert Eggli. Although he delegated certain powers to his middle-aged sons, to Walter, the elder, and to him only, the code which contained the names and numbers of the bank's many accounts and to Jacques the management of the New York branch of the bank, from each he demanded, and got, absolute and immediate compliance with his will in the decisions of all policies of the bank.

The whole Eggli family knew that, while Walter and Jacques held positions of trust and importance, in reality they were mere figureheads in the bank so long as Robert ("Grosspapa") lived. Helene, Walter's beautiful wife, was mildly derisive of her husband's weak acceptance of his father's domination. Anyway she had another interest—an absorbing love affair with a worthless and fascinating Italian art dealer.

On the other hand, Doris, Jacques' American wife, refused to live in Switzerland and so when they were in America (which was most of the time) she was able to build up her husband's ego and give him at least the appearance of independence. It was only during their annual visits to Zurich that she had to watch Jacques go all-Swiss and meekly submit to his father's will. Then she had her work to do all over again.

One member of his family was not completely under Robert's control. That was his sister, Vicky, who managed his large home since the death of his wife. "Tante Vicky" was a rattle-brained gossip but she could and did talk back to her brother and he admired her for it. But told her no secrets.

The other woman in Robert's life is beautiful Baroness Yvonne deMarty, his mistress for the past 12 years. Such was Robert's unique fascination for women that although at the time of their meeting Yvonne was about 38 years old and married for twenty years to the Baron and always loved him, she was completely swept away within hours of that first meeting. Their mutual affection and admiration started at that moment and was deep and lasting. About a year after their meeting Yvonne's husband died suddenly; her father's fortune was swept away in the crash of 1929 and Robert made a large financial settlement upon her which she, in turn, willed to Robert's descendents. Yvonne, daughter of a Jewish banker and a French actress, was not at all the self-seeking adventuress which the Eggli family thought her to be. Until she moved from Paris to Geneva and some of them met her.

These are the main personalities in the novel. Most interesting is the story told of the impact upon them of the news of Pearl Harbor. With the impersonal precision of a great banker, Robert makes an instant and accurate appraisl of the effect of the event upon the progress of the war, and acts accordingly. With traditional Swiss neutrality he arranges for the safety of the funds of the bank's accounts. With uncanny wisdom he rallies the family into a close guard to protect the banks interests. Weak spots are uncovered and stamped upon. Even Yvonne does her part with diplomatic skill.

Jacques is sent over by the U. S. government upon a secret mission. When he learns to his horror that his orders are to obtain knowledge of that part of the secret code of his father's bank covering accounts in Germany he finds that he cannot do it. Fear of his father prevents him until suddenly he learns that his own son, Robert, favorite grandson of "Grosspapa" and the one most like him, has been shot down ever Regensburg in his plane, "Excelsior," and probably lost. Then Jacques' American citizenship reasserts itself. Because of Robert's sacrifice he decides to carry out his orders and to steal the code from Walter. He almost succeeds but once more his father outwits him. Before Jacques can deliver his information which he thought he had obtained from Walter without W's knowledge, Walter warns his father in a letter delivered by Jacques. The code is immediately changed and Robert gives Jacques the last scolding of his life. In it he reveals his reason for placing the bank's safety ahead of every other consideration and of the great value which Swiss neutrality and Swiss stability can render to a post war world.

It is a revelation of the service that a great banking house is able to give—and does—to combat forces, such as communism, which might otherwise undermine efforts to establish a lasting peace.

At the end of that dramatic speech Robert dies suddenly, unaware that his grandson, Robert, will quite likely not live to succeed him—his dearest wish according to his heartbroken Yvonne.

Indonesia Medics' Burden Prevents Visits at Home

Jakarta, Indonesia, Nov. 22 (AP)—Indonesia's overworked doctors are refusing to make calls at private homes, and the provisional Parliament's health committee wants the government to punish them.

There are only 1,500 physicians in all the 3,000 islands of this republic with a population of 82 million. Doctor's offices are hopelessly jammed from dawn until midnight.

PHYSICIANS say they couldn't get out to a home needing medical assistance if they wanted to. So those who are ill must be transported to the crowded offices and wait for hours before they can be examined and get treatment. Scores of doctors even refuse to answer urgent telephone calls.

Indonesia's intellectuals complain that often persons die who could have been saved.

Dr. Hadji Ali Akbar, chairman of Parliament's Health Committee, told reporters Indonesia must do something to speed up the graduation of young doctors from medical schools and universities.

HE SAID SOME doctors were forgetting their high calling and the necessary sacrifices to minister to the sick. He cited an instance where five doctors refused to aid a stricken child. The child died en route to a physician's office.

Now the health committee is considering proposals that government doctors refusing aid be denied promotion and that private doctors who fail to minister to the sick lose the right to practice.

Physician Cleared

New York, Nov. 22 (AP)—Dr. Arnold Di Gregorio, 50-year-old physician who resides at 200 Forest Hills Road, Scarsdale, N. Y., and has an office at 4412 Carpenter avenue, the Bronx, was cleared of a rape charge yesterday by Magistrate Nicholas F. Delagi. A patient, Mrs. Mary Policastro, of the Bronx, who has been married six months, alleged that the doctor raped her when she went to his office Oct. 31 complaining of dizzy spells. The judge said he was dismissing the charge because of lack of corroboration.

Tillson

Tillson Civic Group Approves By-Laws

Tillson, Nov. 21—The regular monthly meeting of the Tillson Civic Association was held Thursday evening with about 40 members in attendance. The by-laws of the organization were read, discussed and accepted.

A committee was chosen to investigate assessments in Tillson, and to make recommendations to the organizations at the December meeting as to ways and means of suggesting to the proper officials a plan to be considered as a fair and just procedure in making assessments.

It is hoped that a larger group will attend the December meeting. A. G. Ryerson, president, presided at the meeting.

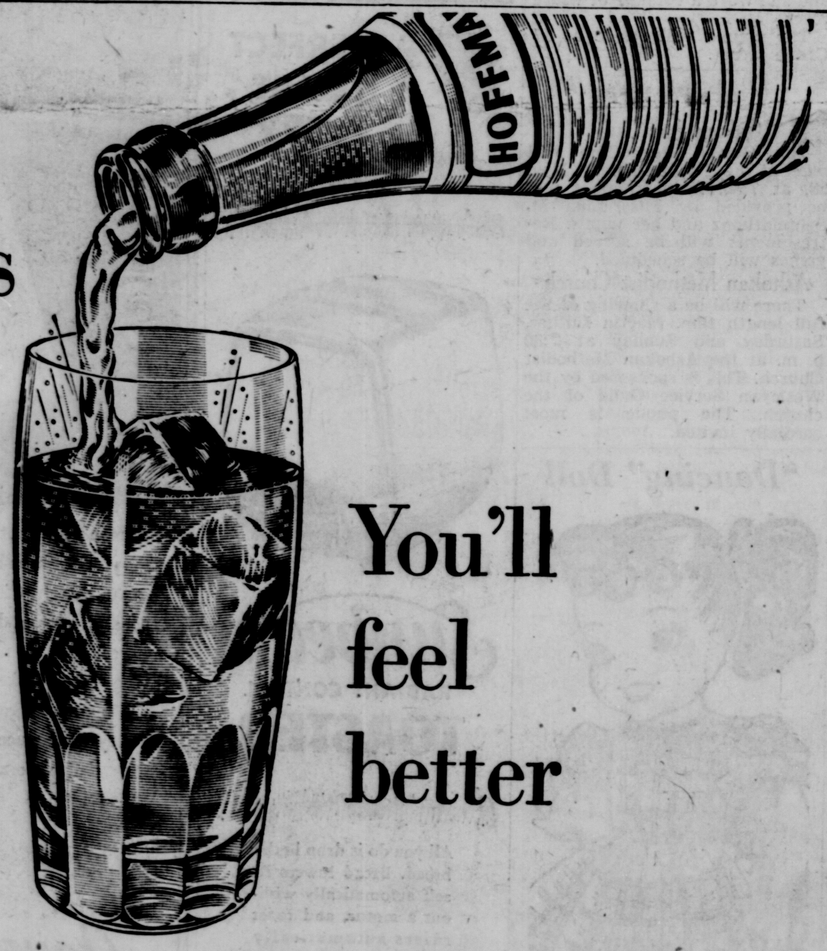
Drinks taste better



You'll feel better

when you mix with HOFFMAN

The exclusive Steady Sparkle in Hoffman mixers brings out the full flavor of your drink...keeps it sparkling, continuously alive! That's why the makers and importers of the world's finest whiskies and gins such as Ambassador's 25 Year Old Scotch Whisky have publicly endorsed and recommended Hoffman mixers as the perfect mixers for use with their product.

After Effects are minimized. Research at a world famous university has proved that Hoffman Steady Sparkle speeds the passage of alcoholic liquid through your stomach 80% faster than plain water. This cuts down acid secretion, thereby curtailing acid upsets in your system. You feel better—and it's better for you to always mix with Hoffman!

PHYSICIANS say they couldn't get out to a home needing medical assistance if they wanted to. So those who are ill must be transported to the crowded offices and wait for hours before they can be examined and get treatment. Scores of doctors even refuse to answer urgent telephone calls.

Indonesia's intellectuals complain that often persons die who could have been saved.

Dr. Hadji Ali Akbar, chairman of Parliament's Health Committee, told reporters Indonesia must do something to speed up the graduation of young doctors from medical schools and universities.

HE SAID SOME doctors were forgetting their high calling and the necessary sacrifices to minister to the sick. He cited an instance where five doctors refused to aid a stricken child. The child died en route to a physician's office.

Now the health committee is considering proposals that government doctors refusing aid be denied promotion and that private doctors who fail to minister to the sick lose the right to practice.

Top Hat Pressman

Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 22 (AP)—The boys in the pressroom at the Rochester Democrat and Chronicle were throwing a little party for Charlie Liggett, 65, who was retiring after the last edition early this morning. Liggett, a pressman for 53 years, showed up in appropriate costume: frock coat and overalls. He replaced his pressman's square paper hat with a top hat.

Tillson

Tillson Civic Group Approves By-Laws

Tillson, Nov. 21—The regular monthly meeting of the Tillson Civic Association was held Thursday evening with about 40 members in attendance. The by-laws of the organization were read, discussed and accepted.

A committee was chosen to investigate assessments in Tillson, and to make recommendations to the organizations at the December meeting as to ways and means of suggesting to the proper officials a plan to be considered as a fair and just procedure in making assessments.

It is hoped that a larger group will attend the December meeting. A. G. Ryerson, president, presided at the meeting.

Postpone Law Class

Tillson, Nov. 21 — Due to Thanksgiving Day this week there will be no Law for the Layman class Wednesday evening at the Tillson school.

P-TA Dance

Tillson, Nov. 21—The Parent-Teachers Association of the Tillson School will sponsor a jukebox dance Saturday at the school. Dancing will start at 8:15 p. m. Proceeds will be for the benefit of the P-TA and their annual projects. Refreshments will be sold during the evening at the school kitchen. A large crowd is expected to turn out for this activity, and tickets are now being sold by members of the P-TA.

Village Notes

Tillson, Nov. 21—Mr. and Mrs. Joel Woolsey and family were hosts Sunday at dinner to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Minnikine and Mr. and Mrs. John Muller and children John and Gail.

Dr. W. L. Bryan Dies

Bloomington, Ind., Nov. 22 (AP)—Dr. William Lowe Bryan, 95, whose varied associations with Indiana University from freshman to president emeritus spanned 75 years, died yesterday. He enrolled at I.U. in 1880 and received his A.B. degree in 1884. He stayed on as an instructor of Greek and later as an associate professor of philosophy while working for a master's degree. He served as president from 1902 to 1937 and as president emeritus since 1937. During his presidency the university grew from 1.335 students, 65 faculty members and 10 buildings to a full-time enrollment of 7.005, a faculty of 330 and 52 buildings.

Search Goes On

Boston, Nov. 22 (AP)—A wide sea-air search continued today for the Liberian freighter Daytona, feared lost in gale-swept seas off the Massachusetts coast with a crew of 24 aboard. Three coast guard airplanes searched in a large area about 150 miles southeast of Cape Cod. Two coast guard cutters—the Evergreen and Acushnet—have been on the scene since Sunday.

Emperor Nero wore gold sandals, but made his wife, Empress Poppaea, stick to silver ones.

May Get Off Tower

Texas Towers, 110 Miles Off Cape Cod, Nov. 22 (AP)—(Via Marine Radio Telephone)—Hopes of Thanksgiving at home cheered 37 marooned visitors on this giant radar island early today. A sudden break in the series of storms that has hit the big platform may enable them to get back aboard the tug El Sol by late afternoon today. The group was hoisted by derricks four at a time in a basket last Thursday for what had been planned as a three-hour inspection visit. A sudden storm made it too hazardous to attempt to lower the visitors back aboard ship. The El Sol ran for safety in deeper waters to ride out the storm.

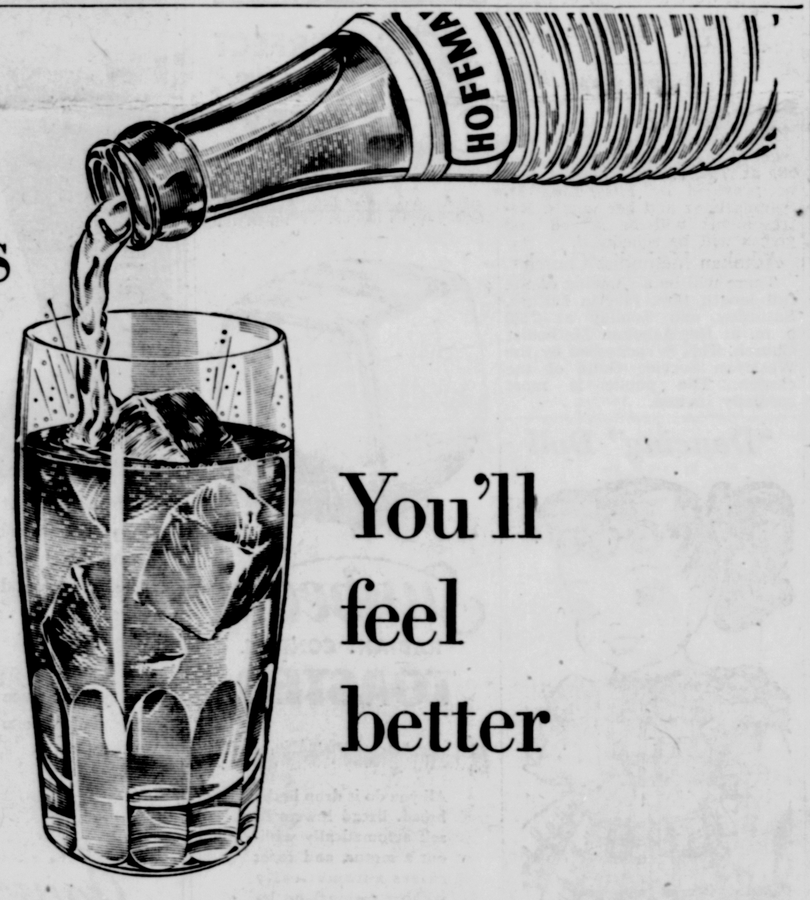
Drinks taste better



You'll feel better

when you mix with HOFFMAN

The exclusive Steady Sparkle in Hoffman mixers brings out the full flavor of your drink...keeps it sparkling, continuously alive! That's why the makers and importers of the world's finest whiskies and gins such as Ambassador's 25 Year Old Scotch Whisky have publicly endorsed and recommended Hoffman mixers as the perfect mixers for use with their product.

After Effects are minimized. Research at a world famous university has proved that Hoffman Steady Sparkle speeds the passage of alcoholic liquid through your stomach 80% faster than plain water. This cuts down acid secretion, thereby curtailing acid upsets in your system. You feel better—and it's better for you to always mix with Hoffman!

For an illustrated booklet giving full information and the name of the ranking university that conducted this research, write: Hoffman Beverage Co., 400 Grove St., Newark 6, N. J.

Suddenly you know how a jet pilot feels!

It happens like that when you drive this fabulous '56 Pontiac.

You know you're in for a thrill the moment you hear the muted purr of the exhaust as the all-new Strato-Streak V-8 comes to life.

At first you'll just want to sail along, smooth and easy, drinking in the new sensations. This long and lovely creation stops, starts, turns, moves and goes with swift and sure precision—as though in response to your wishes themselves.

You lean back luxuriously, listening to the miles whisper past. Then, ahead, you see the opportunity you've been looking for . . . the highway up front arching high over a hill. You touch the accelerator lightly—and only for a moment. Instantly, that great Strato-Streak V-8 takes over. Smooth as soaring, the rush of power catapults you up and over . . . your solo flight!

This is how it feels . . . seemingly limitless power at your command—smooth, effortless power for the slower pace of city driving, jet-fast in an emergency to flick you safely past loiterers on the highway.

By this time you're certain—Pontiac has everything—size, beauty, roadability and with it the greatest "go" and safety ever built into a car.

Drive this fabulous '56 Pontiac and find out how it feels to fly. This car will show you—fast!

Greatest "Go" On Wheels

No other car performs like a Pontiac because Pontiac alone has the Strato-Streak V-8—most modern and efficient power plant in the industry. For 1956 this great engine delivers 227 blazing horsepower! For the "go" of the year, go Pontiac!

Try the terrific take-off of the fabulous

MR. AND MRS. FRANK E. KENNELLY JR.
(John L. Crosby)

Diamond-Kennelly Nuptials Are Held

Miss Mary Theresa Diamond, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Diamond of 21 Hanratty street, became the bride of Frank Edward Kennelly Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Kennelly Sr., of 34 Tompkins street, Sunday, Nov. 20 at St. Peter's Church. The Rev. William Reynolds performed the double ring ceremony.

The church was decorated with white pompons and chrysanthemums.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and she wore a gown of Chantilly type lace, styled with a fitted bodice, long tapered sleeves and a bateau neckline. The full length skirt paneled in lace and tulle terminated in a sweep train. The crown of seed pearls and lace secured a three quarter length French illusion veil and she carried a white satin prayer book with white roses.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Christian H. Ortlieb, Jr., sister of the bride, from Paramus, N. J. She wore a rippled green nylon net fashioned with a molded bodice and bouffant handkerchief, tiered skirts, with a matching hat. She carried a cascade bouquet of yellow roses with matching ribbon.

A niece of the bride's, Nancy Ortlieb, was the flower girl and she wore a pale lavender wasp-waisted taffeta dress with a skirt of tulle over taffeta. She carried a miniature hand bouquet of yellow roses with matching ribbon.

William Mulligan of Utica avenue, Brooklyn, was best man for his nephew.

Ushers included Francis Diamond, brother of the bride and Donald Gallagher, brother-in-law of the bride.

A reception was held at the Capri for approximately 150 guests.

Miss Diamond graduated from St. Peter's School and the Kingston High School, class of 1949. She is employed by the Hercules Powder Company.

The bridegroom attended schools in Brooklyn and served four years in the U. S. Navy.

He is employed by Cornell Steamboat Company.

For her wedding trip, the bride chose a gray tweed suit with gray and white accessories and she wore a corsage of white roses.

The couple will reside at 17 Crane street.

Including Hosts

"A friend of mine who lives in another city recently spent a week with relatives who live here in this city. During her visit I invited her to dinner at my house but did not invite her hosts as I knew them only casually. I was quite taken back when she declined my invitation saying that she could not go without her hosts. Thereupon I invited them too. Was I wrong in not inviting them in the first place? In other words, is it necessary when inviting a house guest to dine with you, to include her hosts as well?"

Although it isnt a hard and fast rule, it is certainly courteous to do so.

Reception for Out-of-Town Bride

Dear Mrs. Post: My son's fiancee's parents live in a distant city. The bride-to-be lives and works in this city and intends to be marred here. Her parents will come to the wedding but they will not be able to arrive more than a day or two bfore the wedding and it will be impossible for them to make preparations for a wedding reception. Under the circumstances, would it be proper for my husband and I to give the wedding reception for them?

Answer: Yes, in your case it would be all right.

The Messrs.

Dear Mrs. Post: Would "The Messrs. Brown" be correct if used on a card enclosed with a gift?

Answer: "The Messrs. Brown" could not possibly be used as a signature. Either enclose two visiting cards and cross off "Mr." on each, or sign a blank card with both names.

Sorosis Hears Paper Given on Africa

"Ethiopia, Africa's oldest, independent Christian nation, is 95 per cent illiterate," said Miss Katherine Riseley, at a meeting of Sorosis on Monday, Nov. 14, at the home of Mrs. Harry Parker Van Wagenen.

Miss Riseley went on to say that Ethiopia is a land, many centuries old, whose first ruler, according to legend, was the son of King Solomon and the Queen of Sheba. The rulers have ever since been direct descendants. Their Biblical traditions are apparent in the land today.

Addis Ababa, according to Miss Riseley, is the present capital of these proud people. Aksum, the ancient capital, has great obelisks made of single pieces of granite, the origins of which are unknown. The soil is deep, rich and black and Ethiopia could easily become a great food producing country for the people of other lands."

Ethiopia, Miss Riseley told Sorosis, was a charter member of the United Nations and sent troops to fight in Korea. It was pointed out that Haile Selassie, the emperor, is doing his best to bring modern customs and ideas to his people as soon as possible and to gain this end has surrounded himself with foreign advisors and is using their experience and knowledge to bring about a modern country.

Mrs. Harry Parker Van Wagenen, president, conducted the business meeting which preceded Miss Riseley's talk. A communication was read from Mrs. J. Howard Hodge, chairman of safety of the General Federation of Women's Clubs. The club went on record as favoring enforcement of the existing traffic laws. Cooperation of other women's clubs in this area will be sought for participation in a safety campaign.

Mrs. Deweese DeWitt spoke of the radio broadcasts for the local Red Feather campaign and urged more parent responsibility in the problems of juvenile delinqency.

Extension Service Schedules Lessons On Holiday Breads

The Ulster County Extension Service Association Home Demonstration Department is sponsoring two district demonstration meetings on the making of holiday breads. Mrs. Michael Domanic of Highland will demonstrate the making of Czechoslovakian Walnut Horns and Mrs. Sam Kenik of Kingston will demonstrate the making of Hungarian Coffee Cake and Stollen.

The first section on Nov. 28 will be held in Saugerties in the Methodist Church Hall. The second section on Nov. 29 will be held in the Methodist Church Hall in Ellenville. The meetings will start promptly at 1:30 p. m. The homemakers demonstrating will tell about the festive occasions on which these breads are served. Anyone interested in seeing and learning how to make the breads is invited to attend the meeting.

Mothers' Association Plans Card Party

At a recent meeting of the Mothers' Association of St. Joseph's School, plans were discussed for a card party to be held in the school hall Thursday, Jan. 26.

Mrs. Edmund Cloonan, chairman, and Mrs. Harold Cates, co-chairman, announced the following committee chairmen: Mrs. Henry Bruck, arrangements; Mrs. Raymond Mino, tickets; Mrs. John Burych, prizes; Mrs. Harold O'Connor, refreshments.

Tickets will be available at the door and the public is invited.

YW Fellowship Service

Rabbi Herbert Bloom will be the guest speaker at the World Fellowship Service tonight at the YWCA.

There will also be a 14 minute presentation of a recorded interview of a national YWCA representative interviewing girls from four different countries.

Refreshments will be served, and the public is invited.

Poster Winners For Kiwanis Show Are Made Known

Winners in the Kiwanis Kapers poster contest among art students of Kingston High School were announced today.

First place went to Priscilla Thomas, second to Judy Clark and third to Bill Mergendahl.

TWENTY-EIGHT posters, plugging the Kapers which will be presented by the local Kiwanis Club at the Kingston High School auditorium on November 28-29, were entered in the contest.

The judges reported all 28 posters excellent and said they had a hard time making their final selection. The posters were judged on originality and readability.

THE POSTERS are being placed in show windows throughout the city.

Judges for the contest, for which nominal prizes were offered, were G. Herbert DeKay, Elmer Rylance, Francis Palen, Jr., Mortimer Englander and John Warren. John Schomer was chairman of the committee in charge of the contest.

Y-Teens Hold Hudson Valley Conference In Kingston; 99 Teen-agers Attend

Teen-agers from Gloversville, Schenectady, Albany, Troy, Cohoes, Hudson, Newburgh, and Poughkeepsie congregated for a weekend conference held at the YWCA November 18-20 for the annual YWCA Y-Teen Fall Conference. The girls studied and worked on the theme of "Inclusiveness in the YWCA."

Dr. S. Andhil Fineberg was the guest speaker for the conference. Dr. Fineberg is listed in "Whos Who in America" as an author and has written several outstanding books on how to combat prejudice. He is an authority on human relations and was sent by the U. S. State Department to Germany for three months to help solve human relations problems there. He is a Rabbi, by profession, and for the last 16 years has been the Community Relations Consultant of the American Jewish Committee.

The Misses Myrna Donaldson and Patricia Arnold served as teen-age co-chairmen for the conference.

Mrs. Malcolm Sargent, YWCA teen-age director, served as adult director of the conference. Mrs. Ruth Buchwalter, eastern regional field staff, represented the YWCA national organization.

At the final session on Sunday, the Misses Lucy Copabianco and Tommy Greenberg of Schenectady were elected co-chairmen for next year's Y-Teen Fall conference to be held in Schenectady.

ATTENTION— "Miss United States Audience Awards" of 1956 is shapely Rosemarie Bowe. She calls attention in Hollywood to moviegoers' first opportunity to select their favorite stars and pictures. Movie exhibitors throughout the country were expecting some 35 million votes by Nov. 27.

Record Crowd Expected to Attend Annual Ahavath Ball on Wednesday at Auditorium

Indications are that a record crowd will be on hand Wednesday night, Thanksgiving Eve, for the 19th annual stage show and ball sponsored by Congregation Ahavath Israel at municipal auditorium.

Featuring such well-known names in the entertainment world as Dick Shawn, TV sensation and Alan Dale, famous Mercury recording star, plus the music of Buddy Morrow and his orchestra, this year's show, arranged through the William Morris Agency, Inc., of New York, looks like another natural for Herman G. Rafalowsky and his committees.

Doors to the auditorium will open Wednesday at 7:15 p. m. and the show is scheduled to get underway at 8:45 p. m.

Tickets are still available for tomorrow night's show and they may be secured at Rafalowsky's, Central Pharmacy or at Leventhal's. A few choice reserved seat locations also may be obtained through Murray Greene, chairman of that sale.

"Everything points to a big crowd and we're ready to give them all one of the best shows in the history of the Thanksgiving Eve programs," Mr. Rafalowsky said.

Mr. Rafalowsky, who has personally put together the show for tomorrow's program, again has come up with a balanced bill, as has been his custom in other years. Talent and more talent has been his trademark as head of the holiday eve balls in the past and this year won't be any exception. Assisting the genial Broadway clothier this year has been Benjamin Schecter, general chairman.

Although Dick Shawn, a TV hit on the Ed Sullivan and Comedy Hour shows and Alan Dale, top recording star, headline Wednesday's entertainment bill, the program also has a glittering array of other talent.

The Three Rockets, sophisticates of precision, have enjoyed many nightclub successes. Judy Lynn, lovely young song stylist, will offer many new and old favorite tunes and Trama and Leonardo, billed as the comedy knockouts, seen in the stage success, "Top Banana," will entertain with their comedy routine.

Music, of course, will be supplied by Buddy Morrow and his orchestra, featuring vocals by pretty Dorothy Kae and Jeffrey Lowell.

The following committees were announced today:

Herman G. Rafalowsky and Benjamin Schecter, general chairmen with Rabbi Jacob Rubenstein as honorary chairman; Irving Reuben, Larry Jacobs, Sanford Gossett, co-chairmen; Mrs. Alfred Horowitz, chairman of the program committee; Mrs. George Muller, Mrs. Murray Greene, co-chairmen; Mrs. Ephriam Propp, chairman of the children's page. Assisting have been Mrs. Harry Spiegel, Mrs. Larry Jacobs, Mrs. Irving Wilpan, Mrs. Max Millens, Mrs. Sidney Spiegel, Mrs. Irving Levine, Mrs. Jack Lifshin, Mrs. Meyer Levy, Mrs. Martin Garber, Mrs. Carl Spiegel, Mrs. Herman G. Rafalowsky, Sam Glassner, Mrs. Sidney Samuels, Mrs. Abe Camhi, Mrs. Ralph Wall, Mrs. Aaron Adin, Mrs. Harold Pekarsky, Mrs. George Goldfarb, Mrs. Sol Schwartzberg.

Sidney Rafalowsky, chairman of the patron ticket committee assisted by Mrs. Sidney Rafalowsky and Alex Woolf. Moe Schwartz has been chairman of the single ticket committee and Murray Greene head of the reserved seats sale.

Ephriam Propp is secretary and treasurer while Herman G. Rafalowsky, Benjamin Schecter and Moe Schwartz have been in charge of entertainment. Mrs. Herman G. Rafalowsky, chairman of publicity. Serving on the flower committee will be Mrs. Sam Schwartzberg, Mrs. Meyer Levy, chairmen; the Misses Elaine Schwartz, Miriam Schecter, Barbara Leventhal, Claire Kirschner, Barbara Schwartzberg, Faye Kissler and Charlotte Greenwald.

In charge of the check room is Nathan Badian, chairman; Meyer Levy, chairman of the door committee with Harold Seidel and Philip Levy. Ushers will be headed by Eugene Tepper, chairman, and members of the Men's Club of Congregation Ahavath Israel. Members of the reception committee include Mrs. Harry Spiegel, Mrs. George Muller, Mrs. Carl Spiegel, Mrs. Martin Garber, Mrs. Alfred Horowitz, Mrs. Irving Reuben, Mrs. Oscar Nussbaum and Mrs. Sanford Gossett.

30 Persons Hurt In 19 October Traffic Mishaps

Police Chief Raymond VanBuren yesterday reported 30 persons injured in 19 city traffic mishaps, and 73 arrests made here in October.

The report was given at a meeting of the police board in the city hall.

OF THE ACCIDENT total, 16 persons were hurt in 10 mishaps involving more than one motor vehicle, two pedestrians were injured, two figured in bicycle mishaps and five were hurt when vehicles ran off roadways.

Of the arrests 24 were for public intoxication, 16 for violations of the city traffic code and 13 for infractions of the vehicle and traffic law.

SEVEN PERSONS were held on third degree assault charges, five for juvenile delinquency, one for assault second degree, two for disorderly conduct, two for driving while intoxicated and two for petit larceny.

Six of those arrested were committed to jail, 17 were given suspended sentences, 20 were fined, and four were discharged. One defendant was held for the grand jury and 14 of those held on minor charges forfeited bail. Five were held for children's court, and four cases are pending.

Scrambled Eggs

Here's how to add nutrients to the family's scrambled eggs. For each serving, put an egg in a bowl. Add two tablespoons of milk, a tablespoon of nonfat dry milk solids and a dash of salt and pepper. Beat until smooth and scramble as usual.

Terpening Birthday

Mrs. Edward Terpening of Malden-on-Hudson was guest of honor at a birthday party held at the home of her mother, Mrs. Gordon Zeilman on Sunday.

Those in attendance in addition to the hostess, Mrs. Zeilman were Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Rightmyer, Mrs. A. Sniffin, Miss Winifred Sniffin, Mr. and Mrs. Tinney and son James of Port Ewen and Mr. Terpening.

Kitchen Justice

Rockford, Mich. (AP) — This western Michigan village wouldn't be too surprised if its justice of the peace rapped for order with a potato masher instead of a gavel. The justice is Mrs. Clyde B. Caswell, a housewife, and she has held court in her kitchen at times when no jury was required.

Six Important Appointments Are Announced at IBM Plant

Appointment has been announced of James F. Flood, Route 1, Box 130, Kingston, to an important position in the Military Products Center of International Business Machines Corporation here.

Five residents of other Hudson valley communities also received promotions at the local plant, according to Gavin A. Cullen, general manager.

MR. FLOOD, now project manager of personnel records and analyses joined the IBM in May, 1947, as a customer engineer in the Los Angeles, Calif., office. He was transferred to Endicott in July, 1952, as a technical engineer and to the Kingston plant last March as a technical assistant in the personnel department. He attended aircraft engineering vocational school, is a veteran of six years service with the U. S. Navy in the submarine service. He has served as in instructor in machine maintenance for IBM.

DAVID H. HAMMERS, Poughkeepsie, new manager of engineering recruitment, employment and placement, is a native of Washington, D. C., holds a bachelor of science degree in administrative engineering from Cornell University. A veteran of three and a half years with the U. S. Army Ordnance Corps during World War 2, he held the rank of major.

Mr. Hammers joined IBM at Endicott in April, 1946, as an engineering trainee. The following year, he was transferred to Poughkeepsie as a draftsman in the Electric Typewriter Division and subsequently held positions as a designer and project engineer. He joined IBM Kingston on Nov. 1.

NELSON O. HEYER, Fishkill, manager of field engineering recruitment, employment and placement, first became associated with IBM in June, 1947, as a customer engineer in New York city. In March, 1952, he was transferred to the Poughkeepsie plant in test equipment engineering and, last January, came to Kingston as a technical assistant in the field engineering department.

A native of Rochester, Mr. Heyer holds a bachelor of science degree in electrical engineering from Union College, Schenectady, as well as a master's degree in industrial management from Stevens Institute of Technology, Hoboken, N. J.

Mr. Heyer served three years with the U. S. Navy during World War 2 and currently holds a rating as lieutenant in the Naval Reserve.

GEORGE M. NEWSOME, Pleasant Valley, new plant attorney, has been associated with IBM since September, 1945, when he joined the Washington office. He was transferred to the legal department in 1948 and subsequently was assigned to the Poughkeepsie plant.

He holds a pre-law degree from Southern Union College and a bachelor of laws degree from George Washington University. He was admitted to the bar in December, 1948. He instructed a course in "Everyday Law" at IBM Poughkeepsie for two years.

RICHARD A. STEWART, Poughkeepsie, new assistant manager of manufacturing, joined IBM as a student engineer in April, 1947. Upon completion of student training, he was transferred to the Poughkeepsie plant as a draftsman in production engineering and, in 1949, was made a machine designer.

In 1951, Mr. Stewart was made manager of quality and testing in connection with IBM defense manufacturing. He was assigned later to project manager of quality and testing and subsequently became project manager of Project High manufacturing services.

Mr. Stewart attended the University of Michigan and received his bachelor of science degree in electrical engineering from Northwestern University. During World War 2, he served with the navy and was discharged with the rank of ensign.

ROBERT A. WHITHORNE, Poughkeepsie now administrator of development engineering here, a native of Portsmouth, Va., holds bachelor's and master's degrees in electrical engineering from Virginia Polytechnic Institute. During World War 2, he served with the U. S. Marine Corps.

He joined IBM in October, 1950, as a customer engineering student at Roanoke, Va. He also served in that capacity in Endicott and Poughkeepsie before being assigned as a customer engineer at Roanoke.

In March, 1953, he was appointed a technical engineer at Project High, Poughkeepsie, and the following year was made administrative assistant at Lincoln Laboratory, Lexington, Mass. Prior to his present appointment, he was assistant administrator of Project High in Poughkeepsie.

dermeulen of Port Jefferson, were reelected.

LAST NIGHT, the delegates heard a speech by Dr. James E. Allen in which he termed the getting and holding of good teachers the most important problem in education.

Dr. Allen, the New York state commissioner of education, said the teacher shortage problem is the most important problem in education because "it is most directly related to teaching, which is the heart of the educational process."

Dr. Allen suggested higher salaries, in keeping with the responsibility of the job; better working conditions; more effort by the teachers themselves to strengthen the position of teaching as a profession; and greater respect on the part of the public for teaching; as means of solving the teacher problem.

Dr. Allen said the teaching profession, which he called the greatest profession of mankind, must match industry in salaries if it is to get adequate and quality personnel.

He also proposed a closed-circuit television outlet so that teachers may observe the efficiency of television in education.

The convention concludes today.

was contended that the board "cannot vary or change the use of the property in question."

Opposition, represented by Attorney Louis G. Bruhn, also stressed that the council had denied the petition, and that the zoning law does not permit change of the non-conforming use of the property.

Bruhn also held that the Carvel Corp., was not the owner of the property "and is not the proper party to the proceeding."

The board's decision ruled against all of these points, and as to the vote against it last summer, ruled "that the action of the Common Council in restraining the use of the property as an ice cream store is unlawful, discriminatory, confiscatory and unconstitutional."

It also noted that "the petitioner as purchaser, under the contract with Southard, is an interested party in this proceeding, and possesses a legal right to petition the zoning board for the relief requested."

The board said it could not consider the issue of increased traffic as raised by the opposition. This, the decision said, "is in the domain of the Kingston Police Department and the traffic ordinance enacted by the Common Council." Traffic could be controlled by "appropriate measures," it contended.

THE BOARD'S DECISION cited many test cases to back its findings, and it noted among its "findings of fact," that "the Southard property on the northeast corner of Albany and Foxhall avenues, now occupied and operated as a gasoline station is within a commercial area, and said property is designated on the Kingston zoning map as a non-conforming use property."

The Southard property, it said, "has always been maintained as a commercial property (gasoline station) prior to the enactment of the Kingston Zoning Ordinance (Aug. 8, 1928) and has been operated continually to the present date."

NOTHING IN ZONING provisions, the decision held, precludes use of the property for operation of an ice cream store. It noted that the original decision of the petitioner was denied by council action in June, and another petition was presented to the board last July.

Attorney Philip R. Franklin represented the Carvel Corp., in the proceedings.

Support Grows

Newark, N. J., Nov. 22 (AP)—Support for a single federal milk marketing order for the New York metropolitan area continues to grow at a public meeting called by the U. S. Agriculture Department here. A break in the apparent solid front of New Jersey milk producers for an order covering only north Jersey came yesterday when 23 of the 38 members of the powerful Dealers Association of Northern New Jersey said they were for the comprehensive order.

nal security; Stavitsky and Khazani, former prosecutors.

The sixth man, who may also have been executed, was identified only as Riarmi.

The broadcast said two other former prosecutors got prison sentences. One of them, Paramanov, got 25 years. Another, Nadaraia, also was sentenced but faulty reception made the length of his term unclear.

The Tiflis radio said the men were convicted by a military tribunal—such as tried Beria—in September on charges of high treason, terrorist activity, and taking part in counter-revolutionary work. They appealed to the Soviet Supreme Court, which dismissed the appeals, and the "sentences have been carried out," the broadcast said.

Alderman Perry

a saving and loan institution plans moving out.

With the great potential Kingston has for growing, there's no reason why downtown cannot become as busy as it was in the heyday of the Delaware & Hudson Canal, when the Strand and lower Broadway formed the main parts of our city.

I am not one just partial to downtown, either, but contend that it should not be left to disintegrate altogether. A shot in the arm, like putting the County Office Building where Judge Flemming proposes could help a lot.

AS LONG as the Building must remain in, or near the County Seat of Kingston, why can't it go downtown?

The recent survey report made by the New York State Division of Housing recommended development of the Sixth Ward area, which is another reason in favor of erecting the County Office Building there.

Judge Flemming mentioned that the Common Council could help in the matter, and I desire to assure him and the residents of downtown Kingston that I shall do all in my power to promote the cause in that official body.

Sincerely,
SAMUEL J. PERRY

Stewardess Is

Stout leaped from his seat and grabbed Clendenin. A fifth shot, which plunged harmlessly into the plane's side, was fired as they grappled.

Stout finally tumbled Clendenin through the door of the plane and down the ramp to the concrete field.

Clendenin, the son of Beverly Clendenni of Salt Lake City, ran about 25 yards and fired the one remaining bullet in the gun into his neck.

Blood streamed from the wound but he remained standing. He reloaded, ran another 25 yards and fired a bullet into his head. He died three hours later at Renton Hospital.

MISS SHEDD was dead on arrival at the same hospital.

Miriam K. Garland, the dead girl's roommate and the second stewardess aboard the plane when the shooting occurred, told King county sheriff's detective Jim Graddon of Miss Shedd's tempestuous romance with Clendenin.

She told how they met in New York last September to attend the World Series, of Miss Shedd's subsequent attempts to break off the romance and the slain stewardess' fear of Clendenin.

MISS GARLAND said last Monday the victim met Clendenin in Chicago and told him they definitely were through. The next day, Miss Garland continued, Clendenin showed his ultimate victim the same .38 caliber revolver with which he was to kill her six days later.

Last Friday morning, while Miss Shedd was visiting a friend, Miss Garland said, Clendenin burst into her bedroom and "demanded to know where Sally was."

Miss Garland, who was at the door of the plane when Clendenin boarded it, said she couldn't "help feeling that I could have prevented it—if I had just shoved her (Miss Shedd) off the plane the minute I saw him."

GRADDON SAID officers found two unfinished love letters in Clendenin's brief case, tucked in a book which had nestled against the revolver which claimed the pretty stewardess' life.

Addressed to "Dear Sally," they said, in part:

"You are probably right that I am not the right man for you. Please try to understand. I love you."

Ironically, Clendenin's unmailed plea for the love of the girl he killed was sandwiched between the pages of a book entitled:

"How to Sell Yourself to Others."

IN NEW YORK, Clendenin's roommate, Laird Koenig, 28, told of receiving a transcontinental phone call to their apartment (at 4 a. m. EST) last Thursday. He said he recognized Miss Shedd's voice and turned the phone over to Clendenin.

Koenig said Clendenin seemed upset after the call and went out for a walk. When Koenig woke up later that morning, he said, he found a note saying, "I'm going to Los Angeles to see Sally."

The roommate, with whom Clendenin shared a 2½-room apartment on Manhattan's east side, said that was the last he had heard of the pair until the shooting.

Woman Is Thrown From Vehicle as It Turns Over

Mrs. Oscar J. Groves, Jr., 32, of Kerhonkson, had a miraculous escape early today when her car turned over on Route 209 a quarter of a mile north of Wawarsing and threw her out, according to Cpl. N. G. Lecakes of the Ellenville State Police.

Mrs. Groves, traveling north in a 1950 coupe, lost control of the car at 3:35 a. m., left the east side of the highway and overturned on the property of Melvin Schoonmaker, Cpl. Lecakes said.

She was treated for bruises and contusions of the left lower leg by Dr. M. S. Galeotta of Kerhonkson.

Cpl. Lecakes said the lawn and fronth porch of the Schoonmaker home was slightly damaged. The car was described as a "total wreck."

Delicious Stock

Save those turkey bones when you are serving a roasted bird. Cover the turkey carcass with water and add a bay leaf, carrot, onion, celery tops, peppercorns and salt. Cook the stock slowly for a couple of hours; strain and mix with condensed tomato soup and canned kernel-corn. Add the liquid from the corn, too.

Even the soft parts of animals are sometimes turned to rock and preserved in microscopic detail as a fossil.

New plug-in electric appliances (right) include copper and stainless steel tea kettle and turquoise and steel skillet; newly designed outlet center has four outlets and an automatic timer. Colorful new pots and pans (inset) can go right from the stove to the table.

Local CAP Group

H. H. "Hap" Arnold, chief of the Army Air Forces, offering the services of a volunteer civilian organization known as the Civil Air Patrol. The offer was accepted. President Roosevelt's executive order brought the CAP into being six days before Pearl Harbor.

A scant three months later a group of these civilian volunteers transplanted from almost every state in the union arrived at Atlantic City, N. J., and began making aviation history. Nazi U-boats skulking within sight of the Atlantic and Gulf coasts were sinking ships. Neither the army nor the navy had enough planes for anti-submarine patrol. CAP asked for and got the job of ranging far out to sea in their little putt-putt planes hunting the killers, dropping bombs against some, pinpointing others by radio for destroyers, subchasers and the few land-based bombers available.

Many such bases were established from Maine to Texas during the early months of World War 2. Hundreds of CAP members flew from these bases. Twenty-six of them made their last flights from these bases trading the clean, blue sky for the watery grave the sea held constantly open to receive them. In these operations the infant Civil Air Patrol lost 90 planes and 26 pilots and observers. Another seven were seriously injured.

In other parts of the country the volunteer members of the CAP were performing other valuable wartime tasks. A total of 4,900 hours were flown on aircraft warning missions for the Third Fighter Command. On the Southern Liaison Patrol, along the U. S. Mexican border CAP planes racked up 23,000 hours. Anti-aircraft tracking missions accounted for 38,000. In courier missions for the Second Air Force the lightplane air force of the CAP logged 70,000 flying hours airlifting more than 2,600,000 pounds of critically needed cargo. Another 2,500 hours were flown in courier flights for the First Area Service Command.

With the advent of peace a grateful Congress granted a charter to the CAP authorizing it to act as a non-profit corporation dedicated to maintaining U. S. air supremacy and contributing its services to the public welfare. Congress also made it the civilian auxiliary to the U. S. Air Force.

NOW AS IT celebrates its 14th birthday the CAP numbers more than 89,000 members in every state and territory each devoted to maintaining faith with those pioneers who founded America's homefront air arm in the black days of 1941.

The program of the celebration will include movies and dancing and the Ladies' Auxiliary of Joyce-Schirick Post 1386, VFW, will furnish refreshments for the party.

Police Seem

ed and occasionally was called to help her regain control in fits of weeping.

After it was over, Prutting said she was "pretty physically exhausted" but had reacted "remarkably well" to the questioning.

IT WAS THE THIRD time police had questioned Mrs. Woodward.

They first got her story several hours after she shot her 35-year-old sportsman husband, owner of the racehorse Nashua. The second questioning came several days later at the hospital. After that, police said they would wait until she left the hospital before seeing her again.

The former model and radio actress, who married her socialite husband in 1943, has told police she shot him in mistake for a prowler.

THE COUPLE, parents of two young sons, had been at Long Island party for the Duchess of Windsor the evening before the shooting. When they got home they took loaded shotguns to their separate bedrooms in case a prowler known to be in the area should break in.

Mrs. Woodward says she was wakened by a noise that might have been the barking of her dog. She told police she went to the bedroom door and in panic fired both barrels into the darkened hall, pointing blindly at a "noise."

One of the blasts of shot hit her husband who was standing unarmed at the doorway to his bedroom across the hall. He died almost immediately.

Police later picked up the neighborhood prowler. At first he denied being at the Woodward's home at the time of the shooting. Later he told police he had been noisely breaking into the house on the floor above the Woodwards' bedrooms.

Wind Does Some Damage Monday

High winds here yesterday reached velocities from 50 to 55 miles an hour, causing no more than apparent scattered damage but one gust left a downtown building temporarily minus a door.

Police were notified at 2:08 p. m., that a back door had blown off the building of David Gill Jr., Inc., dealer in building materials, 222 East Strand. Officers Gerard McCloskey and Benjamin Osterhoudt assisted in searching the area, but the door was not found.

Scattered reports indicated that television towers had blown down in various areas, and at 1 p. m., police were notified that the traffic light at Broadway and Henry street had been twisted around so that the light was not visible on the Henry street side.

A check at the Gill building today revealed that the door was still missing. It was believed that it had blown into the Rondout creek and floated downstream.

Godbey Home Is Damaged by Fire

A fire believed to have been started by children playing with matches damaged a cellar section and stairway in the two-story frame home of John Godbey, 255 Delaware avenue this morning.

Timbers were charred, a closet destroyed and dense smoke spread through the building, Fire Chief James M. Brett said. A hydrant stream was used on the blaze resulted in some water damage.

Men and equipment from Central and Cornell stations, Cordts and Union hose companies answered a call at 9:35 a. m. Wicks Engine Company was dispatched to cover at Central station.

The fire spread from the basement along a stairway leading to the first floor.

New York, Nov. 22 (AP)—The stock market started a moderate recovery movement today after three straight declines.

In the early afternoon, there were many gains of 1 to 2 points in key areas of the list. Some went beyond that mark. Losses usually were small.

Trading was relatively light at an estimated 2,000,000 shares. That compares with yesterday's 1,960,000 shares, also a light day.

Cooking Giblets

Chicken giblets need from 1 to 1½ hours when they are being simmered in water. Turkey giblets take from two to three hours. Put the giblets through a food chopper, then mix them with crisply-cooked crumbled bacon, mayonnaise and salt and pepper for a fine sandwich spread.

World News in Brief

DENVER, Nov. 22 (AP) — "That's him, all right," said Lyman Brown after seeing John Gilbert Graham, accused of murder in the dynamiting of an airliner that carried his mother.

Brown had just identified Graham in a police lineup yesterday as the man who bought 20 to 25 sticks of dynamite three days before a United Airlines plane exploded and crashed near Longmont, Colo., Nov. 1 killing all 44 aboard.

Brown, 46, co-owner of Brown Bros. Supermarket at Kremmling, Colo., 105 miles west of here, came to Denver at the FBI's request to view Graham. He picked him out of a lineup of seven prisoners.

BAGHDAD, Iraq, Nov. 22 (AP) —The five Baghdad pact powers pushed forward today with plans to complete their organization for political and economic cooperation.

High military advisers of the five — Britain, Turkey, Iraq, Pakistan, and Iran—met separately to work out a military organization which will join forces aolng Russia's southern border from the Bosporus to the Himalayas. Although the pact was initiated by Turkey and Iraq last February, first steps to set up a permanent defense organization within it were not taken until yesterday.

VATICAN CITY, Nov. 22 (AP) —More than for any other Pontiff of modern times, a basis already has been established for the eventual canonization of Pope Pius XII.

Vatican sources believe that the elevation to sainthood of Pius following his death may be among the quickest in the history of the church.

The most dramatic miracle attributed publicly to the 79-year-old head of the Roman Catholic Church came with the Vatican announcement this week that Jesus Christ appeared to him in a vision during his grave illness last December.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22 (AP)—A tightening of the money market after the Federal Reserve Board's severe crackdown last week on credit expansion may delay briefly announcement of plans for a 12 billion dollar refinancing of government securities.

This was indicated today as the interest rate on 91-day treasury bills, by which the government borrows to meet its short-term needs, bounced upward to of the highest level in 22 years.

In the light of the money scarcity that development evidenced, it was learned, the treasury is taking another look at the tentative plans to announce within the next few days a program for refinancing government securities maturing Dec. 15.

BHAKRA DAM, Northern India, Nov. 22 (AP)—Premier Bulganin and Nikita Khrushchev toured India's 357-million-dollar irrigation-power project today with American dam builder Harvey Slocum as their guide.

Spirited conversations between Khrushchev, the Soviet Communist party chief, and Slocum, chief consultant on the dam, enlivened the tour in which the Russian party of more than 100 was guided through miles of construction work.

As Slocum showed the top Soviet leaders a view of the projected 680-foot concrete dam —to be the second highest in the world—the stocky Khrushchev turned to the American engineer and said: "American engineers were helpful to Russia in the early days. We learned a good deal from them, but now we are in competition and soon we will pass them."

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Nov. 22 (AP) — UN circles expressed belief today a move to boost the size of the Security Council may help break the stubborn deadlock over a seat on the 11-nation body.

This feeling mounted as the General Assembly prepared for a fifth round of balloting Friday in the race between the U. S.-backed Philippines and Communist Yugoslavia for the council place now held by Turkey.

With the two contestants still tied up after 21 ballots—greatest number ever recorded in a Security Council race—there appeared little chance either side could poll the two-thirds majority necessary for election.

Elks' Memorial Speaker on Dec. 4

JOHN L. FLEMING

John L. Fleming Jr., of Troy, supervisor of the Bureau of Investigation, John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Co., of Boston, will be the guest speaker at the memorial services to be held by Kingston Lodge, 550, BPOE, Sunday, Dec. 4 at 8 p. m., at the Elks Club, Fair street.

Elkdom throughout the world sets aside the first Sunday of every December to memorialize and pay tribute to brother Elks who have died throughout the past year.

Mr. Fleming is a past exalted ruler of Troy Lodge, 141, and past vice president of the northeastern district, New York State Elks Association. He is chairman of the Elks scholarship committee and youth activities committee of Troy lodge.

Memorial services will be conducted by Charles Higgins, Exalted Ruler of Kingston Lodge, assisted by members of the local lodge.

Civil Service Exam

The U. S. Civil Service Commission has announced the following examinations: Economist, for filling positions paying from $5,440 to $11,610 in various Federal agencies; Medical Technician and Medical X-Ray Technician, for filling positions paying from $2,960 to $4,525 a year in various agencies; and Bindery Woman for positions paying $1.51 an hour in the Government Printing Office. All positions to be filled are in the Washington, D. C., area. No written test is required for any of these examinations; to qualify, applicants must have had appropriate experience in the field of work for which they apply. For the economist positions pertinent college study may be substituted for part of the required experience. Further information and application forms may be obtained from the Commission's representative, William P. Barry's examiner in charge, located at Main Post Office, Kingston.

Asks Garbage Holders Be Out by 7 P. M.

Garbage-collection regulations for winter months were announced today by the public works department.

The department asks that containers be placed at the curb by 7 p. m., on days preceding the regular collection day.

The change is aimed at keeping contents of containers from freezing and to facilitate better collection methods. The public is asked to cooperate by putting containers out at the suggested time.

Johnson Raps Democrats

Whitney, Tex., Nov. 22 (AP)—Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson had sharp words here last night for Democrats who won't fight for the presidential nominees and for the Republican party which he charged "is more responsive to fat cats than the folks." An overflow crowd of 1,600 pounded the tables and made the banquet dishes rattle as they shouted and whistled approval when Johnson demanded a Texas Democratic delegation that would come home from the national convention next summer and make war on the GOP.

Farmers around the world are growing a quarter more rice than they did at the end of World War 2.

Make It or Buy It; It's a Holiday for the Eyes

gress), succeeded Cafe as provisional president but was ousted by the army after only three days because he was believed aiding a plot to prevent Kubitschek and Goulart from assuming office next Jan. 31. The leaders of the coup said their purpose was to protect constitutional processes. Ramos, president of the Senate, then was made provisional president.

Some observers believe that Cafe went through the motions of seeking to return to office—even though he knew Congress and the army would not permit it—intending to precipitate the difficult situation now confronting the army, which finds the navy and air force aroused to active opposition.

Jaime Cardinal De Barros Camara, primate of Brazil, issued a statement that he had agreed to act as intermediary in the crisis at the invitation of Rui Gomes De Almeida, president of the Rio De Janeiro Commercial Assn.

The Cardinal said he agreed to act when he found his "humble collaboration" would be acceptable to both factions—Gen Henrique Teizeira Lott for the army and his opponents, Adm. Amarim Do Valle, former navy minister, and Gen. Eduardo Gomes, former air minister.

Adlai Keeps Busy

Chicago, Nov. 22 (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson appears to be wasting no time in getting right down to business in his bid for the Democratic presidential nomination. Yesterday, in the wake of a busy week in which he announced his candidacy and became one of the principal figures in a huge Democratic rally in Chicago, he formed the "National Stevenson for President Committee." He also held a brief news conference at the opening of the committee's headquarters in which he said there is "greatly increased" support for his candidacy.

President . . .

net meeting he has attended since early August.

Before the cabinet got down to business, its members signed their names in an autograph book. Presidential aide Max Rabb brought the book up at the request of Mrs. Eisenhower, who spent the night in the White House at Washington.

Photographers and a reporter who witnessed the signing said the President, in asking for the signatures, described the book as a "pet" project of his wife's.

THE CABINET met around a green felt covered table made up of several mess tables shoved together.

The table, about 6 by 18 feet, took up a good share of the 12 by 21 foot room.

For all the informality that prevailed, an attendant checked the hat of each official at the door of the lodge.

Eisenhower wore a tan mixture tweed suit and a tan sport shirt. His tie was a multicolored four-in-hand. He had on a pair of heavy-soled shoes as protection against the clear but nippy weather.

IN THE SAME wooded seclusion, with Marine sentries everywhere in the surrounding snow-covered forestland, Eisenhower met for two hours yesterday with the National Security Council (NSC).

There was, as usual, no announcement of what came under discussion. This meeting of the nation's top security planning board, like today's cabinet session, was the first Eisenhower has attended since his Sept. 24 heart attack in Denver.

All Fathers May Be Deferred in New Draft Laws

Washington, Nov. 22 (AP)—A Selective Service spokesman said today a change in the draft regulations is expected "fairly soon" which will have the effect of deferring most if not all fathers.

He said the anticipated change would provide this order of call for eligible registrants between 18½ and 26 years of age:

1. Delinquents. (Defined as those who for some reasons failed to register or to comply with local board instructions to report for physical examinations.)
2. Volunteers.
3. Nonvolunteers between 18½ and 26 with no children.
4. Men 26 and younger with children.
5. Men over 26.

THE SPOKESMAN said Selective Service had no immediate comment on a new call by Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) for an immediate blanket deferment of fathers and men over the age of 26.

Bricker also urged in a letter to Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, Selective Service director, that men under age 21 be accepted for induction.

"I feel," Bricker's letter said, "the Selective Service's present restudy of the plight of fathers and older men does not go far enough on the problem of fathers."

An insane person may be cured of his disease, but a mentally deficient person's intelligence cannot be increased.

Mentally deficient people may appear in families of any race and families with a history of high or low intelligence.

We learned a good deal from them, but now we are in competition and soon we will pass them."

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Nov. 22 (AP) — UN circles expressed belief today a move to boost the size of the Security Council may help break the stubborn deadlock over a seat on the 11-nation body.

This feeling mounted as the General Assembly prepared for a fifth round of balloting Friday in the race between the U. S.-backed Philippines and Communist Yugoslavia for the council place now held by Turkey.

With the two contestants still tied up after 21 ballots—greatest number ever recorded in a Security Council race—there appeared little chance either side could poll the two-thirds majority necessary for election.

JOHN L. FLEMING

John L. Fleming Jr., of Troy, supervisor of the Bureau of Investigation, John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Co., of Boston, will be the guest speaker at the memorial services to be held by Kingston Lodge, 550, BPOE, Sunday, Dec. 4 at 8 p. m., at the Elks Club, Fair street.

Elkdom throughout the world sets aside the first Sunday of every December to memorialize and pay tribute to brother Elks who have died throughout the past year.

Mr. Fleming is a past exalted ruler of Troy Lodge, 141, and past vice president of the northeastern district, New York State Elks Association. He is chairman of the Elks scholarship committee and youth activities committee of Troy lodge.

Memorial services will be conducted by Charles Higgins, Exalted Ruler of Kingston Lodge, assisted by members of the local lodge.

Civil Service Exam

The U. S. Civil Service Commission has announced the following examinations: Economist, for filling positions paying from $5,440 to $11,610 in various Federal agencies; Medical Technician and Medical X-Ray Technician, for filling positions paying from $2,960 to $4,525 a year in various agencies; and Bindery Woman for positions paying $1.51 an hour in the Government Printing Office. All positions to be filled are in the Washington, D. C., area. No written test is required for any of these examations; to qualify, applicants must have had appropriate experience in the field of work for which they apply. For the economist positions pertinent college study may be substituted for part of the required experience. Further information and application forms may be obtained from the Commission's representative, William P. Barry's examiner in charge, located at Main Post Office, Kingston.

Asks Garbage Holders Be Out by 7 P. M.

Garbage-collection regulations for winter months were announced today by the public works department.

The department asks that containers be placed at the curb by 7 p. m., on days preceding the regular collection day.

The change is aimed at keeping contents of containers from freezing and to facilitate better collection methods. The public is asked to cooperate by putting containers out at the suggested time.

Johnson Raps Democrats

Whitney, Tex., Nov. 22 (AP)—Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson had sharp words here last night for Democrats who won't fight for the presidential nominees and for the Republican party which he charged "is more responsive to fat cats than the folks." An overflow crowd of 1,600 pounded the tables and made the banquet dishes rattle as they shouted and whistled approval when Johnson demanded a Texas Democratic delegation that would come home from the national convention next summer and make war on the GOP.

Farmers around the world are growing a quarter more rice than they did at the end of World War 2.

Make It or Buy It; It's a Holiday for the Eyes

New Crisis . . .

gress), succeeded Cafe as provisional president but was ousted by the army after only three days because he was believed aiding a plot to prevent Kubitschek and Goulart from assuming office next Jan. 31. The leaders of the coup said their purpose was to protect constitutional processes. Ramos, president of the Senate, then was made provisional president.

Some observers believe that Cafe went through the motions of seeking to return to office—even though he knew Congress and the army would not permit it—intending to precipitate the difficult situation now confronting the army, which finds the navy and air force aroused to active opposition.

Jaime Cardinal De Barros Camara, primate of Brazil, issued a statement that he had agreed to act as intermediary in the crisis at the invitation of Rui Gomes De Almeida, president of the Rio De Janeiro Commercial Assn.

The Cardinal said he agreed to act when he found his "humble collaboration" would be acceptable to both factions—Gen Henrique Teizeira Lott for the army and his opponents, Adm. Amarim Do Valle, former navy minister, and Gen. Eduardo Gomes, former air minister.

Adlai Keeps Busy

Chicago, Nov. 22 (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson appears to be wasting no time in getting right down to business in his bid for the Democratic presidential nomination. Yesterday, in the wake of a busy week in which he announced his candidacy and became one of the principal figures in a huge Democratic rally in Chicago, he formed the "National Stevenson for President Committee." He also held a brief news conference at the opening of the committee's headquarters in which he said there is "greatly increased" support for his candidacy.

President . . .

net meeting he has attended since early August.

Before the cabinet got down to business, its members signed their names in an autograph book. Presidential aide Max Rabb brought the book up at the request of Mrs. Eisenhower, who spent the night in the White House at Washington.

Photographers and a reporter who witnessed the signing said the President, in asking for the signatures, described the book as a "pet" project of his wife's.

THE CABINET met around a green felt covered table made up of several mess tables shoved together.

The table, about 6 by 18 feet, took up a good share of the 12 by 21 foot room.

For all the informality that prevailed, an attendant checked the hat of each official at the door of the lodge.

Eisenhower wore a tan mixture tweed suit and a tan sport shirt. His tie was a multicolored four-in-hand. He had on a pair of heavy-soled shoes as protection against the clear but nippy weather.

IN THE SAME wooded seclusion, with Marine sentries everywhere in the surrounding snow-covered forestland, Eisenhower met for two hours yesterday with the National Security Council (NSC).

There was, as usual, no announcement of what came under discussion. This meeting of the nation's top security planning board, like today's cabinet session, was the first Eisenhower has attended since his Sept. 24 heart attack in Denver.

Sandwich Spread

Grated carrots, raisins and mayonnaise make a nutritious sandwich spread for youngsters. Plump the raisins by letting them stand in very hot water a few minutes, then drain well.

All Fathers May Be Deferred in New Draft Laws

Washington, Nov. 22 (AP)—A Selective Service spokesman said today a change in the draft regulations is expected "fairly soon" which will have the effect of deferring most if not all fathers.

He said the anticipated change would provide this order of call for eligible registrants between 18½ and 26 years of age:

1. Delinquents. (Defined as those who for some reasons failed to register or to comply with local board instructions to report for physical examinations.)
2. Volunteers.
3. Nonvolunteers between 18½ and 26 with no children.
4. Men 26 and younger with children.
5. Men over 26.

THE SPOKESMAN said Selective Service had no immediate comment on a new call by Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) for an immediate blanket deferment of fathers and men over the age of 26.

Bricker also urged in a letter to Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, Selective Service director, that men under age 21 be accepted for induction.

"I feel," Bricker's letter said, "the Selective Service's present restudy of the plight of fathers and older men does not go far enough on the problem of fathers."

Lockport Family Finds Fate Hard

Lockport, N. Y., Nov. 22 (AP) — The Hardison family moved temporarily into the home of a friend here today, hoping that fate would leave them alone for awhile.

Within the last five months Mrs. Hollie Hardison suffered a fractured pelvis in an automobile accident; Dalton, a 14-year-old son, had his arm amputated after he shot himself in a hunting accident; Russell, 10, and Fern, 16, were confined to a hospital with hepatitus, a liver infection, and Ronald, 6, was run over by a tractor.

LAST SATURDAY night the Hardison home in Ransomville burned down. The deed to the property and a wedding dress were the only things salvaged, Mrs. Hardison said.

The family had been staying with friends but moved in today with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Andrews here. Mrs. Andrews, a Niagara county welfare worker, heard of the Hardison's plight and offered a temporary home.

Doctors at the Ransomville General Hospital, where the five members of the family were confined at one time or another since June, paid the family's hospital expenses and gave them a check to help out.

Mrs. Hardison took the check. She said her husband, Hollis, 45, was at work. "He wants to work as much overtime as possible," she said.

The Hardisons have two other children. The two children and Hollis Hardison were not injured during the run of tough luck.

Tasty First Course

Soften butter with the back of a wooden spoon worked against the sides of a bowl; add a pinch of dry mustard and finely grated Swiss cheese. Turn into an attractive small container and top with finely chopped parsley. Serve with crisp crackers and tomato juice for a first course.

FORCED ON AUTO RIDE, SHE SAYS—Mrs. Maureen G. Maga, of McDonald, Pa., fondles her pet dog after returning home Nov. 20 from what she told police was a four-day forced auto ride. The young bride told police she was picked up by an ex-boy friend Nov. 16 and forced to ride around with him. Mrs. Maga's mother, Mrs. Joseph McGuane, filed a kidnaping charge against the man, identified as Gary Pounds, of McDonald, Pa. (AP Wirephoto)

TARGET OF FRONTAL ATTACK — This is Jacqueline (Jackie) Lane, younger sister of British actress Mara Lane, wearing the gown—described as the season's most daring—which is the subject of a frontal attack Nov. 21 by the tabloid London Daily Mirror. Jackie wore the gown at a film premiere last week attended by the Duke of Edinburgh. (AP Wirephoto via radio from London)

Teen-Age Riot Halted

Nicosia, Cyprus, Nov. 22 (AP)—Troops used tear gas and batons today to break up sporadic bursts of teen-age rioting. Authorities closed all secondary schools until order is restored. The biggest demonstration was outside Nicosia's Phaneromeni Church, where troops dispersed schoolboys in the sidestreets. Commandos scaled the church tower to prevent boys from ringing bells.

An arch is kept from falling by the keystone, the middle stone at the arch's crown, holding the other pieces in place.

Treatment Confirmed

Montreal, Nov. 22 (AP)—A spokesman member of the Dionne quintuplets' family confirmed today that Marie, frailest of the famed sisters since birth, is being treated for anemia in a suburban hospital. He reported her condition is "not serious," but it was believed she would not return to the Quebec City Convent she has left twice since she entered it two years ago to become a nun.

A heavy coating of wax around door jambs most frequently used by youngsters will help keep them clean.

FORCED ON AUTO RIDE, SHE SAYS—Mrs. Maureen G. Maga, of McDonald, Pa., fondles her pet dog after returning home Nov. 20 from what she told police was a four-day forced auto ride. The young bride told police she was picked up by an ex-boy friend Nov. 16 and forced to ride around with him. Mrs. Maga's mother, Mrs. Joseph McGuane, filed a kidnaping charge against the man, identified as Gary Pounds, of McDonald, Pa. (AP Wirephoto)

Teen-Age Riot Halted

Nicosia, Cyprus, Nov. 22 (AP)—Troops used tear gas and batons today to break up sporadic bursts of teen-age rioting. Authorities closed all secondary schools until order is restored. The biggest demonstration was outside Nicosia's Phaneromeni Church, where troops dispersed schoolboys in the sidestreets. Commandos scaled the church tower to prevent boys from ringing bells.

Treatment Confirmed

Montreal, Nov. 22 (AP)—A spokesman member of the Dionne quintuplets' family confirmed today that Marie, frailest of the famed sisters since birth, is being treated for anemia in a suburban hospital. He reported her condition is "not serious," but it was believed she would not return to the Quebec City Convent she has left twice since she entered it two years ago to become a nun.

Coaches Choose Five Highland Grid Stars

By CHUCK NORD
(Freeman Sports Staff)

Saugerties High School—the team that finished on the bottom of the West Shore League—dominates that circuit's first All-Star football squad.

The Sawyers landed six of the 13 berths on the honor squad, which was chosen by the league coaches. Five players from the champion Highland eleven and two from second-place Liberty were also honored.

Saugerties players honored were fullback Jack Patterson, quarterback Murray Craft, end John Kerin, tackle Don Whitaker, guard Bob Dodig and center Jon Ash.

Highland's selections are guard Dave Mackey, tackle Charley Crimi, end Bob Valentine and halfbacks John Gersch and Esau McClinton.

THE WSL TEAM was chosen by coaches Bill Straub, Saugerties; Frank Hamblet, Highland; and Charles Witherwax, Liberty.

This was the the second year in which the league has operated. Highland has won the championship both seasons.

The coaches expressed a desire to increase the size of the league. They voiced hope that Onteora and New Paltz would join the WSL hanks. This, they believe, would greatly strengthen the circuit.

NINE SENIORS and four juniors were named on the team. The coaches, being deadlocked on the end and halfback positions, decided to list all those mentioned as one team.

The squad is a coaches dream. It has power, speed and passing strength for an offense. Its defense would be near impregnable, with a fast, smart and heavy line and an alert secondary.

The average height of the players is five feet, 11 inches. The average weight is 177 pounds.

Following is a rundown on the individuals.

BOB VALENTINO, Highland. A regular for two years, Valetino excelled on defense and was a capable pass catcher and blocker. He's rough and ready and should be even better next year.

JOHN KERIN, Saugertjes. Kerin is a transfer from Wooster, N. Y., where he played six-man football. He was outstanding in all phases of the 11-man game—pass receiving, blocking and defensive play. A good student, he plans to enter an engineering school next year.

MEL DAVIS, Liberty. Smart and fast, Davis was the outstanding performer of the LHS line. He was tops on both offense and defense.

CHARLEY CRIMI, Highland. Crimi was a starter for three straight years with the HHS crew. Although he played subpar football at the start, he improved greatly in the final half of the schedule. Crimi, who participates in three sports, was a sharp blocker and tackler.

DON WHITAKER, Saugerties. "100 per cent effort," says Straub of Whitaker, the Sawyer co-captain. Good either way, he had the most football "savvy" on the SHS eleven. An outsanding young man, Whitaker is an excellent student, president of his class and president of the Sawyer varsity club. He also plays basketball and baseball.

DAVE MACKEY, Highland. Probably the greatest lineman the school has produced, Mackey played sparkling football from the opening whistle. He was fast, powerful, aggressive and smart. A three-year regular, Mackey has college ability. He was also named to the Poughkeepsie New Yorker All-Area team for two straight years. Many rate him the finest football player in Ulster county, and at least the best on this team.

BOB DODIG, Saugerties. "Dode" was used primarily on defense, where he was virtually impossible to move. He was somewhat slow of foot, but made up for it with power and aggressiveness.

JON ASH, Saugerties. A tough cookie on offense and defense, Ash was a hard blocker and a vicious tackler. He had plenty of potential and should come into his own next fall.

MURRAY CRAFT, Saugerties. Craft's is a rags-to-riches story. He quit the team last year, then came back this fall to develop into the area's best quarterback. He was a split T magician, a strong runner on either the option or sneak play and a good passer. Craft, a three-letterman, is a B plus student.

JOHN GERSCH, Highland. Gersch played quarterback as a sophomore but switched to the half slot after this season had begun. His chief talent, although not put to full use this fall, is passing. As a runner he's quick and deceptive. Next year he'll carry the big load for the Blue and Gold. Gersch is a four-letterman.

ESAU McCLINTON, Highland. The shiftiest runner in the WSL, McClinton was a scoring was a four-year varsity regular, threat each time he carried. He playing in the line the first two years. Esau, also a four-letterman, was terrific on defense.

EVERETT THOMPSON, Liberty. Thompson was the kingpin of a good backfield. He reeled off a series of long gains througout the year via his speedy style of running. He's the lightest (150 pounds) player on the honor squad.

JACK PATTERSON, Saugerties. Patterson filled the Sawyer's need for a fullback this fall after playing halfback for three previous campaigns, all on the varsity. Although the split T makes the fullback primarily a blocker, Patterson took on the chore and turned in a shining job. Jack, the co-captain, was also outstanding as a linebacker.

Fiore Returns To Beat Nocero

New York, Nov. 22 (AP)—After a one-year layoff, Carmine Fiore is back in business looking for a shot at some of the top welterweights.

"The rest did me a lot of good," Fiore said last night after winning a unanimous decision over sturdy Rinzy Nocero in an all-Brooklyn battle at St. Nicholas Arena.

FIORE, 26, went into drydock Oct. 29, 1954 after he was stopped by Vince Martinez on eye cuts. He meant to rest up for six months to let the cuts heal completely but the vacation stretched into a year.

At 149¾, Fiore looked in good condition. He gave pounds and youth to Nocero, 155½, but didn't fade. In addition to his left hook, always his best punch, he showed a solid right hand.

Next for Fiore is Danny Giovanelli, Dec. 19 at St. Nicks. Nocero, 24, must lay off because of a cut eye for a month or so. The right eye needed six stitches.

Hoppey's Restaurant Cagers To Open Against Arlington

The newly-organized Hoppey's Restaurant basketball team launches its 1955-56 season against the Arlington Alumni Wednesday at 9 p. m., at the local YMCA.

The club will be managed by Earle O. Terwilliger, veteran basketball figure who piloted the Esopus squad for several years.

Dick Terlingen, former Walden High and Siena College ace, will appear in the Hoppey lineup. Others picked by Coach Terwilliger include Bill Knott, Bob Terwilliger, Clark Mains, Jim Ferraro, Ward Dunham, Eric Goercke, Bud Scheffel and Rod Sagendorf.

George Carpouzis, the hottest scorer of the season, will be available for some road games.

The Arlington Alumni will feature a bevy of ex-Dutchess county scholastic aces, among them Jerry Beyer, Tom Reed, Homer Rikert, Bob Martin, Bill Beyer, Leo Darling, Ken Meisner, Harold Sherow and Dan Bertolette.

Hoppey's will also compete in the "A" division of the YMCA League.

Blaik Rates Army's Defense Over Navy's

West Point, N. Y., Nov. 22 (AP)—Army football Coach Earl Blaik, who has spent almost as much time ministering to his athletes in the hospital as on the field, announced today that:

1. Army has a better defensive team than Navy.
2. He didn't think Army would be invited to a bowl game.
3. "This has been a trying season."

Blaik leads his three-times beaten forces to Philadelphia Saturday to play once-defeated, once-tied Navy in the 56th meeting of the service schools. Navy rules a slight favorite.

"I think we've got a better defensive team than Navy," said Blaik before sending his Cadets through a real two-fisted workout, "and I'll be surprised if we don't show it Saturday.

"I KNOW NAVY is even more dangerous than last year (the Middies won that one, 27-20) because their passing has improved, but they'll have to touch all the bases to beat us."

Blaik apparently is in no position to say what action Army would take on a post-season game if the Cadets lick the Tars from the Severn. While nothing official has been said, there doesn't seem to be much doubt that the Cotton Bowl would like the winner.

Army has never gone in for post-season play, but Navy made its first bowl appearance in years last New Year's when it plastered Mississippi in the Sugar Bowl.

"We've lost three games," said Blaik, "and I don't think anyone would consider us. Would we like to play one more game after Navy? One more game of what? This has been a very trying season."

A HIGHER PROOF WHISKEY DOES NOT HAVE TO BE HIGHER IN PRICE!
Read how FLEISCHMANN'S higher Proof gives you more enjoyment at less cost!
'To get more enjoyment in a whiskey, look at the "Proof." For "Proof" tells a whiskey's "strength." Today, most leading blends are no more than 86 Proof. But Fleischmann's is a full 90 Proof! This means that you get more flavor—and enjoyment in every drink.
Whiskies are taxed by the U. S. Government on the basis of Proof. Although Fleischmann pays $1.03 more per case in taxes than 86 Proof blends, Fleischmann's costs you less than many lower Proof brands. Try Fleischmann's—you'll agree that it's the best blended whiskey value in America!

Sawyers Rip Windham In Cage Opener, 76-47

Saugerties High School's basketball team opened its 1955-56 campaign on a highly-successful note last night, outclassing Windham by 76-47 at the Sawyer court.

Coach Bud Smith emptied his bench after the first half. Twelve players saw action and 10 of them contributed to the point production.

The tall Sawyers ran up a 21-12 lead at the end of the first period and blew the game wide open with 30 points during the second quarter, holding their opponents to seven.

BOB HANSEN, six-foot-four center, and guard Bill Hanna paced the assault. Hansen split his 20 points evenly between the first and second periods, Hanna had hot hands during the second session. He totaled 18. Joe Martin chipped in with 10 markers.

Reserves took over in the third period. The subs lost ground during that session but regained it during the fourth.

The Sawyer jayvees, unbeaten in 16 games last year, were finally defeated, 68-50, as Joscelyn of the visitors rimmed 29 points. Ed Riozzi scored 17, Don Mormile 12 and Larry Risdal 11 for the Saugerties juniors.

Buckeyes, Spartans Top All-Big 10 Team

Chicago, Nov. 22 (AP) — Ohio State's Big Ten champions and Michigan State's Rose-Bowl-bound Spartans each placed three men on the Associated Press All-Big Ten football team for 1955.

Michigan's Wolverines, losing out to Ohio State for the western conference title, had two men on the squad while Illinois, Purdue and Iowa grabbed off one spot each.

The team chosen by AP staffers in the Big Ten area consists of seven seniors, three juniors and one sophomore.

Fabulous Howard Cassady, Ohio State's All-America halfback, was the only unanimous choice on the first team while center Ken Vargo, Cassady's teammate, missed the honor by one vote. Ohio State's other selection was Jim Parker, 248-pound guard.

Michigan State's selections were guard Carl Nystrom, tackle Norm Masters and quarterback Earl Morrall.

Pittsburgh, Ranked 13th, Gets New Year's Sugar Bowl Bid

New Orleans, Nov. 22 (AP)— Pittsburgh, shunted from football bowls for 19 years, will flaunt its revitalized power in the 1956 Sugar Bowl Jan. 2.

Pitt, ranked No. 13 in the nation by this week's Associated Press poll, has a 7-3 record. Defeats have been at the hands of top-ranking teams.

Fred Digby, general manager of the Sugar Bowl committee, announced Pitt's selection today. He said the Panthers' opponent will be either Georgia Tech, Auburn, Vanderbilt or Mississippi.

That will be decided, Digby said, after the four Southeastern conference teams play their final games Saturday.

Pitt's substitute fullback, Bob Grier, if he is sent into the game by Coach Johnny Michelosen, will be the first Negro to play in the Sugar Bowl.

Digby said the invitation to Pitt was made "without conditions." He said Pitt may play Grier and may sell tickets to Negroes if it wants to. Digby said athletic director Tom Hamilton of Pitt told him no trouble was anticipated because of the arrangements.

The Panthers closed their season last Saturday with a convincing 20-0 victory over Penn State. Pitt conquerors include Oklahoma, No. 1 team in the nation, Navy, No. 11, and Miami of Florida, No. 14.

Pitt's victims have been California, Syracuse, Nebraska, Duke, Virginia, West Virginia and Penn State. The 26-7 victory over Duke came a week after the Blue Devils upset Ohio State, the Big 10 champions. Pitt's 26-7 victory over West Virginia knocked the team out of the undefeated class and the Sugar Bowl picture.

SPORTS by Charles J. Tiano

The integrity of area bowling was forcefully demonstrated in the National Match Games singles elimination finals at the Central Recreation alleys.

The situation at the end of seven games was this: Jerry Oster led with 30 Petersen points. Johnny Ferraro had 28½. Dick Rhea 26½ and Whitey Crispell 25.

Pairings were Ferraro vs. Crispell and Rhea vs. Oster.

Crispell, who was clearly out of contention going into the last game, happened to be employed by Ferraro at the Bowlodrome. If ever a guy had a chance to do something for the boss, this was it.

Whitey could have choked on a few balls without anyone knowing it. Instead he responded like a true competitor and gave Ferraro a rugged time before succumbing, 225 to 201.

Take Rhea's case. The slick young southpaw also was out of contention but competing against Oster who was battling to hold a 1½ point lead. Rhea could have taken his pick between Oster and Ferraro, literally he could have "named" the winner.

Instead, Dick Rhea behaved like the true champion he is, a brilliant prospect who is a scion of a rich bowling heritage from his father and mother, the renowned, Ma and Pa Rhea of bowling fame. His pappy is the prominent secretary of the Hudson Valley League.

To make a long story short, Rhea played it to the hilt to whip the pressing Oster, 208-181. Oster would have won the title by half point with that match point.

The performances by Crispell and Oster should give bowling fans a real lift. The integrity of the game remains intact.

• Flotsam and Jetsam:

It was a splendidly operated tournament that figures to grow next year. New and enlightened alley leadership in Newburgh will bring the Hill City aces into the fold. Johnny Ferraro, Bert Rhea, Armand Happel did a fine promotional job. Whitey Crispell was outstanding as the public relations man. . . . The tournament attracted the largest crowd to watch a bowling event at the Central Recs since the days of the New York exhibition squads. . . .

Breaks played an important part in the tournament in the finals. For instance, Ferraro missed a half point by filling only 8 pins on a double to tie with Rhea at 178. . . . After Ferraro drew a split in the 10th frame of the fifth game, Crispell got a strike. A double would have beaten Ferraro but Whitey was stung on a tap to lose, 199-198. Oster lost a point when he filled with only seven on a double and then missed all three pins for 199 in the fifth game. . . .

• The Eleventh Frame:

The tournament developed a few bugs along the way, natural in a first-year promotion. Next year we'd like to propose an 18-game eliminations to qualify four men. The round of four should roll a stated number of games to qualify two finalists. Like Bert Rhea suggested, the finalists should have the chance to bowl against each other. . . . It makes for a truer match game spirit and is more attractive to the spectators.

A tip of the hat to the old pro, Johnny Ferraro, who did the expected by winning. But the issue was in doubt all the way. Jerry Oster suffered a crushing loss after virtually winning the bauble but he is young and has many years ahead of him. Ditto for Rhea who came out of the tournament with increased stature.

Like Bert Rhea said the tournament will get bigger "but harder to win." That's for sure with guys like Oster, Rhea, Gallo and others waiting in the wings.

Ulster Little League Picks Managers For First Season

Town of Ulster Little League announces the appointment of four managers for the newly organized small fry loop.

The men named are Charlie Lay, John Hetsco, Henry "Bud" Leininger and John Kelly.

Team names will be Yankees, Giants, Dodgers and Indians but manager affiliations will not be announced until teams have drawn for names after the 1956 tryouts.

THE LEAGUE is still looking for a fourth sponsor. Three pledged to date include the Ulster-Albany Avenue Business Men's Association, Ulster Hose No. 5 and Ulster Kiwanis.

The league has filed a request with the School No. 8's board of trustees for permission to use the school's playground for a diamond. The league also decided to sell booster membership cards.

William R. Scully, president of the Kingston Little League Association, has filed franchise papers for the Ulster league.

Forty Deer Catches Made In Ulster County

Conditions Ideal For Opening Day

Forty deer catches in Ulster county were reported to the Kingston Daily Freeman sports department at press time this morning.

The season, which opened at 6 o'clock yesterday morning, was greeted with ideal hunting conditions.

Guy Milroy, assistant district game protector, said that the weekend's snowfall "probably helped the hunter to some degree."

Mr. Milroy declared there had been a large turnout of hunters both in Ulster and Dutchess counties.

The first deer reportedly taken at 7:01 yesterday morning, was shot by John Bonestell of 102 Hasbrouck avenue, city. The next bag was made at 7:05.

THE LARGEST deer head reported was a 10-pointer taken by Fred Rice, well-known city bowler.

Among those making a first-day bag was William "Bill" Goodman, district game protector.

The lucky ones by gun were Ward Jansen, Lomontville; Ray Cross, Stone Ridge; Virgil Christman Jr., Lomontville; Clyde Ellis, RFD 4, Kingston.

Kingston Cold Storage received 29 deer. Among local hunters who got a deer were three who made their kill in the Adirondacks: John Reynolds, Port Ewen; Faxton Cone, Flatbush avenue; Frank Apa, First avenue; Lou Bruno, East Chester street; William Palmer, Roosevelt avenue and Henry Pessler, Cottekill were also successful.

Also, Simon Terpening, Rifton; Clarence Markle, Kingston;

Buckeyes, Spartans Top All-Big 10 Team

Chicago, Nov. 22 (AP) — Ohio State's Big Ten champions and Michigan State's Rose-Bowl-bound Spartans each placed three men on the Associated Press All-Big Ten football team for 1955.

Michigan's Wolverines, losing out to Ohio State for the western conference title, had two men on the squad while Illinois, Purdue and Iowa grabbed off one spot each.

The team chosen by AP staffers in the Big Ten area consists of seven seniors, three juniors and one sophomore.

Fabulous Howard Cassady, Ohio State's All-America halfback, was the only unanimous choice on the first team while center Ken Vargo, Cassady's teammate, missed the honor by one vote. Ohio State's other selection was Jim Parker, 248-pound guard.

Michigan State's selections were guard Carl Nystrom, tackle Norm Masters and quarterback Earl Morrall.

Pittsburgh, Ranked 13th, Gets New Year's Sugar Bowl Bid

New Orleans, Nov. 22 (AP)— Pittsburgh, shunted from football bowls for 19 years, will flaunt its revitalized power in the 1956 Sugar Bowl Jan. 2.

Pitt, ranked No. 13 in the nation by this week's Associated Press poll, has a 7-3 record. Defeats have been at the hands of top-ranking teams.

Fred Digby, general manager of the Sugar Bowl committee, announced Pitt's selection today. He said the Panthers' opponent will be either Georgia Tech, Auburn, Vanderbilt or Mississippi.

That will be decided, Digby said, after the four Southeastern conference teams play their final games Saturday.

Pitt's substitute fullback, Bob Grier, if he is sent into the game by Coach Johnny Michelosen, will be the first Negro to play in the Sugar Bowl.

Digby said the invitation to Pitt was made "without conditions." He said Pitt may play Grier and may sell tickets to Negroes if it wants to. Digby said athletic director Tom Hamilton of Pitt told him no trouble was anticipated because of the arrangements.

The Panthers closed their season last Saturday with a convincing 20-0 victory over Penn State. Pitt conquerors include Oklahoma, No. 1 team in the nation, Navy, No. 11, and Miami of Florida, No. 14.

Pitt's victims have been California, Syracuse, Nebraska, Duke, Virginia, West Virginia and Penn State. The 26-7 victory over Duke came a week after the Blue Devils upset Ohio State, the Big 10 champions. Pitt's 26-7 victory over West Virginia knocked the team out of the undefeated class and the Sugar Bowl picture.

SPORTSMAN'S DIGEST By Hal Sharp

STOP DEER FOR A CAREFUL SHOT

IT IS OFTEN POSSIBLE TO MOMENTARILY HALT A TROTTING OR WALKING DEER FOR A CAREFUL STANDING SHOT. SOME HUNTERS WHISTLE, OTHERS HISS SHARPLY. A SUDDEN SHIFT OF ONE'S BODY IF VISIBLE TO THE DEER IS A STOPPER, ALSO, IF THE DEER HASN'T NOTICED YOU BEFORE. THE DEER MAY STARE AT YOU A MINUTE OR MORE, TRYING TO MAKE YOU OUT, BEFORE MOVING.

EXCITED DEER, RUNNING HARD IN FRONT OF LOUD DRIVERS SELDOM HALT FOR ANYTHING. THEY TAX EVEN EXPERT MARKSMEN.

SPORTS by Charles J. Tiano

The integrity of area bowling was forcefully demonstrated in the National Match Games singles elimination finals at the Central Recreation alleys.

The situation at the end of seven games was this: Jerry Oster led with 30 Petersen points. Johnny Ferraro had 28½. Dick Rhea 26½ and Whitey Crispell 25.

Pairings were Ferraro vs. Crispell and Rhea vs. Oster.

Crispell, who was clearly out of contention going into the last game, happened to be employed by Ferraro at the Bowlodrome. If ever a guy had a chance to do something for the boss, this was it.

Whitey could have choked on a few balls without anyone knowing it. Instead he responded like a true competitor and gave Ferraro a rugged time before succumbing, 225 to 201.

Take Rhea's case. The slick young southpaw also was out of contention but competing against Oster who was battling to hold a 1½ point lead. Rhea could have taken his pick between Oster and Ferraro, literally he could have "named" the winner.

Instead, Dick Rhea behaved like the true champion he is, a brilliant prospect who is a scion of a rich bowling heritage from his father and mother, the renowned, Ma and Pa Rhea of bowling fame. His pappy is the prominent secretary of the Hudson Valley League.

To make a long story short, Rhea played it to the hilt to whip the pressing Oster, 208-181. Oster would have won the title by half point with that match point.

The performances by Crispell and Oster should give bowling fans a real lift. The integrity of the game remains intact.

• Flotsam and Jetsam:

It was a splendidly operated tournament that figures to grow next year. New and enlightened alley leadership in Newburgh will bring the Hill City aces into the fold. Johnny Ferraro, Bert Rhea, Armand Happel did a fine promotional job. Whitey Crispell was outstanding as the public relations man. . . . The tournament attracted the largest crowd to watch a bowling event at the Central Recs since the days of the New York exhibition squads. . . .

Breaks played an important part in the tournament in the finals. For instance, Ferraro missed a half point by filling only 8 pins on a double to tie with Rhea at 178. . . . After Ferraro drew a split in the 10th frame of the fifth game, Crispell got a strike. A double would have beaten Ferraro but Whitey was stung on a tap to lose, 199-198. Oster lost a point when he filled with only seven on a double and then missed all three pins for 199 in the fifth game. . . .

• The Eleventh Frame:

The tournament developed a few bugs along the way, natural in a first-year promotion. Next year we'd like to propose an 18-game eliminations to qualify four men. The round of four should roll a stated number of games to qualify two finalists. Like Bert Rhea suggested, the finalists should have the chance to bowl against each other. . . . It makes for a truer match game spirit and is more attractive to the spectators.

A tip of the hat to the old pro, Johnny Ferraro, who did the expected by winning. But the issue was in doubt all the way. Jerry Oster suffered a crushing loss after virtually winning the bauble but he is young and has many years ahead of him. Ditto for Rhea who came out of the tournament with increased stature.

Like Bert Rhea said the tournament will get bigger "but harder to win." That's for sure with guys like Oster, Rhea, Gallo and others waiting in the wings.

Ulster Little League Picks Managers For First Season

Town of Ulster Little League announces the appointment of four managers for the newly organized small fry loop.

The men named are Charlie Lay, John Hetsco, Henry "Bud" Leininger and John Kelly.

Team names will be Yankees, Giants, Dodgers and Indians but manager affiliations will not be announced until teams have drawn for names after the 1956 tryouts.

THE LEAGUE is still looking for a fourth sponsor. Three pledged to date include the Ulster-Albany Avenue Business Men's Association, Ulster Hose No. 5 and Ulster Kiwanis.

The league has filed a request with the School No. 8's board of trustees for permission to use the school's playground for a diamond. The league also decided to sell booster membership cards.

William R. Scully, president of the Kingston Little League Association, has filed franchise papers for the Ulster league.

Forty Deer Catches Made In Ulster County

Conditions Ideal For Opening Day

Forty deer catches in Ulster county were reported to the Kingston Daily Freeman sports department at press time this morning.

The season, which opened at 6 o'clock yesterday morning, was greeted with ideal hunting conditions.

Guy Milroy, assistant district game protector, said that the weekend's snowfall "probably helped the hunter to some degree."

Mr. Milroy declared there had been a large turnout of hunters both in Ulster and Dutchess counties.

The first deer reportedly taken at 7:01 yesterday morning, was shot by John Bonestell of 102 Hasbrouck avenue, city. The next bag was made at 7:05.

THE LARGEST deer head reported was a 10-pointer taken by Fred Rice, well-known city bowler.

Among those making a first-day bag was William "Bill" Goodman, district game protector.

The lucky ones by gun were Ward Jansen, Lomontville; Ray Cross, Stone Ridge; Virgil Christman Jr., Lomontville; Clyde Ellis, RFD 4, Kingston.

Kingston Cold Storage received 29 deer. Among local hunters who got a deer were three who made their kill in the Adirondacks: John Reynolds, Port Ewen; Faxton Cone, Flatbush avenue; Frank Apa, First avenue; Lou Bruno, East Chester street; William Palmer, Roosevelt avenue and Henry Pessler, Cottekill were also successful.

Also, Simon Terpening, Rifton; Clarence Markle, Kingston;

Oklahoma Tightens Poll Lead

(By The Associated Press)

With only one week of the season remaining, Oklahoma's mighty Sooners have a firm grip on first place among the nation's college football powerhouses today and a good chance of repeating their 1950 national championship.

Coach Bud Wilkinson's red-shirted stalwarts, who boast the longest major college winning streak in the country—28 in a row—were so far ahead in the next-to-last Associated Press poll of the season that most of the interest centered on the battle for second place between Michigan State and Maryland.

OKLAHOMA was No. 1 on the ballot of 114 of the 209 sports-writers and broadcasters, piling up a total of 1,889 points. A good ways back in second place, Michigan State squeezed past Maryland by a bare six points, 1,689 to 1,683.

UCLA, which moved past Notre Dame after a workmanlike 17-7 victory over Southern California, also has concluded its schedule. The Irish, who had to battle to pull out a 17-14 win over Iowa, get a chance to grab the No. 4 position back this week against that same Southern California club.

Ohio State, the 1954 national champion, placed sixth behind Notre Dame after winding up its operations for the year with a 17-0 victory over Michigan that knocked the Wolverines out of the Big 10 conference title, the Rose Bowl spot and also the poll top ten. Michigan, sixth a week ago, fell to the No. 12 spot and Ohio climbed three notches from ninth.

TEXAS CHRISTIAN held seventh place while clinching a Cotton Bowl berth with a 35-0 drubbing of Rice, while Texas A&M continued as No. 8. The Aggies wind up against Texas Thursday and TCU will finish against Southern Methodist Saturday.

Texas, A&M, Georgia Tech and Auburn completed the Big Ten.

The top ten teams with first place votes and won-lost records in parenthesis (points on 10, 9, 8 etc. basis).

1.	Oklahoma (114) (9-0)	1889
2.	Michigan State (39) (8-1)	1689
3.	Maryland (35) (10-0)	1683
4.	UCLA (6) (9-1)	1374
5.	Notre Dame (3) (8-1)	1255
6.	Ohio State (5) (7-2)	1025
7.	Texas Christian (3) (8-1)	994
8.	Texas A&M (7-1-1)	531
9.	Georgia Tech (7-1-1)	369
10.	Auburn (7-1-1)	245

Kircher Fired At Washington State

Pullman, Wash., Nov. 2 (AP)—Alton Kircher, a "nice guy" who couldn't win, was fired as football coach at Washington State College last night after four years of trying.

He had another season to go on a $12,500-a-year contract but WSC said it is buying him out and will take its time picking a successor. He had a poor 1-7-2 record this fall.

Kircher, who got the job here in 1952 by popular demand when Forest Evashevski quit to go to Iowa, was a man everybody liked but in four seasons he never had a winning team.

He came here as an assistant to Evashefski and was regarded as his chief strategist. Together they had a fine 7-3 record at WSC in 1951. Alone, Kircher was 4-6 for three years running, then 1-7-2.

MUSIAL WITH HIS TROPHIES—Stan Musial, St. Louis Cardinals' star, reminisces with his trophies as a background on his 35th birthday, in St. Louis (Nov. 21). Six times the National League batting champ, he holds silver plate bat he received for 1951 title. The $80,000-a-year performer is confident he'll be able to reach the 3,000-hit milestone before he retires. He has 403 hits more to go before becoming the eighth player in game's history to equal the mark. (AP Wirephoto)

Little League Office Closed Over Dispute on Promotion

Williamsport, Pa., Nov. 22 (AP)—A sheriff's padlock has been clamped on headquarters of Little League Baseball Inc., in a dispute over policies of the organization promoting baseball for youngsters.

Sheriff William King, of Lycoming county closed the league's offices yesterday after Carl E. Stotz, commissioner of Little League, filed a foreign attachment petition, preliminary to a $300,000 suit for breach of contract.

THE prothonotary's office said it would be necessary for the league to post a bond of $130,000, representing double the amount of the bank and physical assets, before the padlock will be lifted.

Stotz said in a statement that the foreign attachment papers are preliminary to a suit for $300,000 claiming "breach of contract." He said he and volunteer field personnel "no longer have a representative voice in Little League policy decisions."

Peter J. McGovern, president of Little League, could not be reached immediately for a statement.

LITTLE LEAGUE was founded in Williamsport in 1939 to promote organized baseball among boys 12 years old and younger. There are now 3,977 franchised clubs in the United States and some foreign countries with some 250,000 boys participating in the program. The season comes to a climax with a Little League series at Williamsport in the late summer.

Stotz said that his contract with the Little League organization "included provisions which would enable me to safeguard the original concepts of the Little League program."

"OVER A PERIOD of time," Stoltz said, "this contract has been breached to the point of endangering Little League in that the commissioner and volunteer field personnel no longer have a representative voice in Little League policy decisions.

"Accordingly to end this intolerable situation and to compel a return to the original principles of Little League baseball I am suing Little League Baseball, Inc. for $300,000 for breach of contract."

Stoltz said any money he may recover from the suit "will be used solely for the purpose of perpetuating Little League baseball as originally conceived."

Jurors' Youth Group Visits Church School

Sgt. Thomas Tomshaw of the Kingston Police Department was speaker during a recent visit of the Ulster County Grand Jurors' Association to the Lutheran Church School on Livingston street.

Sgt. Tomshaw stressed the facts on how easy it is to go through life the right way and covered many of the vital problems of modern youth in an interesting and informative manner.

The visit was part of the teenage youth committee of the association and cooperation of the police department.

New Yorker Bags 200-Pound Bear

Bob Scheible, a noted New York sportsman, bagged the first black bear of the hunting season early Monday near Woodland Valley.

The bear which weighs about 200 pounds is on display at the Central Hotel in Phoenicia. Scheible, who resides at Queens Village, L. I., is a noted fisherman and hunter.

DeGroat Given Suspended Term, Is on Probation

Donald DeGroat, 23, of 105 Hone street, received a suspended prison sentence Monday in County Court and was placed on probation for two years under a conviction of a burglary, third degree, and unlawful entry charge. County Judge William A. Kelly sentenced DeGroat to 1½ to 3 years at hard labor in Clinton State prison on the first count of the indictment, burglary. Imposition of sentence was suspended on the second count.

DeGroat had been found guilty of entrance to a residence to a premises on Maverick road and taking of a shot gun. William D. Brinnier appeared and asked for leniency, saying that DeGroat was married and the father of four children who would be the ones to suffer most if a prison sentence were imposed.

IN THE CASE of Carl Nathan Asplund of California, charged with the taking of a truck from his employer, Jax Car Wash on Albany avenue, had his case put over until this afternoon. His counsel, Norman Kellar, was unable to be in court.

A breach of contract action brought by Daniel Panaccione against Van Gorder's Garage was announced settled. Philip Korn for plaintiff and Robert V. Stapleton for defendant. An action on contract brought by Basil Rose against Charles Frischling Robert V. Stapleton for plaintiff and Lounsberry and Lonstein for defendant.

Cars Towed Away After 9W Mishap

Two cars had to be towed away Monday afternoon following a collision on Route 9W about three miles north of Kingston, it was reported by Sgt. Arthur Reilly, BCI, of the Kingston State Police.

The collision, which occurred about 3 p. m., involved passenger cars operated by Augustus Modjeska, 55, of Woodstock and Joan Jasienowski, 20, of Saugerties, Sgt. Reilly said.

The Modjeska car was traveling north and the Jasienowski vehicle south when the driver of the southbound vehicle took her eyes off the road for a moment to point out the location of an ash tray for a passenger, wandering into the northbound lane, it was reported.

Trooper W. L. Shurter of the Kingston Station investigated.

is to find out just where the drive stands so that follow-up measures may be taken in cases where solicitors were unable to contact prospects. Solicitation by the residential and suburban divisions, which has just begun in some sections, will continue. From now on workers will report directly to the Chest office and totals will be announced by that office from time to time rather than daily.

Chris Morris, general campaign chairman, and George B. Matthews, president of the Kingston Area Community Chest, thanked the workers and pledged continued efforts to reach the goal of $100,270.

John Warren, executive director of the Chest, reported the totals to date as follows:

Industry, $32,930.50; advanced gift, $13,190; commercial $6,996; professional and health, $6,611; clubs and organizations, $2,031; government and education $2,170; residential, $2,009.10, and suburban, $8.

Oklahoma Tightens Poll Lead

(By The Associated Press)

With only one week of the season remaining, Oklahoma's mighty Sooners have a firm grip on first place among the nation's college football powerhouses today and a good chance of repeating their 1950 national championship.

Coach Bud Wilkinson's redshirted stalwarts, who boast the longest major college winning streak in the country—28 in a row—were so far ahead in the next-to-last Associated Press poll of the season that most of the interest centered on the battle for second place between Michigan State and Maryland.

OKLAHOMA was No. 1 on the ballot of 114 of the 209 sports-writers and broadcasters, piling up a total of 1,889 points. A good ways back in second place, Michigan State squeezed past Maryland by a bare six points, 1,689 to 1,683.

UCLA, which moved past Notre Dame after a workmanlike 17-7 victory over Southern California, also has concluded its schedule. The Irish, who had to battle to pull out a 17-14 win over Iowa, get a chance to grab the No. 4 position back this week against that same Southern California club.

Ohio State, the 1954 national champion, placed sixth behind Notre Dame after winding up its operations for the year with a 17-0 victory over Michigan that knocked the Wolverines out of the Big 10 conference title, the Rose Bowl spot and also the poll top ten. Michigan, sixth a week ago, fell to the No. 12 spot and Ohio climbed three notches from ninth.

TEXAS CHRISTIAN held seventh place while clinching a Cotton Bowl berth with a 35-0 drubbing of Rice, while Texas A&M continued as No. 8. The Aggies wind up against Texas Thursday and TCU will finish against Southern Methodist Saturday.

Texas, A&M, Georgia Tech and Auburn completed the Big Ten.

The top ten teams with first place votes and won-lost records in parenthesis (points on 10, 9, 8 etc. basis).

1.	Oklahoma (114) (9-0)	1889
2.	Michigan State (39) (8-1)	1689
3.	Maryland (35) (10-0)	1683
4.	UCLA (6) (9-1)	1374
5.	Notre Dame (3) (8-1)	1255
6.	Ohio State (5) (7-2)	1025
7.	Texas Christian (3) (8-1)	994
8.	Texas A&M (7-1-1)	531
9.	Georgia Tech (7-1-1)	369
10.	Auburn (7-1-1)	245

Kircher Fired At Washington State

Pullman, Wash., Nov. 2 (AP)—Alton Kircher, a "nice guy" who couldn't win, was fired as football coach at Washington State College last night after four years of trying.

He had another season to go on a $12,500-a-year contract but WSC said it is buying him out and will take its time picking a successor. He had a poor 1-7-2 record this fall.

Kircher, who got the job here in 1952 by popular demand when Forest Evashevski quit to go to Iowa, was a man everybody liked but in four seasons he never had a winning team.

He came here as an assistant to Evashefski and was regarded as his chief strategist. Together they had a fine 7-3 record at WSC in 1951. Alone, Kircher was 4-6 for three years running, then 1-7-2.

Leftover cooked vegetables may be diced fine and added to a cheese omelet for a luncheon dish. To gild the lily, serve with tomato sauce.

The $80,000-a-year performer is confident he'll be able to reach the 3,000-hit milestone before he retires. He has 403 hits more to go before becoming the eighth player in game's history to equal the mark. (AP Wirephoto)

Little League Office Closed Over Dispute on Promotion

Williamsport, Pa., Nov. 22 (AP)—A sheriff's padlock has been clamped on headquarters of Little League Baseball Inc., in a dispute over policies of the organization promoting baseball for youngsters.

Sheriff William King, of Lycoming county closed the league's offices yesterday after Carl E. Stotz, commissioner of Little League, filed a foreign attachment petition, preliminary to a $300,000 suit for breach of contract.

THE prothonotary's office said it would be necessary for the league to post a bond of $130,000, representing double the amount of the bank and physical assets, before the padlock will be lifted.

Stotz said in a statement that the foreign attachment papers are preliminary to a suit for $300,000 claiming "breach of contract." He said he and volunteer field personnel "no longer have a representative voice in Little League policy decisions."

Peter J. McGovern, president of Little League, could not be reached immediately for a statement.

LITTLE LEAGUE was founded in Williamsport in 1939 to promote organized baseball among boys 12 years old and younger. There are now 3,977 franchised clubs in the United States and some foreign countries with some 250,000 boys participating in the program. The season comes to a climax with a Little League series at Williamsport in the late summer.

Stotz said that his contract with the Little League organization "included provisions which would enable me to safeguard the original concepts of the Little League program."

"OVER A PERIOD of time," Stoltz said, "this contract has been breached to the point of endangering Little League in that the commissioner and volunteer field personnel no longer have a representative voice in Little League policy decisions.

"Accordingly to end this intolerable situation and to compel a return to the original principles of Little League baseball I am suing Little League Baseball, Inc. for $300,000 for breach of contract."

Stoltz said any money he may recover from the suit "will be used solely for the purpose of perpetuating Little League baseball as originally conceived."

Jurors' Youth Group Visits Church School

Sgt. Thomas Tomshaw of the Kingston Police Department was speaker during a recent visit of the Ulster County Grand Jurors' Association to the Lutheran Church School on Livingston street.

Sgt. Tomshaw stressed the facts on how easy it is to go through life the right way and covered many of the vital problems of modern youth in an interesting and informative manner.

The visit was part of the teenage youth committee of the association and cooperation of the police department.

New Yorker Bags 200-Pound Bear

Bob Scheible, a noted New York sportsman, bagged the first black bear of the hunting season early Monday near Woodland Valley.

The bear which weighs about 200 pounds is on display at the Central Hotel in Phoenicia. Scheible, who resides at Queens Village, L. I., is a noted fisherman and hunter.

DeGroat Given Suspended Term, Is on Probation

Donald DeGroat, 23, of 105 Hone street, received a suspended prison sentence Monday in County Court and was placed on probation for two years under a conviction of a burglary, third degree, and unlawful entry charge. County Judge William A. Kelly sentenced DeGroat to 1½ to 3 years at hard labor in Clinton State prison on the first count of the indictment, burglary. Imposition of sentence was suspended on the second count.

DeGroat had been found guilty of entrance to a residence to a premises on Maverick road and taking of a shot gun. William D. Brinnier appeared and asked for leniency, saying that DeGroat was married and the father of four children who would be the ones to suffer most if a prison sentence were imposed.

IN THE CASE of Carl Nathan Asplund of California, charged with the taking of a truck from his employer, Jax Car Wash on Albany avenue, had his case put over until this afternoon. His counsel, Norman Kellar, was unable to be in court.

A breach of contract action brought by Daniel Panaccione against Van Gorder's Garage was announced settled. Philip Korn for plaintiff and Robert V. Stapleton for defendant. Also announced settled was an action on contract brought by Basil Rose against Charles Frischling Robert V. Stapleton for plaintiff and Lounsberry and Lonstein for defendant.

Cars Towed Away After 9W Mishap

Two cars had to be towed away Monday afternoon following a collision on Route 9W about three miles north of Kingston, it was reported by Sgt. Arthur Reilly, BCI, of the Kingston State Police.

The collision, which occurred about 3 p. m., involved passenger cars operated by Augustus Modjeska, 55, of Woodstock and Joan Jasienowski, 20, of Saugerties, Sgt. Reilly said.

The Modjeska car was traveling north and the Jasienowski vehicle south when the driver of the southbound vehicle took her eyes off the road for a moment to point out the location of an ash tray for a passenger, wandering into the northbound lane, it was reported.

Trooper W. L. Shurter of the Kingston Station investigated.

Red Feather

is to find out just where the drive stands so that follow-up measures may be taken in cases where solicitors were unable to contact prospects. Solicitation by the residential and suburban divisions, which has just begun in some sections, will continue. From now on workers will report directly to the Chest office and totals will be announced by that office from time to time rather than daily.

Chris Morris, general campaign chairman, and George B. Matthews, president of the Kingston Area Community Chest, thanked the workers and pledged continued efforts to reach the goal of $100,270.

John Warren, executive director of the Chest, reported the totals to date as follows:

Industry, $32,930.50; advanced gift, $13,190; commercial $6,996; professional and health, $6,611; clubs and organizations, $2,031; government and education $2,170; residential, $2,009.10, and suburban, $8.

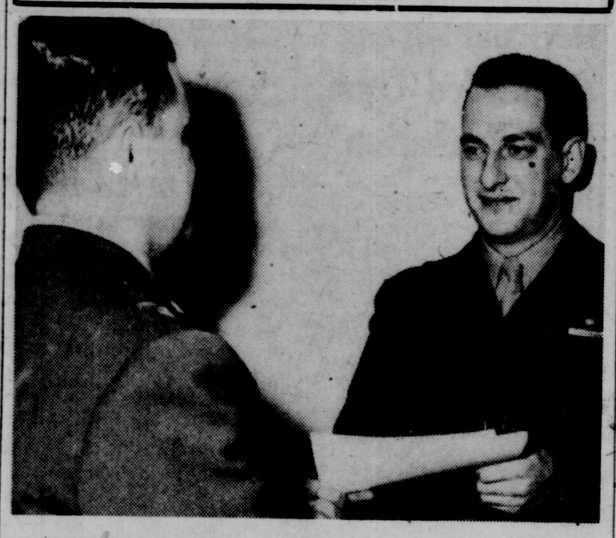
NAVY HONORS ESKIMO SCOUTS—James H. Smith, Jr., left, assistant secretary of the Navy, on Nov. 21 in Washington presents Navy wings to two Eskimo scouts of the Alaskan National Guard for leading the rescue of 11 crew members of a patrol plane shot down by Russian jet fighters last June 22 over the Bering Sea. The scouts are Sgt. First Class Clifford Iknokinok, center, and M/Sgt. Willis Walunga, trappers and fishermen from St. Lawrence Island, where the plane crashed. They were made honorary members of the Navy's air arm. (AP Wirephoto).

News of Our Own Service Folks



PETER SAVATGY, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry K. Savatgy of 175 Washington avenue, receives his warrant of promotion to Marine Sergeant October 26 at the Philadelphia, Pa., Marine Corps Clothing Depot. Capt. Philip W. Haley made the presentation. Savatgy works in the depot disbursing section. Before entering the service in April 1952 he was graduated from Kingston High School.

ROBERT HAMILTON, aviation storekeeper second class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Hamilton of Route 1, Box 138, is serving with Patrol Squadron 24 at the Chincoteague, Va., Naval Air Station.

JEANNE A. CARNEY, sister of Mrs. David C. Ennis, 86 Roosevelt avenue, has been promoted recently to first lieutenant in the U. S. Air Force Nurse Corps.

Lieutenant Carney was awarded the silver bar insignia at her station with the 13th Air Force on Clark Air Force Base in the Philippines where for the past 13 months, she has been performing the job of a general duty nurse for the 6208th USAF Hospital.

The lieutenant completed nurse training at Fordham Hospital School of Nursing and later became a nursing staff member of the same hospital for three years prior to her commission into the air force in May 1954.

DAVID F. MINOR, specialist third class, son of Mrs. Fancher M. Minor, 56 Johnston avenue, is assigned to the Aggressor Force in Exercise Sage Brush, the largest joint Army-Air Force maneuver since World War 2, now being held in Louisiana.

Specialist Minor, a communications man in the 4th Armored Division's Company B, 51st Battalion, is regularly stationed at Fort Hood, Tex. He entered the Army in December 1953 and completed basic training at Fort Jackson, S. C.

He was graduated from Kingston High School in 1951 and Rochester Institute of Technology in 1953.

Called 'New Feudalism'

New York, Nov. 22 (AP)—A State Insurance Department hearing has been told that employe welfare plans are creating a "new feudalism" in which it is inadvisable for persons of 45 or over to leave their jobs and difficult for them to find new ones. The reason is that their age requires higher contributions to the funds by the employers, two experts said yesterday at the start of a three-day hearing into employe pension and welfare plans. The hearing is designated to gather information on which to base recommendations for legislative action on state supervision of the plans.

Do-It-Yourself Divers

Corpus Christi, Tex. (AP)—Drahn Jones, city public works director, and Henry Lewis, street superintendent, turned skin divers to inspect underwater sections of a pier. A professional diver would have charged $35 an hour and they said the city didn't have that kind of folding money to lay out.

D & H Streamlinging

Abany, N. Y., Nov. 22 (AP)—The Delaware and Hudson Railroad is combining its Pennsylvania and Susquehanna Divisions in a move to streamline administrative operations. A spokesman said yesterday that effective Jan. 1 the combined divisions would have headquarters at Oneonta, now control point of the Susquehainna Division. The Pennsylvania Division headquarters at Carbondale, Pa., will be closed, he added.

Hacksaw Rescue

Edgar, Ariz. (AP)—For reasons best known to himself 3-year-old Mulford Bigelow Jr. climbed into a milk can. He got stuck. Frantic efforts of his parents and friends failed to unstick him. His father finally picked up the can—Mulford and all—and took it to a garage. A mechanic cut off the top with a hacksaw and pulled Mulford out.

Dress canned green beans (drained) with mayonnaise mixed with cream; add bits of anchovy fillets and serve surrounded with greens for a supper salad. Nice with sliced roast veal.

Bullet Striking Youth Traveled Long Distance

The .22 caliber bullet which struck Richard Oreface, 18, of the Bronx, in the thigh Sunday afternoon on Route 32 about a mile north of Quarryville apparently "traveled a long distance," Undersheriffff Clayton W. Vredenburgh said today.

This was indicated by the results of medical examination, it was explained.

THE YOUTH was hunting with five companions, all from the Bronx or Long Island, when the mishap occurred. They had just left a wooded section, coming out on the highway, when Oreface "felt a sting" in his left thigh.

He was taken to Kingston Hospital where authorities reported his condition "good."

Mr. Vredenburgh said none of those in the group had a .22 caliber rifle. They carried four 12-gauge stotguns and one 20-gauge shotgun.

Bail Reduced

Washington, Nov. 22 (AP)—John F. Noto of Buffalo, alleged former Communist leader, has won a reduction from $30,000 to $10,000 in bail pending his trial on charges of violating the Smith Act.

After-School Drink

Youngsters love an after-school drink made from milk, mashed banana and chocolate syrup. For special occasions add a scoop of ice cream and serve in a tall glass with straws and a long spoon.

Liberty Movement

Washington Nov. 22 (AP)—The Defense Department has launched "a militant liberty" movement designed to explain to all American servicemen and to the world the ideals of freedom which form a common denominator among all free peoples. Its basic purpose is to help servicemen understand and argue the advantages of a free government, and to withstand any Communist indoctrination.

Injured in Mishap

Charles Bollin, 8, of Colonial Gardens was reported injured slightly in a traffic mishap near 338 Foxhall avenue shortly after 5 p. m., yesterday. Harry W. Melbourne, 27, of Glenerie Lake Park, notified police that the boy came in contact with a front fender as he was driving over Foxhall avenue. He was to be treated by a doctor for a bruised left leg.

Ready to Negotiate

Philadelphia, Nov. 22 (AP)—Striking CIO International Union of Electrical Workers and Westinghouse Electric Corp. report they are ready to resume negotiations in Pittsburgh Nov. 23 at the request of a federal mediator.

The leaves usually begin to turn the night before the examination.

Hunter Returns

Sidney, N. Y., Nov. 22 (AP)—A hunter who had become separated from two companions on Franklin Mountain was found early today about 10 miles away. Edward Grover, 50, of Chenango Forks, told state police he had found his way to a country road after losing his way shortly after nightfall.

Depends on Attack

Washington, Nov. 22 (AP)—Foreign Minister Moshe Sharett of Israel—a nation alarmed by neighboring Egypt's arms build-up—says it is his country's policy never to initiate a war, "preventive or other wise." But should Israel be attacked she will fight back, he said at a National Press Club luncheon yesterday.

Treasury Receipts

Washington, Nov. 22 (AP)—The cash position of the treasury Nov. 17: Balance, $5,235,191,517.03; deposits fiscal year July 1, $21,423,430,660.52; withdrawals fiscal year, $27,370,799,212.12; total debt (x) $279,831,412,914.55; gold assets, $21,686,173,260.79; (x)—includes $477,167,323.80 debt not subject to statutory limit.

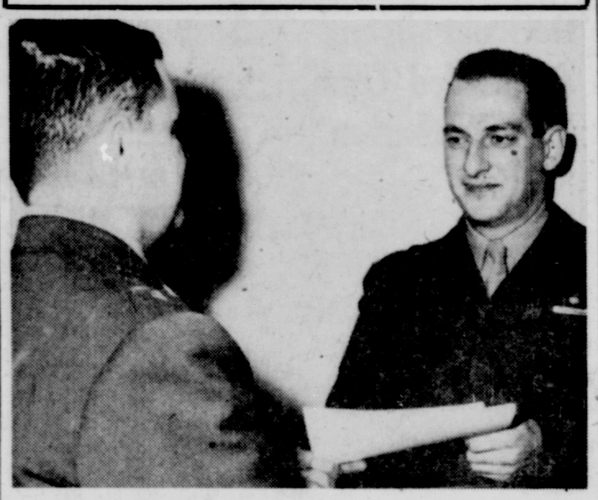
NAVY HONORS ESKIMO SCOUTS—James H. Smith, Jr., left, assistant secretary of the Navy, on Nov. 21 in Washington presents Navy wings to two Eskimo scouts of the Alaskan National Guard for leading the rescue of 11 crew members of a patrol plane shot down by Russian jet fighters last June 22 over the Bering Sea. The scouts are Sgt. First Class Clifford Iknokinok, center, and M/Sgt. Willis Walunga, trappers and fishermen from St. Lawrence Island, where the plane crashed. They were made honorary members of the Navy's air arm. (AP Wirephoto).

News of Our Own Service Folks



PETER SAVATGY, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry K. Savatgy of 175 Washington avenue, receives his warrant of promotion to Marine Sergeant October 26 at the Philadelphia, Pa., Marine Corps Clothing Depot. Capt. Philip W. Haley made the presentation. Savatgy works in the depot disbursing section. Before entering the service in April 1952 he was graduated from Kingston High School.

ROBERT HAMILTON, aviation storekeeper second class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Hamilton of Route 1, Box 138, is serving with Patrol Squadron 24 at the Chincoteague, Va., Naval Air Station.

JEANNE A. CARNEY, sister of Mrs. David C. Ennis, 86 Roosevelt avenue, has been promoted recently to first lieutenant in the U. S. Air Force Nurse Corps.

Lieutenant Carney was awarded the silver bar insignia at her station with the 13th Air Force on Clark Air Force Base in the Philippines where for the past 13 months, she has been performing the job of a general duty nurse for the 6208th USAF Hospital.

The lieutenant completed nurse training at Fordham Hospital School of Nursing and later became a nursing staff member of the same hospital for three years prior to her commission into the air force in May 1954.

DAVID F. MINOR, specialist third class, son of Mrs. Fancher M. Minor, 56 Johnston avenue, is assigned to the Aggressor Force in Exercise Sage Brush, the largest joint Army-Air Force maneuver since World War 2, now being held in Louisiana.

Specialist Minor, a communications man in the 4th Armored Division's Company B, 51st Battalion, is regularly stationed at Fort Hood, Tex. He entered the Army in December 1953 and completed basic training at Fort Jackson, S. C.

He was graduated from Kingston High School in 1951 and Rochester Institute of Technology in 1953.

Called 'New Feudalism'

New York, Nov. 22 (AP)—A State Insurance Department hearing has been told that employe welfare plans are creating a "new feudalism" in which it is inadvisable for persons of 45 or over to leave their jobs and difficult for them to find new ones. The reason is that their age requires higher contributions to the funds by the employers, two experts said yesterday at the start of a three-day hearing into employe pension and welfare plans. The hearing is designated to gather information on which to base recommendations for legislative action on state supervision of the plans.

Do-It-Yourself Divers

Corpus Christi, Tex. (AP)—Drahn Jones, city public works director, and Henry Lewis, street superintendent, turned skin divers to inspect underwater sections of a pier. A professional diver would have charged $35 an hour and they said the city didn't have that kind of folding money to lay out.

D & H Streamlinging

Abany, N. Y., Nov. 22 (AP)—The Delaware and Hudson Railroad is combining its Pennsylvania and Susquehanna Divisions in a move to streamline administrative operations. A spokesman said yesterday that effective Jan. 1 the combined divisions would have headquarters at Oneonta, now control point of the Susquehainna Division. The Pennsylvania Division headquarters at Carbondale, Pa., will be closed, he added.

Hacksaw Rescue

Edgar, Ariz. (AP)—For reasons best known to himself 3-year-old Mulford Bigelow Jr. climbed into a milk can. He got stuck. Frantic efforts of his parents and friends failed to unstick him. His father finally picked up the can—Mulford and all—and took it to a garage. A mechanic cut off the top with a hacksaw and pulled Mulford out.

Dress canned green beans (drained) with mayonnaise mixed with cream; add bits of anchovy fillets and serve surrounded with greens for a supper salad. Nice with sliced roast veal.

Bullet Striking Youth Traveled Long Distance

The .22 caliber bullet which struck Richard Oreface, 18, of the Bronx, in the thigh Sunday afternoon on Route 32 about a mile north of Quarryville apparently "traveled a long distance," Undersheriffff Clayton W. Vredenburgh said today.

This was indicated by the results of medical examination, it was explained.

THE YOUTH was hunting with five companions, all from the Bronx or Long Island, when the mishap occurred. They had just left a wooded section, coming out on the highway, when Oreface "felt a sting" in his left thigh.

He was taken to Kingston Hospital where authorities reported his condition "good."

Mr. Vredenburgh said none of those in the group had a .22 caliber rifle. They carried four 12-gauge stotguns and one 20-gauge shotgun.

Bail Reduced

Washington, Nov. 22 (AP)—John F. Noto of Buffalo, alleged former Communist leader, has won a reduction from $30,000 to $10,000 in bail pending his trial on charges of violating the Smith Act.

After-School Drink

Youngsters love an after-school drink made from milk, mashed banana and chocolate syrup. For special occasions add a scoop of ice cream and serve in a tall glass with straws and a long spoon.

Liberty Movement

Washington Nov. 22 (AP)—The Defense Department has launched "a militant liberty" movement designed to explain to all American servicemen and to the world the ideals of freedom which form a common denominator among all free peoples. Its basic purpose is to help servicemen understand and argue the advantages of a free government, and to withstand any Communist indoctrination.

Injured in Mishap

Charles Bollin, 8, of Colonial Gardens was reported injured slightly in a traffic mishap near 338 Foxhall avenue shortly after 5 p. m., yesterday. Harry W. Melbourne, 27, of Glenerie Lake Park, notified police that the boy came in contact with a front fender as he was driving over Foxhall avenue. He was to be treated by a doctor for a bruised left leg.

Ready to Negotiate

Philadelphia, Nov. 22 (AP)—Striking CIO International Union of Electrical Workers and Westinghouse Electric Corp. report they are ready to resume negotiations in Pittsburgh Nov. 23 at the request of a federal mediator.

The leaves usually begin to turn the night before the examination.
